

Unique Blood Transfusion Service At Hospital Cited By Dr. Johnson Pathologist

The intricacies of the blood transfusion service of the Annie M. Warner Hospital were interestingly explained to the hospital directors at the conclusion of their meeting Thursday evening by Dr. C. Harold Johnson, pathologist of the hospital.

That blood transfusion service is not a minor factor in the operation of the hospital laboratory was evidenced when Dr. Johnson said:

"In the past 12 months, 510 transfusions have been given in the Warner Hospital. These transfusions were given to 196 patients or an average of two and one-half pints per patient. The highest number given to a single patient was 33 pints."

Explaining the various types of blood, their frequency and their rarity, Dr. Johnson said that, of the 510 transfusions, 222 were type O and 232 were type A while 25 were type B and 21 type AB. Each of these types must further be broken down into positive and negative Rh types.

1,963 DONORS

Dr. Johnson said that the names of 1,963 donors are listed at the hospital of which 93 were added on April 2 when a group of hospital laboratory technicians went to the Musselman plant, Biglerville, to type volunteers. This group, he said, were from the Musselman farms but previously 110 volunteers from the Biglerville plant and 40 from the Gardner plant had been typed and listed on the hospital records.

Gettysburg College has listed at least 200 donors among the student body, faculty and administration groups. The Seminary has no list currently but cooperates when contacted by the hospital.

The Gettysburg Shoe Company sends donors when contacted by employees' families.

250 FROM LEGION

Excellent cooperation comes from Emmitsburg where 250 or more donors are listed with the American Legion. Taneytown has 150 donors who are contacted through the fire company chief or the office of Drs. McVaugh and Thompson.

The VFW Auxiliary with 50 names and the American Legion with 40 give Littlestown a list of 90. New Oxford has 35 to 40 through its fire company; Bonneauville has 30 names listed with the Catholic War Veterans and Fairfield has 50 through the Amvets Post.

"We are tremendously indebted to all these people and organizations and the hospital and the patients and their families are extremely grateful," Dr. Johnson said.

"WALKING BANK"

He described this vast list of donors as a "walking blood bank." He pointed out that blood must be replaced.

Mystery Around America's Great Submarine Disaster May Never Be Unraveled

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy had scant hope today of ever unraveling the full mystery of America's greatest submarine disaster—the sinking of the nuclear-powered Thresher with 129 men in the deadly depth of the sea.

"We will never know what went on within the submarine," said Adm. George W. Anderson, chief of naval operations, after announcing sadly and reluctantly Thursday that the Navy had given up the ship as lost.

But the Navy launched an exhaustive campaign to find out what it could—the condition of the ship before the disaster, the condition of the ship now. A Navy court of inquiry gathered at Groton, Conn.

STILL "RUMORS"

Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth acted to still "rumors and speculation" that any of the 129 may be alive, trapped in the Thresher's hull more than 8,000 feet under the Atlantic.

FRUITMEN TO HOLD SESSION ON THURSDAY

The Fruitgrowers Association of Adams County will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Biglerville High School auditorium, Secretary-Treasurer Richard Slaybaugh announced today.

The first of several spring meetings scheduled for the fruitgrowers, the session will include a report from the Apple Blossom Committee and a movie on "Fallout in Agriculture."

Extension specialists from Pennsylvania State University will discuss the fruit situation as it will be the time of the meeting. John Pepper, entomologist, and Carlton Taylor, pathologist, are the two specialists scheduled to report on control measures and answer questions regarding the current spray schedules.

SPRAY LETTERS OUT

Following the meeting, Slaybaugh said, refreshments will be served by Measured Soil Foods, Inc., at Lupp's Restaurant in Biglerville.

Enclosed with the letter to the fruitgrowers announcing the meeting was "Apple Spray Information Letter No. 2" prepared by County Agent Thomas E. Piper in consultation with Taylor and Pepper. Designed to control apple scab, mildew, rust, aphids, mites, plant bugs and leafrollers, the letter noted that rosy aphids are hatching and are more abundant in the last few years and that European red mite eggs can be found in most orchards and are starting to hatch.

Recommended per 100 gallons of dilute spray are three-fourths of a pound of Guthion 25 per cent wettable powder, or one-third pint of a 49 per cent Phosphamidon emulsion, or one-half pint of a Demeton 25 per cent emulsion plus two pounds of Captain 50 per cent wettable powder. The amounts for concentrate sprays should be 2 1/4 pounds of Guthion, one pint Phosphamidon or one pint of Demeton plus six pints of Captain.

Offer Children Trip To Shrine Circus

The Adams County Shrine Club will make it possible again for Adams County children to attend the annual Shrine Circus in Harrisburg. They will provide exchange coupons for the Zumbo Shrine Circus to be held in the state Farm Show Arena from April 22 to 27.

Any organized group under adult leadership such as Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Cubs, Brownies, church groups, school patrols and similar groups can secure coupons by contacting William A. Bigham, 121 Buford Ave.

It was announced also that all Sixth Graders in the county schools can secure coupons if their parents get in touch with Mr. Bigham. The coupons can be exchanged for tickets at the circus by paying the tax. They also can be exchanged for reserve seats by paying the difference in cost above the general admission rate.

TO INDUCT FIVE

The Adams County Selective Service Board received orders today to call five men for induction on May 13. This is the largest induction call for the county in many months. Orders have not yet been received on the number to be called next month for final physicals.

"Time Capsule" Ceremony And Historical Spectacle In McSherrystown Bicentennial

Highlights of plans for the seven-day celebration of the 200th anniversary of McSherrystown from August 4 to 10 inclusive were announced today by the special events division of the bicentennial organization.

The observance will open with Religious Dedication Day, Sunday, August 4, and will conclude with a "Time Capsule" ceremony and the fifth and final presentation of "The McSherrystown Story" on Americanism Day, Saturday, August 10.

The day-by-day features of the bicentennial celebration are listed as follows:

HIGH PONTIFICAL MASS

Sunday, bicentennial observances in all churches on the theme of "200 years of religious endeavor in McSherrystown." Bishop George L. Leech, Harrisburg, will be celebrant for an outdoor Pontifical High Mass in the Delone High School stadium at 1:30 p.m. while at 10:15 a.m. former pastors and parishioners will take part in a special service in St. Paul's Lutheran Church. In the late afternoon there will be an old-fashioned ice cream social and lawn party. Joseph Sneeringer is chairman of arrangements for that day.

Monday, Young America's Day will feature a baseball game and a carnival at the firemen's grounds. Larry Topper is the day's chairman.

Tuesday will be Teen-age Day

3 COMMUNIONS ARE PLANNED FOR TRINITY

Three Communion services will be celebrated at Trinity United Church of Christ on Easter Sunday.

The first celebration will begin at 8 a.m. with the Junior Choir in charge of the music. They will sing the anthems "Our Christ Is Risen From the Dead" by Palestrina and "Easter Flowers Are Blooming Bright" by Nicholson.

The second celebration will open at 10:40 a.m. with the Senior Choir in charge of the special music. As an introit they will sing "Christ Our Passover Is Sacrificed for Us Today" by Estharm. The gradual will be "Hallelujah, Christ Is Risen" by Simper and the offertory anthem, "Christ Arose" by Riegger.

The third celebration will take place at 4 p.m. and will be held in the church chapel to accommodate the infirm among the congregation and any who were unable to take Communion earlier in the day.

BAPTISMS AT NOON

The pastor, the Rev. Dr. Howard Schley Fox, will be the celebrant and will use for his Easter message "The Great Key to Victory."

The Easter music will include "Resurrection Morn" by Johnston and "Jesu Meine Zuversicht" by Rinck played by Miss Alice M. Snyder, church organist.

Holy Baptism will be administered at 12 noon to a group of children who are being presented. The class of catechumens confirmed on Palm Sunday will receive their first Communion at the 10:40 a.m. celebration.

Offer Children Trip To Shrine Circus

The Adams County Shrine Club will make it possible again for Adams County children to attend the annual Shrine Circus in Harrisburg. They will provide exchange coupons for the Zumbo Shrine Circus to be held in the state Farm Show Arena from April 22 to 27.

Graves Are Robbed Of Easter Flowers

Several residents of Gettysburg reported to The Times today that flowers have been stolen from graves in Evergreen and National Cemeteries within the past few days.

The reports said that potted plants, fresh bouquets and other Easter tributes have been removed from the graves. Most of the flowers were placed in the cemeteries by families of the deceased.

FIREWORKS NIGHTLY

Wednesday, Hi-Neighbor Day, will see a special pilgrimage and Mass at the Basilica of the Sacred Heart with Msgr. John Bolen as celebrant and Msgr. Joseph Hemler delivering the sermon. There will be a high school band concert before the second performance of "The McSherrystown Story." There will be evening fireworks at the Delone athletic field.

On Thursday, Children's Day,

there will be pet contests and bicycle decorating contests. Belles' costumes will be judged and an instrumental quartet from the community will play before the third presentation of the historical spectacle. Fireworks will follow.

Friday will be Club and Organizational Day.

Mrs. Wm. J. Fohl, Biglerville, Dies

Mrs. Mary A. Fohl, 86, Penn St., Biglerville, widow of William J. Fohl, died this morning at 6 o'clock at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Clarence Carey, Fourth St., Biglerville. The death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage. She had been in failing health for the last three months.

A daughter of the late Daniel S. and Florence V. (Miller) Bricker, she was born and always resided in Adams County and was a member of Mt. Olivet United Brethren Church.

Surviving are three children: Mrs. Carey; Walter D. Fohl, Biglerville, and Ira W. Fohl, Aspers, Pa.; three grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Dugan Funeral Home, Bendersville, with Rev. Jacob Stover, her pastor, officiating. Interment in the Bendersville Cemetery. Friends may call Sunday evening after 7 o'clock at the funeral home.

SUNRISE RITE ON OAK RIDGE

The observation tower at Oak Ridge will be the site of this year's union Easter sunrise service sponsored by the Gettysburg Ministerium. Members of all Protestant churches in Gettysburg will gather at 6:30 o'clock for the service.

The Rev. John Vannorsdall, chaplain of Gettysburg College, will preach. The Rev. C. Reynolds Strmons Jr., pastor of the Church of the Brethren and pastor of the ministerium, will open the service and pronounce the benediction at the end. The Rev. Dr. Paul L. Reaser, pastor of St. James Lutheran Church, will read the scripture and lead the responsive reading. The Rev. Lena Parr, pastor of St. Paul A.M.E. Zion Church, will read the prayers.

The congregation will sing Easter hymns, beginning with the favorite "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today." The scripture lesson, telling of the resurrection, is taken from the 16th chapter of St. Mark.

Mrs. Paul L. Reaser is the organizer for the service.

In case of inclement weather, the service will be held at the Church of the Abiding Presence on the campus of the Lutheran Seminary at the same time.

Moose To Provide Easter "Carlift"

The local Moose lodge again will conduct its annual "Easter Carlift" program Sunday, Governor Henry Herring announced today.

Persons who need transportation to and from church on Sunday may telephone the Moose lodge on York St. up to 10 o'clock Saturday night and provision will be made for a vehicle to pick up the persons calling, drive them to the church of their choice, and then return them home after the service.

Herring said Dr. John J. Knox, owner of Centennial Cabs, has volunteered the use of his cabs in conjunction with the lodge's carlift and thus some of those who call the Moose for transportation to church will be provided the service free by the taxicabs, while others will be provided the transportation by the Moose members themselves.

Thousands Visit Calvary, Pray In Jerusalem Church

Church bells rang across the hills of Jerusalem and spring sunshine warmed the hallowed streets where Jesus walked to the Cross. Thousands crowded at sunrise into the candle-lit Church of the Holy Sepulcher, built 16 centuries ago on the grounds where most sects believe Christ died.

Pilgrims knelt on Good Friday Eve beneath the Mount of Olives where Christ underwent his final agony outside the city's towering moonlit walls.

2,000 IN GARDEN

As torch-lit processions of pilgrims made their way down Jerusalem's hills singing hymns, 2,000 prayed in the Garden of Gethsemane whose ancient olive trees witnessed Judas' betrayal of the Saviour.

Christians from almost 100 sects traced Christ's steps in darkness and a biting wind from St. Saviour's Convent toward the cenacle on Mt. Zion, site of the Last Supper.

But they could not reach it. The cenacle is in the Israeli sector of the divided city, across the barbed wire of no man's land. Here Arab legionnaires and Israeli troops have faced each other in an uneasy truce for 14 years.

More than 10,000 people visited the Old City. Prayers rose from holy places.

By DAVID LANCASTER

JERUSALEM (AP)—Reverent pilgrims, many bowed beneath heavy crosses, traced Christ's last faltering steps along Jerusalem's Street of Sorrows to Calvary today, Good Friday.

From the Arab school whose arches ring the site of Pontius Pilate's fortress, thousands of Christians from many lands chanted and sang beneath the ancient stone walls, echoing Christ's words: "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?"

On the cobble street and under dark vaults they stopped at 14 Stations of the Cross marking the Son of God's stumbling journey to death.

FLAGS AT HALF-STAFF

Flags throughout the old walled city fluttered at half-staff. More than 10,000 pilgrims filled Jerusalem for Easter tide, and donkeys carried their baggage beneath the walls.

Prayers rose in a babble of tongues. There were Germans, Italians, French, Americans—some in gay Easter bonnets—Lebanese, Filipinos and Christian visitors from more remote places. The blue berets of United Nations troops dotted the crowd.

At dawn, many pilgrims bowed before Calvary, where Christ was crucified.

MARCH SETS 9-YEAR RECORD AT HOSPITAL

March census at the Annie M. Warner Hospital, with 2,539 adult patient days, set a nine-year record. Semiprivate rooms in the south wing recorded an occupancy of 101.38 per cent while the north wing ward rooms registered occupancy of 100.60 per cent. Semiprivate rooms in the Musselman annex were 90.86 per cent occupied. High occupancy compelled the use of hallways and the solariums for patient beds on a number of occasions during March.

April, however, has shown a sharp decline over the high occupancy that characterized the first three months of the year.

Collection of old accounts has permitted the hospital to pay off $13,000 of the $30,000 it borrowed nine months ago in order to meet current operating expenses and pay its bills. It was reported also that payment of pledges to the surgical building during the first quarter permitted reduction of indebtedness of the surgical wing to $42,000.

LAUD AUXILIARY

Tribute was paid by the board of directors, at their regular April meeting Thursday evening, to the Women's Auxiliary of the hospital.

The auxiliary made a further contribution of $3,000 to the surgical building fund following payment of its original pledge of $10,000. The auxiliary was congratulated on the high success of its annual rummage sale which earned $1,181.42 to be used in their important work for the hospital.

The hospital bylaws will be changed to conform with the new fiscal year of the state. Under this change the annual meeting of the incorporators to elect directors will take place in June instead of May.

Mrs. Wm. J. Fohl, Biglerville, Dies

Mrs. Mary A. Fohl, 86, Penn St., Biglerville, widow of William J. Fohl, died this morning at 6 o'clock at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Clarence Carey, Fourth St., Biglerville. The death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage. She had been in failing health for the last three months.

A daughter of the late Daniel S. and Florence V. (Miller) Bricker, she was born and always resided in Adams County and was a member of Mt. Olivet United Brethren Church.

Surviving are three children: Mrs. Carey; Walter D. Fohl, Biglerville, and Ira W. Fohl, Aspers R. 1; three grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Dugan Funeral Home, Bendersville, with Rev. Jacob Stover, her pastor, officiating. Interment in the Bendersville Cemetery. Friends may call Sunday evening after 7 o'clock at the funeral home.

SUNRISE RITE ON OAK RIDGE

The observation tower at Oak Ridge will be the site of this year's union Easter sunrise service sponsored by the Gettysburg Ministerium. Members of all Protestant churches in Gettysburg will gather at 6:30 o'clock for the service.

The Rev. John Vannorsdall, chaplain of Gettysburg College, will preach. The Rev. C. Reynolds Simmons Jr., pastor of the Church of the Brethren and pastor of the ministerium, will open the service and pronounce the benediction at the end. The Rev. Dr. Paul L. Reaser, pastor of St. James Lutheran Church, will read the scripture and lead the responsive reading. The Rev. Lena Parr, pastor of St. Paul A.M.E. Zion Church, will read the prayers.

The congregation will sing Easter hymns, beginning with the favorite "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today." The scripture lesson, telling of the resurrection, is taken from the 16th chapter of St. Mark.

Mrs. Paul L. Reaser is the organist for the service.

In case of inclement weather, the service will be held at the Church of the Abiding Presence on the campus of the Lutheran Seminary at the same time.

Moose To Provide Easter "Carlift"

The local Moose lodge again will conduct its annual "Easter Carlift" program Sunday. Governor Henry Herring announced today.

Persons who need transportation to and from church on Sunday may telephone the Moose lodge on York St. up to 10 o'clock Saturday night and provision will be made for a vehicle to pick up the persons calling, drive them to the church of their choice, and then return them home after the service.

Herring said Dr. John J. Knox, owner of Centennial Cabs, has volunteered the use of his cabs in conjunction with the lodge's carlift and thus some of those who call the Moose for transportation to church will be provided the service free by the taxicabs, while others will be provided the transportation by the Moose members themselves.

Graves Are Robbed Of Easter Flowers

Several residents of Gettysburg reported to The Times today that flowers have been stolen from graves in Evergreen and National Cemeteries within the past few days.

The reports said that potted plants, fresh bouquets and other Easter tributes have been removed from the graves. Most of the flowers were placed in the cemeteries by families of the deceased.

XAVIER CHURCH IS FILLED FOR ANNUAL RITES

St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church was filled to overflowing for the annual Holy Thursday service Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Church doors were open early and before the hour of service every seat was filled and scores of others were standing in the aisles and in the vestibule.

Rev. Fr. Leroy F. Spisak, assistant pastor, was the celebrant. Father Mathias, T.O.R., of Spring Grove, was the deacon and delivered the sermon on "His Hour Was Come." Rev. Fr. G. Hohlen S.J., of Catholic University, Washington, D. C., was the subdeacon. They wore the traditional white and red silk vestments. Lawrence Eckert was master of ceremonies.

17 IN PROCESSION

Five minutes before the opening of the service 130 girls from the parochial school, some wearing the green and white uniforms of the school and a group of smaller youngsters dressed in white and carrying pink and white corsages, headed by 40 acolytes, comprised the procession from the school into the church. They occupied reserved pews at the front of the church.

After the Mass the priests, altar boys and school children formed a procession through the church aisles to the Altar of Respose. During the procession they all sang "Pange Lingua," an ancient hymn written by St. Thomas Aquinas. It is a hymn of praise in honor of the Blessed Sacrament.

At the shrine altar of the Blessed Virgin the Holy Eucharist was placed in the tabernacle depository where it remained until 2 o'clock this afternoon. (Parishioners voluntarily spent half hour adorations throughout the 15 hours of adoration from 9 p.m. Thursday to 2 p.m. today.)

ALTARS ARE STRIPPED

The priests returned to the main sanctuary where, divested of some of their vestments, performed the ritual of stripping the other altars. Then they chanted the Compline, the night prayers of the church. Rev. Fr. Joseph P. Kealy, pastor of the church, was the chanter and the three other priests responded for the choir.

A solemn liturgical service was conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon to be followed by Stations of the Cross and blessing of the "relic and true cross" at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Holy Saturday the service will begin at 10:45 p.m. followed by High Mass.

All Masses Easter Sunday will be Low Masses.

$1,150 Damage In Three-Car Crash

Damaged totaled $1,150 when three cars, two of them parked, were in an accident this morning at 2:45 o'clock on N. Stratton St. Borough police said Raymond W. Spahr, 531 Carlisle St., was driving north on N. Stratton St. when his station wagon hit the rear of a parked auto owned by John P. DeHaas, 38 N. Stratton St., and pushed the DeHaas auto into the rear of a parked car owned by William Angle, 44 N. Stratton St. The impact forced the Angle auto against a tree.

Damage was estimated at $300 to the front of Spahr's station wagon, $450 to the rear and front of the DeHaas auto and $500 to the rear and front of the Angle car.

According to the borough police report, both Spahr and his wife, who was a passenger in the vehicle, were "shaken up" by the accident but decided against immediate medical care. The police report states that a reckless driving charge will be brought against Spahr.

M. E. Knouse Resigns As Head Of Knouse Foods; Dean L. Carey Successor

M. E. KNOUSE

DEAN L. CAREY

M. E. Knouse, president of Knouse Foods Cooperative, Inc., Peach Glen, since its formation in 1949, today announced his resignation from that position effective Monday. He will be succeeded by Dean L. Carey, assistant general manager of the firm since 1960.

Knouse will remain active in the grower-owned fruit processing business as president of the board of directors, treasurer and chief executive officer.

Other organizational changes at the Peach Glen firm are the appointment of C. L. Seemann as assistant director of production under E. J. Nowicki Jr.; J. Richard Cogley, assistant director of new products and research under Dr. James R. Oyster; George E. Hikes, purchasing of factory supplies; Ernest Unger, Orrtanna plant production manager, and Ira Kerr, warehouse service manager.

JOINED IN 1949

Carey joined the firm in 1949 as a cost accountant following his graduation from the University of Pittsburgh, where he majored in accounting and industrial management. He was named office manager in 1952 and became controller in 1954. He is a son of Postmaster and Mrs. Earl E. Carey, Biglerville, and is married to the former Miss Doris Dugan, Bendersville. They have a son, Philip, 12, and a daughter, Juanita, 11.

Seemann joined the firm under Knouse Corporation in 1946 and has been director of factory supply purchasing since 1960. A native of Aberdeen, S. D., he is married to the former Miss Josephine Howe, Biglerville. They have two daughters, Michele, 14, and Greta, 9. He is a lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve.

F-M GRADUATE

Cogley, a graduate of Franklin and Marshall College, has been a food chemist in the products development department in the firm since 1949. He had previously worked for Orrtanna Canning Co., which was purchased by the grower organization in the incorporation of the cooperative in 1949. He is the father of three children, (Continued On Page 3)

Thousands Visit Calvary, Pray In Jerusalem Church

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

JERUSALEM (AP)—Reverent pilgrims, many bowed beneath heavy crosses, traced Christ's last faltering steps along Jerusalem's Street of Sorrows to Calvary today, Good Friday.

From the Arab school whose arches ring the site of Pontius Pilate's fortress, thousands of Christians from many lands chanted and sang beneath the ancient stone walls, echoing Christ's words: "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?"

On the cobble street and under dark vaults they stopped at 14 Stations of the Cross marking the Son of God's stumbling journey to death.

FLAGS AT HALF-STAFF

Flags throughout the old walled city fluttered at half-staff. More than 10,000 pilgrims filled Jerusalem for Eastertide, and donkeys carried their baggage beneath the walls.

Prayers rose in a babble of tongues. There were Germans, Italians, French, Americans—some in gay Easter bonnets—Lebanese, Filipinos and Christian visitors from more remote places. The blue berets of United Nations troops dotted the crowd.

At dawn, many pilgrims bowed before Calvary, where Christ was crucified.

Church bells rang across the hills of Jerusalem and spring sunshine warmed the hallowed streets where Jesus walked to the Cross. Thousands crowded at sunrise into the candle-lit Church of the Holy Sepulcher, built 16 centuries ago on the grounds where most sects believe Christ died.

Jesus Met Executioners In Garden Near Cedron

When Jesus had spoken these words, he went forth with his disciples over the brook Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, and his disciples.

And Judas also, which betrayed him, knew the place: for Jesus oftentimes resorted thither with his disciples.

Judas then, having received a band of men and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons.

Jesus therefore, knowing all things that should come upon him, went forth, and said unto them, Whom seek ye?

They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am he. And Judas also, which betrayed him, stood with them. As soon then as he had said unto them, I am he, they went backward, and fell to the ground. Then asked he them again, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth.

Jesus answered, I have told you that I am he: if therefore ye seek me, let these go their way:

That the saying might be fulfilled, which he spake, Of them which thou gavest me have I lost none.

Then Simon Peter having a sword drew it, and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus.

Then said Jesus unto Peter, Put up thy sword into the sheath: the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?

Then the band and the captain and officers of the Jews took Jesus and bound him.

And led him away to Annas first; for he was father in law to Caiaphas, which was the high priest that same year.

Now Caiaphas was he, which gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple: that disciple was known unto the high priest, and went in with Jesus into the palace of the high priest.

But Peter stood at the door without. Then went out that other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Peter.

Then saith the damsel that kept the door unto Peter, Art not thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am not.

And the servants and officers stood there, who had made a fire of coals; for it was cold: and they warmed themselves: and Peter stood with them, and warmed himself.

The high priest then asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

Jesus answered him, I spake openly to the world; I ever taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither the Jews always resort; and in secret have I said nothing.

Why askest thou me? ask them which heard me, what I have said unto them: behold, they know what I said.

And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by struck Jesus with the palm of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so?

Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me?

Now Annas had sent him bound unto Caiaphas the high priest. And Simon Peter stood and warmed himself. They said therefore unto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not.

One of the servants of the high priest, being his kinsman whose ear Peter cut off, saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

Peter then denied again: and immediately the cock crew.

Then led they Jesus from Caiaphas unto the hall of judgment: and it was early; and they themselves went not into the judgment hall, lest they should be defiled; but that they might eat the passover.

Pilate then went out unto him, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?

They answered and said unto him, If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up unto thee.

Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death:

That the saying of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying what death he should die.

Then Pilate entered into the judgment hall again, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the Jews?

Jesus answered him, Sayest thou this thing of thyself, or did others tell it thee of me?

Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests have delivered thee unto me: what hast thou done?

Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence.

Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice.

Pilate saith unto him, What is truth? And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, I find in him no fault at all.

But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews?

Then cried they all again, saying, Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

MOON SERVICES HELD

Interment was in St. James Cemetery. Pallbearers were Henry Harbin, Edgar Amos, Luther Spangler Jr., George Carpenter, James Carpenter and Charles Moore.

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

MOMENT OF TRUTH. If you happen to have a new costume that appears smarter on the hanger than it does on you, look first to your figure for the reason. Brand new fashions and the same "old" figure have a way of not hanging together.

The current bywords of fashion are softness and slender shaping. Silhouettes are all movement and grace. To sustain the effect, a wearer's figure must be equally smooth and supple.

Should your figure be fresh out of those qualities, the quickest way to acquire them is with girdles and bras specifically designed to create a willowy, unbroke contour. Even those sylph-like fashion models find such underpinnings a necessary adjunct to a parade of fashions. A report on the details to look for follows:

- In Brassieres—High, understated shaping; softness in construction and fabric; contouring of downy fiberfill; longlines with mobile elastic-mesh midriff control; bandeaux built for suppleness on spandex frames.

- In Girdles—Long-long lengths and high, curving waistbands; lightweight to heavier denier spandex, for the control of light to heavy figures without constriction; corselettes, incorporating all the above-named features.

Players Can Learn From Old Pitchers

MIAMI (AP) — Ray Scarborough, a scout and pitching instructor for the Baltimore Orioles, says young pitchers can learn a lot about their craft by listening to and watching the hitters.

"The good hitters are studying the pitchers all the time," says Scarborough. "They're looking for tipoffs on what you're liable to throw them the next time around."

Pitchers should do the same thing with hitters, thinks Scarborough, a onetime curveball specialist for the Washington Senators, Boston Red Sox, Chicago White Sox, New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers.

"Listen and look around the batting cage during practice," he recommends. "They may indicate by some action or habit the pitch they like the most or the

Pancho Herrera Is 20 Pounds Lighter

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Francisco (Pancho) Herrera, a first baseman who hit 32 home runs for Buffalo to lead the International League last season, has a chance to make the Pittsburgh Pirates because he has knocked off "about 20 pounds."

"I wrote him during the winter," says Pirate General Manager Joe L. Brown, "and told him that if he reported one ounce over 210 he would wind up back in Miami where he lives. He reported at 204 pounds." Brown says Herrera reported to the Phils two years ago at 210 pounds, went to 220 a year later and reported to Clearwater at 230 pounds last spring. Herrera currently is being carried on the Columbus, Ohio roster. He was obtained from the Phils last winter with outfielder Ted Savage for third baseman Don Hoak.

STEVENS BAITS KENTUCKIANS IN RIFLE FEUD

HARRISBURG (AP)—A feud was in the making today between the commonwealths of Pennsylvania and Kentucky.

The object of the disagreement was the "long rifle," which both claim as their own.

The controversy developed over the nomenclature, "Kentucky long rifle," a familiar term found in the pages of American frontier history.

Pennsylvania doesn't discount history, but it does believe history books err a little. The rifle didn't come from Kentucky at all, but is a product of "Penn's Woods."

"Let it be known that this famous weapon was developed by gunsmiths resident of the great commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that most of them were manufactured on Pennsylvania soil during frontier days, and that the weapon's acquired misnomer in an unfair, unfortunate and unstable accident of history," snorted Dr. S. K. Stevens, director of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission.

Stevens baited Kentuckians a bit in rallying Pennsylvania sharpshooters to defend the state's frontier pride.

"Propose to seek satisfaction at our September flintlock shoot at the Daniel Boone homestead at Reading," he said.

"If these Kentuckians 'mythmakers' have the courage to face us. . . If these Kentuckians possess the competitive spirit and the sharp target ability of true American marksmen."

The flintlock shoot was a reference to an annual affair begun three years ago in which enthusiasts of the long rifle gather at the southeastern Pennsylvania v a n i a birthplace of the famous frontiersman to test their skill with the weapon.

Algiers Minister Near Death Today

ALGIERS (AP)—Mohammed Khemisti, Algerian foreign minister, lay near death today. Surgeons said they could not remove an assassin's bullet lodged against his brain unless his condition improved.

The minister has been in a coma in an oxygen tent since a young Moslem shot him Thursday. The attack occurred in front of the National Assembly.

Khemisti, 33, was kept alive with transfusions, but top French brain surgeons summoned here said his condition was too grave to permit removal of the bullet which passed through his cheek and stuck in the skull, touching the brain.

The attacker, seized immediately after the shooting, was said to be a former student apparently embittered by the political struggle between rival Algerian factions that has followed independence.

Pours Lighter Fluid On Hubby To Kill Him

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A 36-year-old woman has pleaded guilty to a charge of second-degree assault in the death of her husband. Police say she threw a cup of cigarette lighter fluid on him several weeks ago and set it ablaze with a match.

Mrs. Leola Quicksey entered the plea at her arraignment Thursday in Erie County court. Her husband, Cornelius, 36, died Wednesday. He was burned 50 per cent of his body.

Police said Mrs. Quicksey, angry after a domestic quarrel, threw the lighter fluid on her husband February 3 as he dozed on a living room sofa.

Lenten Thought For Today

This is the day on which we recall the passion and death of the Son of God made man. The awesome sign of our salvation, the cross, stands out before us as it did against the darkening sky of that first Good Friday. However, when we pause and reflect upon it, the question must arise: "Should not this be the daily experience of every follower of Christ?" "If anyone will come after me, let him take up his cross daily and follow me." Our vocation, then, is a call to shoulder the cross. Christ never promised us ease and freedom from care. He only promised us the cross—a cross that in the eyes of the world means desolation, despair, defeat, but viewed (as all crosses should be viewed) in the light of the bright dawn of Easter, it means victory, complete and eternal victory. The cross is the identification of the Christian, but the cross is not the end, it is the prelude, the necessary prelude to Easter. Easter followed Calvary, not Thabor, but it gave meaning to the events on both these hills, the Crucifixion and the Transfiguration. The pain and passion of our calvary may well be a defeat in the eyes of the children of this age; so was Christ's in His age. However, these will be only the preparation for our unending Easter if, with the confidence of the child, we say to the Father: "Thy will be done."

ETHIOPIAN TO ENTER SCHOOL

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—A young Ethiopian student who left Communist Bulgaria following a protest demonstration last Feb. 12 was on the campus of Bucknell University today and hopeful of resuming his education in this country.

Mezegebu Gabre Amlak, 23, arrived here Thursday night after being greeted at the airport in Williamsport by a delegation of international students. He had flown to Williamsport from New York where, speaking of his arrival in this country, he said: "I appreciate being able to study in the United States, and I am hoping for the best."

Amlak declined to discuss his one year in Bulgaria or the difficulties which caused some 80 African students to leave that country. He said he is one of 10 children and that his father had recently retired from the educational system in Ethiopia. Two of his brothers, he said, attended college in the United States.

A spokesman at Bucknell said Amlak would seek a degree in economics. He will be one of some 100 foreign students here.

Fitzsimmons Goes For Two Big Ones

Associated Press Sports Writer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, dean of American thoroughbred trainers, who is retiring in June, will go after two big stakes races Saturday—the Chesapeake at Laurel and the Excelsior Handicap at Aqueduct. He has Wheatley Stable's Bold Commander at Laurel, and Ogden Phipps' Hitting Away at Aqueduct.

The Chesapeake is for 3-year-olds and usually points out a candidate for the Kentucky Derby, but this time is more like a Preakness preview. Three of 10 entered at Laurel for the 1-16-mile event are in the Derby, but eight are eligible for the Preakness.

Pittsburgh Press Is Sued For Libel

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pittsburgh Press faces a libel suit filed by Harris G. Breth, of Clearfield, a former Democratic state representative who was defeated for election last November.

In his action, Breth said a story published last Sept. 16, reflected upon his character and "was false, scandalous, malicious, defamatory and libelous."

The suit seeks compensatory and punitive damages in excess of $10,000. Such suits cannot specify a definite amount in Pennsylvania, since damages, if any, are determined by a jury.

AAUW TO MEET ON WEDNESDAY

"Planning for AAUW" will be the topic for a luncheon meeting to be held Wednesday at noon at the YWCA by the local branch of the American Association of University Women.

The president, Mrs. William Lott, will preside at the session at which Mrs. Harold A. Dunkelberger, first vice president of the Pennsylvania Division of the AAUW, will speak on "Planning On a National Level." Mrs. Bruce Boenau, incoming first vice president and program chairman of the local AAUW, and Mrs. A. W. Butterfield, the outgoing first vice president and program chairman, will lead the discussion on "Planning on the Local Level."

The discussion will be based upon questionnaires recently submitted to the membership. Members who have not returned the questionnaires are asked to do so at once to permit their answers to be included in the discussion. A brief business meeting will be conducted.

It was announced that the final meeting of the local AAUW for the current year will be held at the Osterman House in Chambersburg at 6:30 p.m. May 15 in the form of a joint dinner with the Franklin County Branch, Miss Genevieve Blatt, secretary of internal affairs, will be the speaker.

THREE JAYCEES

James Krum reported that the annual antiques show, to be held August 16, 17 and 18, will be expanded with the show moving from the Junior High School gymnasium, its site for many years, to the cafeteria in the Junior High School building. The change, he said, will permit enlarging the show by about 13 spaces. In the gymnasium 26 spaces were available. The move will permit securing of additional dealers in antique furniture, Krum said, adding that several large antique furniture dealers have already been signed for the show. About half the spaces for the show have already been sold, he added.

GOING TO CONVENTION

Saturday was announced by President Thomas Piper as the last date for members to register for the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber-of-Commerce convention to be held at Wilkes-Barre, May 2 through 5. Piper said 13 of the 53 members have already signed to attend and it is hoped that at least 21 of the members will attend at least various sessions of the annual convention.

William C. Phillips, central director of Pennsylvania Mental Health Inc., was the speaker at Thursday's session. He outlined causes of mental health problems, described the state's program and listed new legislation which he hopes will pass.

For nearly 45 minutes he answered questions put by the Junior Chamber members.

SEEK TO SERVE

Richard Guise, immediate past president of the Jaycees, reported on meetings members of the local group have attended pertaining to mental health and told the members that the talk by Phillips was presented to aid all in obtaining a better understanding of the problem and possible action by the local Jaycees if they can determine an area in which they can provide assistance in promoting the mental health program.

Charles Spangler was a guest at the meeting.

NEW RASH OF GRASS FIRES

Gettysburg firemen were called twice this morning.

A call at 10 a.m. to a grass fire along the Harrisburg Rd. about four miles north of here was cancelled before firemen left the town. The second fire, at 10:50, was a grass and woods fire at the property of Paul Huff, Mummansburg Rd., which was quickly extinguished. Assistant Fire Chief Charles J. Kerrigan said some small youngsters had found matches and lighted them, igniting the grass.

Bendersville firemen were called this morning at 10:12 o'clock to a brush fire on the property of Wendell Brough on the Pine Grove Rd.

Alpha Fire Co., of Littleton, was summoned Thursday night at 5:43 to a fire from which it returned at 5:57. Greenmount firemen were summoned at 10:56 Thursday morning to a grass fire on the Mary Miller property.

MAYOR CITES DOG NUISANCE IN BOROUGH

Mayor William G. Weaver and borough police have had a number of complaints about dogs' creating a nuisance by barking, running loose and otherwise being annoying.

Weaver said that an ordinance passed in 1955 makes it unlawful for "any owner of caretaker of a dog to permit such dog to run at large." The ordinance provides for a fine not to exceed $25.

When asked why the police do not enforce the ordinance Weaver said that at the time of passage of the ordinance it was the intent of the borough council that the police not be turned into dog catchers but that, if anyone annoyed by a dog running loose would report the owner, the police would proceed under the ordinance. "It has been found," the authorities stated, "that complainants nearly always refuse to permit their name to be used and consequently will not give full information, even though the swearing out of a warrant is not required."

Another question put to Mayor Weaver was how about the dog tied on his owner's own property which barks continually. This he pointed out, does not come under the ordinance because the dog is not "running at large."

The law that can be evoked in this case, Weaver said, is one prohibiting anyone from permitting a public nuisance to exist. "This requires a charge before a justice of the peace and the police can then serve the warrant. This requires the use of the complainant's name and they all are reported as being very reluctant to take this action. The police will act if those complaining will cooperate," he added.

AREA TRUCKERS PAY BACK TAX

The U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue this week collected $21,855.68 from Adams County truckers who failed to pay tax on their vehicles. The delinquent taxpayers were contacted Wednesday and Thursday by Julien Hanssens, Lancaster, supervisor in charge of the local district.

The Federal Highway Use Tax became effective in July, 1956, and requires that truckers with vehicles weighing 13,000 pounds or over pay the established tax. Assessments are made on various weight categories. Returns have been received from 148 county truckers.

Bureau officers surveyed county truckers two years ago to correct delinquencies at that time. However, notices from the Philadelphia office indicated that many truckers have failed to file returns with payments since that time. A total of 76 owners were contacted this week. About 40 were delinquent, Hanssens reported.

He said officers will continue efforts to contact approximately 25 additional truckers who were on the road this week and had failed to file reports.

The penalty for failure to file returns with payments is 25 percent of the tax plus six percent annual interest from the due date. The officer said that many of the truckers have failed to make their payments for a number of years.

Mystery

have already begun will cease, providing the bereaved families a more stable climate in which to compose themselves and endure their grief."

In New London, Conn., the widow of the Thresher's skipper, Lt. Cmdr. John W. Harvey, spoke the gratitude of the families of the men aboard her husband's ship for the prayers and messages of concern.

DOING THEIR DUTY

Mrs. Harvey, mother of two boys, 11 and 8, said, "Our men have been lost performing the duty they chose and their way of life, in the service of their country, and dedicating their efforts to our objectives of peace in a free world."

The Navy, its flags ordered flown at half mast until sunset Monday, went on with the job of trying to learn what happened to the Thresher, which had been the fastest and deepest diving member of its fleet of nuclear submarines.

START INQUIRY

The court of inquiry prepared to assemble all available information on the physical condition of the crew, the type of overhaul made in the Thresher's last trip to the repair yards, the plans for its experimental diving, the last voyage it radioed to the escort ship Skyhawk. The court is headed by Vice Adm. Bernard L. Austin.

On the West Coast crewmen were preparing the deep-diving research craft Trieste for shipment to the scene in an effort to learn what really happened.

The Navy hoped at first that within a week the Trieste could be towed 22 miles off Boston to plunge 8,400 feet to the bottom for a study of the wreckage.

But officials at the Navy Electronics Laboratory in San Diego said it would be at least two weeks. The extra time is for partial disassembly for fast rail shipment and putting the craft back together upon arrival, or for slow movement intact by ship.

The Navy says there is absolutely no way for the Trieste to pull the 278-foot-long Thresher to the surface. The Trieste only can report on what it has seen.

The lack of hard information is sure to provoke a cloud of speculation about the moment of disaster. The Navy has had no such experience before. The sinking of the Thresher was the first loss of a nuclear submarine since these ships became part of America's fleet nine years ago.

HEAR COMPLAINTS

Adm. Anderson, in a statement Thursday night, tried to head off and suggestion that there had been complaints about the condition of the Thresher just before it left on its fateful trip.

"There was no hint of any concern on the part of the officers crew or civilians about the seaworthiness of this fine ship," he said.

"Inevitably, in the wake of such a major tragedy rumors arise as to the physical ability of the ship," Anderson said, noting that the Thresher had just left the Portsmouth, N.H., naval yards after an overhaul.

SKIPPER SATISFIED

"To dispel them (the rumors) in my own mind," Anderson said, "I have personally checked with the commanding officer of the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard, Rear Adm. Charles J. Palmer, and have been assured by him that the commanding officer of the Thresher, prior to going to sea, was completely satisfied with the ship in all respects."

In these questions of newsmen and Anderson's replies at a Pentagon news conference Thursday are the cold facts of Thresher's fate.

Q. Admiral, is there any possibility that anyone is still alive anywhere on the vessel?

A. In my judgment, no.

Q. Do you know how long the Thresher's crew may have lived after it dropped below its maximum depth?

A. I would judge a very short time.

Q. Just a matter of minutes?

A. If that.

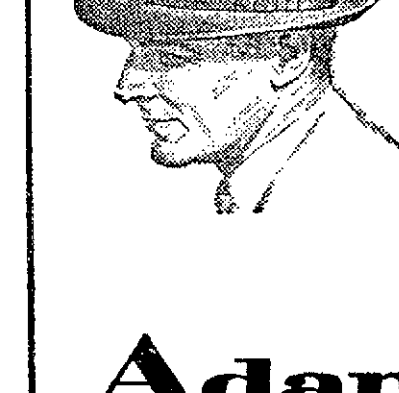

Other questions ranged over the possibility of foul play.

Could Soviet trawlers or submarines have caused the loss of the Thresher?

"I certainly rule that out," Anderson said.

He said the court of inquiry, as a matter of routine, would consider this, but there had been no Soviet submarines or trawlers in the vicinity of the Thresher's dive.

8th Annual Grant By Alcoa Foundation For 43 Colleges

The eighth annual grant from the Alcoa Foundation to the Foundation for Independent Colleges, Inc., for its 43 privately supported member colleges was presented by Paul A. Crouch, public relations manager of Alcoa's Pennsylvania operations.

The check for $6,500 was received by Dr. Hanson on behalf of the Foundation's member colleges. The presentation was made in the office of Dr. Alyn with Lt. Gov. Shafer, a graduate of Allegheny College and one of the Foundation members, taking part in the presentation.

Mr. Crouch said, in presenting the check: "The independent colleges have been of major importance in strengthening the overall educational program of our nation. Their great potential is in their emphasis on freeing young minds to explore new ideas in all fields of knowledge, and the Alcoa Foundation is pleased to assist in this endeavor."

"Since the Foundation's beginning in 1952, it has presented over $4,400,000 in scholarships, fellowships and special endowments to educational institutions," Mr. Crouch added.

Sixty-nine colleges and universities and 16 state associations will benefit this year from approximately $105,000 in grants from the Alcoa Foundation under its independent college program. This program is now in its eighth year.

The Foundation for Independent Colleges, Inc., is completing 11 years of service to nontax supported higher education in the Commonwealth and will distribute more than $600,000 in corporate gifts in June, received in the fiscal year for its member colleges.

NOEL RETIRES FROM W. MD.

Bernard I. Noel, 315 Main St., McSherrystown, has retired after completing more than a half-century of service with the Western Maryland Railway Co., all at the Hanover office.

His employment began October 1, 1912, as messenger and yard clerk under the supervision of the late John D. Hamm, agent.

During subsequent years he was advanced to baggage master, then to ticket agent, handling arrangements for a dozen passenger trains on the Western Maryland line daily.

He also served under George T. Kerr, agent when the Pennsylvania Railroad and Western Maryland consolidated headquarters in Hanover during World War II; John Carnohan, the late William E. Dulling and J. W. Carbaugh, the present agent.

Mr. Noel received a letter of congratulations from W. Arthur Grotz, president of the Western Maryland Railway Co., and a $25 U. S. Savings Bond.

Several months ago, when Mr. Grotz presented a 50-year service pin to Mr. Noel, the veteran railroad employee had a surprise for the line's chief executive, presenting Mr. Grotz a 10-year service pin.

Unique Blood

be stored under special type refrigeration because the temperature cannot vary more than one degree and alarms must be set to detect immediately any interruption of power.

"Even so," he said, "it cannot be stored for more than 21 days. The fact that 'walking blood' is stored in the donors until needed guarantees fresh blood. This is essential in many cases for blood begins to deteriorate within a day after it is drawn and for some purposes is useless unless fresh."

He said another important consideration is that a "walking blood bank" does not waste blood.

"In order to be stocked with blood for emergencies we would have to store blood of all types and any unused after 21 days would have to be discarded. We want to assure the donor who goes to considerable trouble and sometimes sacrifice to donate blood that his blood will be used and not 'poured down the drain.'"

Eligibility for the donor list includes women up to 55 years of age and men up to 60. Donors under 21 must have the written consent of their parents or guardians. No donor is called under three-month intervals even though blood regenerates within one month.

Dr. Johnson said donors are not accepted who have had malaria or hepatitis within 10 years or have acute infections, serious illness or leukemia.

He said blood is drawn by a registered nurse in the dispensary or by a doctor. Blood is given the recipient by a physician or surgeon.

The hospital pathologist then escorted the directors to the laboratory where Miss Jane Stallsmith, laboratory technician, demonstrated the complete process of typing blood.

3RD. ARRESTED FOR THEFTS OF FARMER'S EGGS

A third man was placed in the Adams County jail Thursday because an East Berlin R. D. farmer sat in his kitchen Sunday night with a shotgun across his knee, waiting of the sound of an alarm from his chicken house.

When the alarm went off, the farmer, John Pihl, East Berlin R. 2, rushed out, gun in hand, to apprehend the thieves who had visited his chicken house several times before and for whom he rigged the "trap." Like many farmers Pihl had no lock on the hen house door until eggs began to disappear. He then put a lock on the door. When both the lock and eggs disappeared he set up an alarm system and waited gun in hand for the thieves' return.

The two men in the hen house escaped when they saw Pihl running toward the structure, but the farmer had them blocked from their car.

THIRD MAN IN JAIL

State police, called by Pihl started searching the roads in the area. They found David Royce Bowman, 24, York, walking about two miles from the hen house and put him in jail.

They also found out that Philip L. Rodgers, 33, York, had been with Bowman and a little later Rodgers was also in jail here.

Police continued their investigation. Thursday they took Howard L. Baker, 34, 254 York St., York, into custody and put him in the county jail with the other two, also charged before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder here with burglary and larceny of the Pihl hen house.

According to the officers, someone discovered the availability of the Pihl chicken house and made a visit. Eggs were apparently used at home and "perhaps" distributed among friends, police said they understood. The others then learned from the first visitor of the availability of the eggs and joined in visiting the hen house.

State police from Shickshinny, who took Calabro into custody the day of the accident, said the trio had stolen the pick up truck they wrecked from Harry Roinick, a farmer at Nescopeck R. 1. Calabro told police at the time that the three had been enroute to Baltimore to get jobs.

At the inquest July 7, testimony revealed Winarski as the driver of the pickup truck when it crashed.

MAYOR CITES DOG NUISANCE IN BOROUGH

Mayor William G. Weaver and borough police have had a number of complaints about dogs creating a nuisance by barking, running loose and otherwise being annoying.

Weaver said that an ordinance passed in 1955 makes it unlawful for "any owner of caretaker of a dog to permit such dog to run at large." The ordinance provides for a fine not to exceed $25. When asked why the police do not enforce the ordinance Weaver said that at the time of passage of the ordinance it was the intent of the borough council that the police not be turned into dog catchers but that, if anyone annoyed by a dog running loose would report the owner, the police would proceed under the ordinance. "It has been found," the authorities stated, "that complainants nearly always refuse to permit their name to be used and consequently will not give full information, even though the swearing out of a warrant is not required."

Another question put to Mayor Weaver was how about the dog tied on his owner's own property which barks continually. This he pointed out, does not come under the ordinance because the dog is not "running at large."

The law that can be evoked in this case, Weaver said, is one prohibiting anyone from permitting a public nuisance to exist. "This requires a charge before a justice of the peace and the police can then serve the warrant. This requires the use of the complainant's name and they are reported as being very reluctant to take this action. The police will act if those complaining will cooperate," he added.

AREA TRUCKERS PAY BACK TAX

The U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue this week collected $21,855.68 from Adams County truckers who failed to pay tax on their vehicles. The delinquent taxpayers were contacted Wednesday and Thursday by Julien Hanssens, Lancaster, supervisor in charge of the local district.

The Federal Highway Use Tax became effective in July, 1956, and requires that truckers with vehicles weighing 13,000 pounds or over pay the established tax. Assessments are made on various weight categories. Returns have been received from 148 county truckers.

Bureau officers surveyed county truckers two years ago to correct delinquencies at that time. However, notices from the Philadelphia office indicated that many truckers have failed to file returns with payments since that time. A total of 76 owners were contacted this week. About 40 were delinquent, Hanssens reported.

He said officers will continue efforts to contact approximately 25 additional truckers who were on the road this week and had failed to file returns.

The penalty for failure to file returns with payments is 25 percent of the tax plus six percent annual interest from the due date. The officer said that many of the truckers have failed to make their payments for a number of years.

have already begun will cease, providing the bereaved families a more stable climate in which to compose themselves and endure their grief."

In New London, Conn., the widow of the Thresher's skipper, Lt. Cmdr. John W. Harvey, spoke the gratitude of the families of the men aboard her husband's ship for the prayers and messages of concern.

DOING THEIR DUTY

Mrs. Harvey, mother of two boys, 11 and 8, said, "Our men have been lost performing the duty they chose and their way of life, in the service of their country, and dedicating their efforts to our objectives of peace in a free world."

The Navy, its flags ordered flown at half mast until sunset Monday, went on with the job of trying to learn what happened to the Thresher, which had been the fastest and deepest diving member of its fleet of nuclear submarines.

START INQUIRY

The court of inquiry prepared to assemble all available information on the physical condition of the crew, the type of overhaul made in the Thresher's last trip to the repair yards, the plans for its experimental diving, the last words it radioed to the escort ship Skylark. The court is headed by Vice Adm. Bernard L. Austin.

On the West Coast crewmen were preparing the deep-diving research craft Trieste for shipment to the scene in an effort to learn what really happened.

The Navy hoped at first that within a week the Trieste could be towed 220 miles off Boston to plunge 8,400 feet to the bottom for a study of the wreckage.

But officials at the Navy Electronics Laboratory in San Diego said it would be at least two weeks. The extra time is for partial disassembly for fast rail shipment and putting the craft back together upon arrival, or for slower movement intact by ship.

The Navy says there is absolutely no way for the Trieste to pull the 278-foot-long Thresher to the surface. The Trieste only can report on what it has seen.

The lack of hard information is sure to provoke a cloud of speculation about the moment of disaster. The Navy has had no such experience before. The sinking of the Thresher was the first loss of a nuclear submarine since these ships became part of America's fleet nine years ago.

HEAR COMPLAINTS

Adm. Anderson, in a statement Thursday night, tried to head off and suggestion that there had been complaints about the condition of the Thresher just before it left on its fateful trip.

"There was no hint of any concern on the part of the officers crew or civilians about the seaworthiness of this fine ship," he said.

"Inevitably, in the wake of such a major tragedy rumors arise as to the physical ability of the ship," Anderson said, noting that the Thresher had just left the Portsmouth, N.H., naval yards after an overhaul.

SKIPPER SATISFIED

"To dispel them (the rumors) in my own mind," Anderson said, "I have personally checked with the commanding officer of the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard, Rear Adm. Charles J. Palmer, and have been assured by him that the commanding officer of the Thresher, prior to going to sea, was completely satisfied with the ship in all respects."

In these questions of newsmen and Anderson's replies at a Pentagon news conference Thursday are the cold facts of Thresher's fate.

Q. Admiral, is there any possibility that anyone is still alive anywhere on the vessel?

A. In my judgment, no.

Q. Do you know how long the Thresher's crew may have lived after it dropped below its maximum depth?

A. I would judge a very short time.

Q. Just a matter of minutes?

A. If that.

Other questions ranged over the possibility of foul play.

Could Soviet trawlers or submarines have caused the loss of the Thresher?

"I certainly rule that out," Anderson said.

He said the court of inquiry, as a matter of routine, would consider this, but there had been no Soviet submarines or trawlers in the vicinity of the Thresher's dive.

8th Annual Grant By Alcoa Foundation For 43 Colleges

The eighth annual grant from the Alcoa Foundation to the Foundation for Independent Colleges, Inc., for its 43 privately supported member colleges was presented by Paul A. Crouch, public relations manager of Alcoa's Pennsylvania operations.

The check for $6,500 was received by Dr. Hanson on behalf of the Foundation's member colleges. The presentation was made in the office of Dr. Allyn with Lt. Gov. Shafer, a graduate of Allegheny College and one of the Foundation members, taking part in the presentation.

Mr. Crouch said, in presenting the check: "The independent colleges have been of major importance in strengthening the overall educational program of our nation. Their great potential is in their emphasis on freeing young minds to explore new ideas in all fields of knowledge, and the Alcoa Foundation is pleased to assist in this endeavor."

"Since the Foundation's beginning in 1952, it has presented over $4,400,000 in scholarships, fellowships and special endowments to educational institutions," Mr. Crouch added.

Sixty-nine colleges and universities and 16 state associations will benefit this year from approximately $105,000 in grants from the Alcoa Foundation under its independent college program. This program is now in its eighth year.

The Foundation for Independent Colleges, Inc., is completing 11 years of service to nontax supported higher education in the Commonwealth and will distribute more than $600,000 in corporate gifts in June, received in the fiscal year for its member colleges.

NOEL RETIRES FROM W. MD.

Bernard I. Noel, 315 Main St., McSherrystown, has retired after completing more than a half-century of service with the Western Maryland Railway Co., all at the Hanover office.

His employment began October 1, 1912, as messenger and yard clerk under the supervision of the late John D. Hamm, agent.

During subsequent years he was advanced to baggage master, then to ticket agent, handling arrangements for a dozen passenger trains on the Western Maryland line daily.

He also served under George T. Kerr, agent when the Pennsylvania Railroad and Western Maryland consolidated headquarters in Hanover during World War II; John Carnahan, the late William E. Dulling and J. W. Carbaugh, the present agent.

Mr. Noel received a letter of congratulations from W. Arthur Grotz, president of the Western Maryland Railway Co., and a $25 U. S. Savings Bond.

Several months ago, when Mr. Grotz presented a 50-year service pin to Mr. Noel, the veteran railroad employee had a surprise for the line's chief executive, presenting Mr. Grotz a 10-year service pin.

his career as an undertaker in Ambridge, Pa., in 1916 and moved to McSherrystown 1922. The deceased was a member of the Church of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, McSherrystown, and the Holy Name Society.

Mr. Kernan was affiliated with McSherrystown Lodge 720, LOOM; Hanover and McSherrystown Home Associations; Fraternal Order of Eagles at McSherrystown and Ambridge, and the Elks Lodge of Aliquippa.

Surviving are his widow, the former Elizabeth Schott, and a number of nephews and nieces.

A Requiem Mass will be held Monday at 11 a.m. at the Immaculate Conception Church, Bridgeport, conducted by Rev. D. Leonard Donahue, after meeting at the Freitag Funeral Home, Bridgeport, at 10 a.m. Interment in St. Mary's Parish Cemetery, Bridgeport.

Friends may call at the Wetzel Funeral Home, Hanover, Sunday evening where the Rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock.

STEVENSON BAITS KENTUCKIANS IN RIFLE FEUD

HARRISBURG (AP) — A feud was in the making today between the commonwealths of Pennsylvania and Kentucky.

The object of the disagreement was the "long rifle," which both claim as their own.

The controversy developed over the nomenclature, "Kentucky long rifle," a familiar term found in the pages of American frontier history.

Pennsylvania doesn't discount history, but it does believe history books err a little. The rifle didn't come from Kentucky at all, but is a product of "Penn's Woods."

"Let it be known that this famous weapon was developed by gunsmiths resident of the great commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that most of them were manufactured on Pennsylvania soil during frontier days, and that the weapon's acquired misnomer in an unfair, unfortunate and unstable accident of history," snorted Dr. S. K. Stevens, director of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission.

Stevens baited Kentuckians a bit in rallying Pennsylvania sharpshooters to defend the state's frontier pride.

"Propose to seek satisfaction at our September flintlock shoot at the Daniel Boone homestead at Reading," he said.

"If these Kentucky 'mythmakers' have the courage to face us."

"If these Kentuckians possess the competitive spirit and the sharp target ability of true American marksmen."

The flintlock shoot was a reference to an annual affair begun three years ago in which enthusiasts of the long rifle gather at the southeastern Pennsylvania birthplace of the famous frontiersman to test their skill with the weapon.

Pours Lighter Fluid On Hummy To Kill Him

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A 36-year-old woman has pleaded guilty to a charge of second-degree assault in the death of her husband. Police say she threw a cup of cigarette lighter fluid on him several weeks ago and set it ablaze with a match.

Mrs. Leola Quicksey entered the plea at her arraignment Thursday in Erie County court. Her husband, Cornelius, 36, died Wednesday. He was burned 50 per cent of his body.

Police said Mrs. Quicksey, angry after a domestic quarrel, threw the lighter fluid on her husband February 3 as he dozed on a living room sofa.

ETHIOPIAN TO ENTER SCHOOL

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A young Ethiopian student who left Communist Bulgaria following a protest demonstration last Feb. 12 was on the campus of Bucknell University today and hopeful of resuming his education in this country.

Mezgebou Gabre Amlak, 23, arrived here Thursday night after being greeted at the airport in Williamsport by a delegation of international students. He had flown to Williamsport from New York where, speaking of his arrival in this country, he said:

"I appreciate being able to study in the United States, and I am hoping for the best."

Amlak declined to discuss his one year in Bulgaria or the difficulties which caused some 80 African students to leave that country.

He said he is one of 10 children and that his father had recently retired from the educational system in Ethiopia. Two of his brothers, he said, attended college in the United States.

A spokesman at Bucknell said Amlak would seek a degree in economics. He will be one of some 100 foreign students here.

Fitzsimmons Goes For Two Big Ones

Associated Press Sports Writer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, dean of American thoroughbred trainers, who is retiring in June, will go after two big stakes races Saturday—the Chesapeake at Laurel and the Excelsior Handicap at Aqueduct. He has Wheatley Stable's Bold Commander at Laurel, and Ogden Phipps' Hitting Away at Aqueduct.

The Chesapeake is for 3-year-olds and usually points out a candidate for the Kentucky Derby, but this time is more like a Preakness preview. Three of 10 entered at Laurel for the 1.16-mile event are in the Derby, but eight are eligible for the Preakness.

Native Of County Dies Today At 78

Mrs. Alverta M. Baker, 78, wife of Harry T. Baker, Hanover, died at her home this morning at 5:45 o'clock.

She was born in Adams County, a daughter of the late Jesse and Ida (Wentz) Rife. The deceased was a member of Trinity United Church of Christ, Hanover, and the Sunday School.

In addition to her husband she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Rena E. Haverstick, Littlestown; one brother, Charles F. Rife, Hanover R. 4; five sisters, Mrs. Annie Slagle, Hanover R. 5; Mrs. Arthur Bair, Littlestown; Miss Mary Rife, Miss Hattie Rife and Mrs. Carrie Leister, all of Hanover R. 4.

Funeral services Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Wetzel Funeral Home, Hanover, conducted by Rev. Dr. H. E. Sheely. Interment in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Hanover. Friends may call at the funeral home Monday evening.

Pittsburgh Press Is Sued For Libel

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pittsburgh Press faces a libel suit filed by Harris G. Breth, of Clearfield, a former Democratic state representative who was defeated for election last November.

In his action, Breth said a story published last Sept. 18, reflected upon his character and "was false, scandalous, malicious, defamatory and libelous."

The suit seeks compensatory and punitive damages in excess of $10,000. Such suits cannot specify a definite amount in Pennsylvania, since damages, if any, are determined by a jury.

AAUW TO MEET ON WEDNESDAY

"Planning for AAUW" will be the topic for a luncheon meeting to be held Wednesday at noon at the YWCA by the local branch of the American Association of University Women.

The president, Mrs. William Lott, will preside at the session at which Mrs. Harold A. Dunkelberger, first vice president of the Pennsylvania Division of the AAUW, will speak on "Planning On a National Level." Mrs. Bruce Boenau, incoming first vice president and program chairman of the local AAUW, and Mrs. A. W. Butterfield, the outgoing first vice president and program chairman, will lead the discussion on "Planning on the Local Level."

The discussion will be based upon questionnaires recently submitted to the membership. Members who have not returned the questionnaires are asked to do so at once to permit their answers to be included in the discussion.

A brief business meeting will be conducted.

It was announced that the final meeting of the local AAUW for the current year will be held at the Osterman House in Chambersburg at 6:30 p.m. May 15 in the form of a joint dinner with the Franklin County Branch. Miss Genevieve Blatt, secretary of internal affairs, will be the speaker.

James Krum reported that the annual antiques show, to be held August 16, 17 and 18, will be expanded with the show moving from the Junior High School gymnasium, its site for many years, to the cafeteria in the Junior High School building. The change, he said, will permit enlarging the show by about 13 spaces. In the gymnasium 26 spaces were available. The move will permit securing of additional dealers in antique furniture, Krum said, adding that several large antique furniture dealers have already been signed for the show about half the spaces for the show have already been sold, he added.

GOING TO CONVENTION

Saturday was announced by President Thomas Piper as the last date for members to register for the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber-of Commerce convention to be held at Wilkes-Barre, May 2 through 5. Piper said 13 of the 53 members have already signed to attend and it is hoped that at least 21 of the members will attend at least various sessions of the annual convention.

William C. Phillips, central director of Pennsylvania Mental Health Inc., was the speaker at Thursday's session. He outlined causes of mental health problems, described the state's program and listed new legislation which he hopes will pass.

For nearly 45 minutes he answered questions put by the Junior Chamber members.

SEEK TO SERVE

Richard Guise, immediate past president of the Jaycees, reported on meetings members of the local group have attended pertaining to mental health and told the members that the talk by Phillips was presented to aid in obtaining a better understanding of the problem and possible action by the local Jaycees if they can determine an area in which they can provide assistance in promoting the mental health program.

Charles Spangler was a guest at the meeting.

NEW RASH OF GRASS FIRES

Gettysburg firemen were called twice this morning.

A call at 10 a.m. to a grass fire along the Harrisburg Rd. about four miles north of here was cancelled before firemen left the town. The second fire, at 10:50, was a grass and woods fire at the property of Paul Huff, Mummastown Rd., which was quickly extinguished. Assistant Fire Chief Charles J. Kerrigan said some small youngsters had found matches and lighted them, igniting the grass.

Bendersville firemen were called this morning at 10:12 o'clock to a brush fire on the property of Wendell Brough on the Pine Grove Rd.

Alpha Fire Co., of Littlestown, was summoned Thursday night at 5:43 to a fire from which it returned at 5:57. Greenmount firemen were summoned at 10:56 Thursday morning to a grass fire on the Mary Miller property.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Transport Bombers Through
Gettysburg: Traffic around Center Square was stopped briefly at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon for the passage through Gettysburg of six large trucks carrying dismantled army air force bombers.

Two state police cars of the Gettysburg substation escorted the 65-foot-long trucks from the Maryland-Pennsylvania state line.

Borough police said the trucks were from Langley field, Virginia. They went around the east side of the square and out York street. Police said they did not know their destination.

Dr. Baker Opens Office Friday:

Dr. Joseph J. Baker, son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Baker who lived here for many years, announced today he will open offices at 111 Baltimore street on Friday for the general practice of medicine.

Dr. Baker is a graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1940 and of Temple University School of Medicine. Following his internship at the York hospital and a residency in nervous and mental diseases in Massachusetts, he entered the army where he served five months on the staff of the Brooke General hospital, San Antonio, Tex., and her 18 months on the staff of Walter Reed General hospital in Washington, D. C.

He and his wife, the former Mary Pretz, of Gettysburg and their two children recently moved from Washington and have taken up residence along Marsh creek, near the Fairfield road.

Dr. Baker was appointed to serve as medical director for Gettysburg college, which position he will assume in June.

Methodists To Buy New Organ:
Purchase of a new organ for the local Methodist Church was authorized Wednesday evening at a meeting of the official board held following the regular mid-week service at the church.

The Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania, with which the Adams County Medical society is affiliated, will be one hundred years old on Sunday.

On April 11, 1848, sixty-one physicians representing the medical colleges and twelve county medical societies of the state, met in the Methodist Episcopal Church, Lancaster, and founded the state medical society.

The Adams County Medical society is more than fifty years old. It was organized in the 1890s, went out of existence for a time and then was re-organized in 1904 and has been active ever since.

Progress in medical research in the United States during these one hundred years has made the life span of the average American the longest life occurring in any nation in the world. In 1906 the average person in the United States could expect to reach the age of 40 years. A child born today can plan on reaching the age of 67. Eighteen years added to life since 1906 is no mean achievement. Since 1906 the population in the United States has increased 7 per cent, but the number of people over 65 years of age in our country has increased 35 per cent.

High School Seniors On Washington Trip: Four chartered buses, carrying members of the senior class of Gettysburg high school, left at 7 o'clock this morning for Washington. They will be in Washington today and Tuesday, returning to Gettysburg Tuesday night. The girls will stay at the New Colonial hotel and the boys at the Hotel Martinique.

Teachers accompanying the seniors are Elmer H. Schriver, Jack Cessna, Mrs. Philip Bower and Miss Ruth McIlhenny.

Today's Talk

IN THE END

I picked up a book many years ago entitled "The Wisdom of the Chinese." I read it with a great deal of pleasure and profit and have referred to it many times since.

The book contains many wonderfully beautiful sayings of those old Chinese teachers who charmed and inspired. Here is one. "Leave all things to take their natural course and do not interfere."

In the end, all things right themselves of their own accord. But when folks interfere it sometimes takes twice as long — and sometimes they are not righted until the ones most affected have left the stage.

The same wise man, whose name was Lao Tzu, wrote this: "Who is there who can make muddy water clear? But if allowed to remain still, it will become clear of itself."

When I see a man in a hurry to make money or to get some particular task finished, only to get into a new task and as hurriedly to pursue its end, I am reminded of the foolishness of all haste and of worrying over things that are bound to pursue their natural course anyway.

How many times we come to the end of our day and review the instances of rash actions and unworthy movements, only to laugh at ourselves and realize the futility of it all.

Somewhat or other I have always had great respect for the quiet men or women, who think much more than they ever express — so that when they do say something, they have given out thought in the shape of real food for the world to grow strong by.

In the end, my friend, you are not going to find that your troubles were very real.

And in the end, you are bound to learn that you have missed much that is ready this minute to take you in charge — if you will only drop a few useless pieces of baggage and trot with lighter equipment.

In the end — but there really is no end to the big mind or heart!

LETTER FROM HOME

This is what is told:
Not so much to tell!
"Baby good as gold,
Everybody well!
Saturday we'll go
Out to see the game,
Thought you'd like to know
Guests for dinner came."

This is what it did:
Ended all the doubt
Which we bravely hid;
Put all dread to rout;
Tears about to start
Stopped are they could flow;
Sent us light of heart
Off to see a show!

Sharpened appetites;
From worry set up free.
Made lovelier the sights
We'd traveled there to see,
"All well at home!" it said,
And joy was ours to claim,
For as the news we read
"All well with us became."

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

LAOS: Some U.S. ground forces will be sent to Thailand in June to take part in Southeast Asia Treaty Organization military maneuvers, U.S. officials disclosed today.

The operation by the eight-nation defense pact was scheduled before the current Laotian crisis and has no connection with it, officials said.

But it was acknowledged that the show of force probably would be linked to the clash between neutralist and pro-Communist forces now threatening the government of neutralist Prime Minister Souvanna Phouma.

ONE THRESHER VICTIM NEAR RETIREMENT

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—The mother of a seaman lost when the nuclear submarine Thresher sank said her son transferred to that ship for an underwater tour before his retirement.

"He was to retire on June 3 and we were looking forward to seeing him," said Mrs. William A. Adelmann, of Holy Oak, Del. She said she did not immediately know her son, Chief Electrician Mate James Glen Peters, 38, was aboard the craft when it sank.

The mother said she listened to radio reports of the missing ship Wednesday night and "was feeling so sorry for all those other people."

She added, "Then Jim's wife called and told me he had transferred to the Thresher."

Peters, 38, the father of three sons, was completing 20 years of naval duty, began when he enlisted at Chester, Pa.

The Navy listed his father as William Henry Peters of Essington, Pa.

The mother said Peters had planned to settle with his wife, the former Dorothy Louise Fulmer of Collingdale, Pa., in her home town after he retired.

"He's had lots of sea duty," said Mrs. Adelmann. "It was his life."

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Labor and Industry Department reports new claims for unemployment compensation rose in Pennsylvania last week, while continued claims dropped to their lowest level of 1963.

Department Secretary William P. Young said the number of new claims jumped from 24,626 the previous week to 32,115 last week. Continued claims last week totaled 194,063, compared with 205,156 the previous week. Total claims dropped to 226,178.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Deputy Highways Secretary Carl W. Wild, a holdover from the Lawrence administration, is facing federal charges that he forced state employees to contribute to the Democratic party campaign last year.

Wild was cited in a report sent to Gov. Scranton and state Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandro by the U.S. Civil Service Commission.

The highway official is accused of violating the federal Hatch Act which bans political activities by civil service employees.

Wild himself is not on civil service. The commission charged, however, that he advised employees of his Bureau of Planning and Programming to buy tickets for the Democratic $100-a-plate dinner last Sept. 20 when President Kennedy appeared as the speaker.

The federal government is involved through its program of aid to states for building of primary roads and interstate expressways.

Alessandro asked Wild to submit an answer to the charges. In the meantime, he remained on the payroll with full status.

"I have met with Mr. Wild and he is preparing a factual reply to the charges and will submit them to me," Alessandro said. Wild declined comment.

He joined the department in 1957 and was named a deputy secretary the following year. He was reappointed to the job at the insistence of Highways Secretary Henry D. Harral following the inauguration of Gov. Scranton.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Richard L. Schlegel of Lewisburg is a newly-appointed member of the Highways Department in charge of budgetary functions.

Schlegel was named to his $9,454-a-year state job Thursday. From 1952 to 1961, he was employed with the federal government.

That, he said, means no new programs should be launched.

Pilate Attempted To Save Jesus From Crucifixion

Then Pilate therefore took Jesus, and scourged him.

And the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple robe.

And said, Hail, King of the Jews and they smote him with their hands.

Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I find no fault in him.

Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pilate saith unto them, Behold the man!

When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto him, Take ye him and crucify him: for I find no fault in him.

The Jews answered him, We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God.

PILATE AFRAID

When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid:

And went again into the judgment hall, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? But Jesus gave him no answer.

Then saith Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee?

Jesus answered, Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin.

And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Caesar's friend: whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Caesar.

When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he brought Jesus forth, and sat down in the judgment seat in a place that is called the Pavement, but in the Hebrew, Gabbatha.

And it was the preparation of the passover, and about the sixth hour: and he saith unto the Jews, Behold your King!

DENEY KING

But they cried out, Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, We have no king but Caesar.

Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified. And they took Jesus, and led him away.

And he bearing his cross went forth into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in the Hebrew Golgotha:

Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst.

And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the cross. And the writing was, JESUS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS.

This title then read many of the Jews: for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, and Greek, and Latin.

Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but that he said, I am King of the Jews.

Pilate answered, What I have written I have written.

DIVIDE GARMENTS

Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also his coat: now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout.

They said therefore among themselves, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore the soldiers did.

Now there stood by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.

When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Woman, behold thy son!

Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother! And from that hour that disciple took her unto his own home.

After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst.

Now there was set a vessel full of vinegar: and they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it upon hyssop, and put it to his mouth.

When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished: and he bowed his head, and gave up the ghost.

The Jews therefore, because it was the preparation, that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the sabbath day, (for that sabbath day was an high day,) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.

Then came the soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.

But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs: but one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came there out blood and water.

And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe.

For these things were done, that the scripture should be fulfilled.

And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe.

For these things were done, that the scripture should be fulfilled.

And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe.

TAKES BODY

And after this Joseph of Arimathea, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jews, besought Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took the body of Jesus.

And there came also Nicodemus, which came at the first to Jesus by night, and brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about an hundred pound weight.

Then took they the body of Jesus, and wound it in linen clothes with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury.

Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was never man yet laid.

There laid they Jesus therefore because of the Jews' preparation day: for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

Bullets Wing Blue Jays 3-1 With Two Unearned Tallies In 11th Inning

Two unearned runs in the top of the 11th inning enabled the Gettysburg College baseball team to register its second straight win of the season as the Blue Jays turned back John Hopkins 3-1 Thursday afternoon in Baltimore.

After the Blue Jays knotted the count at 1-1 in the bottom of the 11th, Gettysburg had to fight back hard to beat the 6 p.m. curfew. Gettysburg loaded the bases in the 11th on walks to Pete Wolynec and Paul Kolkemer and Jim Riccobono got on via an infield miscue. A passed ball allowed Wolynec to score and advance the runners. Moments later Ron Koachis threw wild and Riccobono came romping over the plate.

The Blue Jays took a 1-0 lead in the fourth frame. With one out Ken Snyder lashed a single to left and stole second before Ted Koerner grounded out. With two outs, Al Hallam was sent in to run for Snyder, according to MAC rules. Ed Curtis then poked a line single to left-center, driving in Hallam.

Coach Ross Sachs, a former Bullet athlete, got his Jays rolling in the eighth when they loaded the bases but were unable to score. In the ninth they knotted the count. Dennis Donnelly singled to right, went to second on a wild pitch and continued to third on an infield miscue. Jim McIntyre then beat out an infield single with two outs allowing Donnelly to come home.

The Blue Jays have been finding the going a little rougher with a couple of key injuries. Dick Taylor, third sacker, is suffering from a shoulder injury and has not played in the last two games. Shortstop Bill Jacobsen injured his right ankle against Albright Tuesday and was unable to make the Baltimore trip.

Iron man Ted Koerner went the distance on the mound against the Blue Jays and turned in his best performance of the young season. Koerner fanned 17 batters, walked five and gave up six scattered hits. The win marked his first compared to two setbacks. Frank Soriano started for

MORE TROUBLE FOR DODGERS TORONTO WINS OVER DETROIT

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The dissonance that some thought cost the Dodgers the National League pennant in the closing weeks last season has flared anew on the team favored to win this year.

Buzzie Bavasi, general manager, disclosed the situation Thursday. He said some of the players had been popping off about the way field manager Walter Alston ran the club. Alston was similarly criticized after the Giants had beaten the Dodgers in their play-off for the NL flag last year.

Bavasi said he had called a closed conference just before the Dodgers opened the season in Chicago last Tuesday and told the players they would have to give out 100 per cent for Alston.

The Dodgers won two of their three games with the Cubs. To-night they open a three-game series at Houston.

Bavasi said the group criticizing Alston consisted of players who weren't being used in the spring games, and who did not have a good season in 1962. He would not identify them by name but he said none of the top stars was involved.

FIRST DIVISION FEVER GRIPS PHILLY CLUB

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The 1963 baseball season for the Philadelphia Phillies is just two games old, but some members of the team are already caught up with first-division fever.

The Phillies won the first two games, both over Cincinnati. Wes Covington, who was on two pennant winners at Milwaukee and should know about such things, said Thursday the spirit of the team is good.

"I think the attitude we have on this club right now couldn't be better," said Covington, adding: "There's no guy on this club now that doesn't think we can win, even with our uncertain pitching. It's a team attitude, and we're all thinking of the little things we can do to help each other and help us win games. It's no longer a bunch of individuals the way it was when I came here."

Covington said he's not predicting a pennant for the Phillies—not just yet anyway—but declared: "The other clubs have to beat us. We won't beat ourselves any more."

Manager Gene Mauch, in recognition of the fact the Phillies won their first two games in eight years, gave the team a day off Thursday.

The Phillies fly to St. Louis for a weekend series against the Cardinals, then go to Milwaukee for three games, then come back to Connie Mack Stadium for a series with the Cardinals.

SPAHN GETS NEW RECORDS

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee southpaw Warren Spahn, a baseball wonder who refuses to bow to father time, is off to a good start in his annual goal of 20 victories. And the record books need rewriting already.

Spahn, whose 42nd birthday is just 11 days away, mastered the New York Mets on six hits for his first triumph of the season and No. 328 of his career Thursday as the Braves opened their 1963 home campaign with a 6-1 victory before a chilled crowd of 26,120.

"I always feel good when I win the first one, but this is even better," Spahn said happily. "I felt just as strong at the end as the start. I had a little trouble gripping the ball because of the cold, but even that wasn't much of a problem."

Already the biggest left-handed winner in baseball history, Spahn moved into a tie for eighth place with John Clarkson among all-time victors. In addition, he became the first National League pitcher to play 19 seasons with the same club, breaking the record previously shared with Babe Adams of Pittsburgh and Jesse Haines of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"Records are nice, but I can afford to have only one goal—20 or better," Spahn said. "My biggest job is to win 20. There are no concessions because of age. I'm the same as everybody else. I have to show the team I can pitch. This is a game of what you can do—not what you did do. And I feel I can still win 20."

BOOG POWELL ORIOLE HERO

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—John (Boog) Powell, slugging hero of the Baltimore Orioles with three homers, six runs batted in and a .364 average in three games, would not have opened the season if Joe Gaines hadn't pulled a muscle.

Billy Hitchcock, the Baltimore manager, was talking about the 6-foot-4, 240-pounder Thursday after he hit two homers and a single in a 4-1 victory over the New York Yankees.

"Shows you how smart I am," said Hitchcock. "Powell wouldn't have started against three straight left-handers if Gaines hadn't been hurt. Gaines was hitting real good in Florida."

Powell hit his first homer Monday off Don Rudolph, Washington lefty. He went hitless against Claude Osteen, another southpaw, in Baltimore's home opener Wednesday. Hitchcock started Boog against Whitey Ford Thursday and he slammed another homer into the right field stands. His second homer of the day came off Bill Kunkel, a right-hander, who relieved Ford.

ORIOLES BEAT YANKS WHILE SENATORS WIN

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Tom Cheney, a poor man's Sandy Koufax, may have been handed the key to the strikeout storehouse when the strike zone was enlarged.

The fireballing right-hander in his first start allowed only one hit—an infield single—and struck out 10 while Don Leppert provided support with three consecutive homers in Washington's 8-0 victory over Boston Thursday night.

Cheney could be the American League's answer to Dodger Koufax now that the strike zone has a few extra inches.

"Tom's fast ball rises," says Manager Mickey Vernon, "and he'll be getting a lot of strikes this season that previously just missed the strike zone."

Cheney, 28, 7-9 last year with 147 strikeouts in 173 innings, overpowered the Red Sox, allowing only two base runners. Ed Bressoud beat out the only hit to deep short in the fourth inning and Bob Tillman drew a walk in the sixth.

It was a pitcher's day all around. Don Mossi tossed a two-hitter as Detroit whipped Cleveland 6-1. Milt Pappas allowed only five hits in Baltimore's 4-1 triumph over the New York Yankees and Hoyt Wilhelm protected the Chicago White Sox' 3-1 decision over the Los Angeles Angels with four innings of shutout relief.

Kansas City and Minnesota were not scheduled.

Mantle Gets Homer
Mossi had a perfect game for 6 1/3 innings before Indians' rookie Tony Martinez bounced a single off the glove of Dick McAuliffe. The left-hander lost his shutout in the ninth on an error, Gene Green's pinch single and a force out.

The Tigers put it out of reach early, tagging Dick Donovan for four singles in the first inning, including run-scoring hits by Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash.

The lone Yankee run against Pappas came on Mickey Mantle's fourth-inning homer that tied the score 1-1. But John (Boog) Powell outdid Mantle in the power department, snapping the tie in the fifth inning with a two-run homer off loser Whitey Ford before hitting a solo shot in the seventh inning that wrapped up the scoring.

Wilhelm, 39, was touched for only two hits after coming on for winner Joel Horlen when the Angels put the first two men on in the sixth. Wilhelm retired the side without damage. Floyd Robinson homered for the White Sox in the fourth, then walked and eventually scored the deciding run in a two-run sixth on a force out. The loser was Bo Belinsky.

EAGLES TAKE 3RD VICTORY

A pair of five-run innings, the second and fourth, sparked Bermudian Springs baseball team to a 13-5 victory over Boiling Springs Thursday at York Springs. The game had originally been scheduled for today.

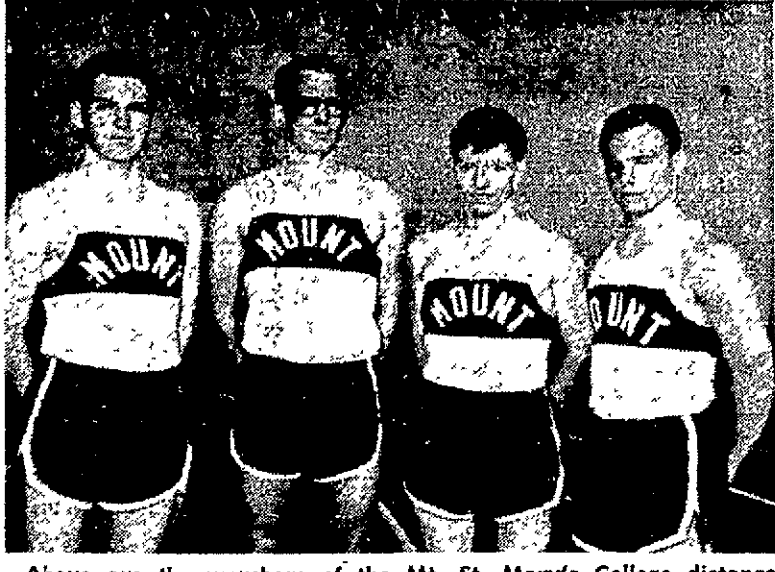

Grafton Wagner hurled the first six innings for Bermudian and was the winning pitcher. Bill Smyers, a freshman, pitched the final frame and was the victim of weak support which enabled the Bubbler to tally four times.

Dave Bricker and Paul McCauslin each rapped a pair of hits for the Eagles.

Bermudian (3-2-1) opens its Adams County League season at New Oxford on Tuesday.

Shenandoah Meet Opens Saturday

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. — Shenandoah Downs has eliminated the "also eligible" list from its entries, a move designed primarily to assist trainers but which will prove useful to race fans.

General Manager Robert G. Leavitt has announced. Beginning with Saturday's opening card of the 31-ninth spring meeting, only 10 horses will be drawn into a race, cutting out the four also eligibles that have been selected in previous years to fill in case of scratches among the top 10.

Shenandoah Downs is the first track in the mid-Atlantic racing community to adopt the shorter fields.

Shenandoah Downs will race through May 18, with post time at 7:15 nightly.

BOLTS STAY UNDEFEATED

Littlestown High School's undefeated baseball team ran its winning streak to four by lacing Spring Grove 10-1 at Littlestown Thursday afternoon.

Fred Snyder and Louis Orndorff combined to permit the Rockets to beat two hits. Meanwhile the Bolts smashed nine off three Spring Grove hurlers with the key blows being a double by Snyder with the bases loaded and a single by Eddie Koonitz with the bases jammed.

HAWKS CLINCH TITLE IN WEST

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Coach Fred Schaus says his Los Angeles Lakers can and will beat the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Association's championship series starting Sunday afternoon in Boston.

The Lakers swept by the St. Louis Hawks Thursday night 115-100 to win Western Division final playoff 4-3. Los Angeles out-rebounded the Hawks 67-39 and out-scored them in every period.

TITLE PLAY IN BADMINTON

BALTIMORE (AP)—The U.S. Open badminton championships are underway but Pennsylvanians are off to a poor start.

In activity Thursday, Howard Eisler, Harrisburg, and Harold Miller, Lebanon, defeated Ted Jarrett, St. Louis, and John Colangelo, Long Island, N.Y., 15-6, 15-6, in the first round of the men's doubles.

But Eisler and Miller were defeated in the second round 15-6, 15-5 by Jim Poole, El Cason, Calif., and Terry Sonnevill, Ver-shooten, The Netherlands.

In the same event, John Cornell and Sukda Satayathum, both of Philadelphia, defeated Dick Root and Jim Lynch, both of Buffalo, N.Y., 15-6, 15-4, in the first round but were beaten 15-7, 15-10 in the second round by Richard Ball, Towson, Md., and Robert Carpenter, Madison, N.J.

In the first round men's doubles Harvey Snavely, Lebanon, and Hal Webb, Glyndon, Md., were beaten by Bob Gammons, Terrace Park, Ohio, and Phil Hinkle, Cincinnati, 5-15, 15-10, 15-3. Scott Garman, Little, Iowa, and Pasadena, Texas, lost 15-1, 15-3, to Noel Rehm, Orange, Conn., and Y. Komiyu, Nagoya, Japan.

In the second round of the men's senior doubles, Bill Parsons and Tom Parsons, of Altoona, defeated Harold Seavey, Farmington, Mass., and Jack Cooper, Warwick, R.I., 15-5, 15-8. But Snavely and Webb were defeated by Larry Calvert, Pacific Palisades, Calif., and David Trader, Granada Hills, Calif., 15-4, 15-3.

Eisler and Val Fort, of Plainfield, N.J., lost 15-2, 15-3 to Paul Loharman, Bangkok, Thailand, and Doris Martin, San Diego, Calif., in the third round of the mixed doubles.

BIGLER TOPS FAIRFIELD 9

Biglerville High defeated Fairfield 11-4 Thursday afternoon at Fairfield in a game called after six innings of play.

The Cannons, notching their second victory against one loss and a tie, scored in all but the fifth inning. Fairfield came up with four tallies in the last of the sixth to avert a shutout. It was the Knights' second loss, both at the hands of Fairfield.

Biglerville opens its Blue Mountain League schedule at Northern on Tuesday while Fairfield will play at Thurmont the same day.

TAKES LEAD AT GREENSBORO

By KEN ALYTA
GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—A first round Greater Greensboro Open golf tournament lead of one stroke on a five-under-par 66 is not to be sneezed at. But Gary Player, the little battler from South Africa, can't help it.

His sneezing and sniffing his way around the Seasidefield Country Club course battling a severe hay fever attack, his first in seven months, while fending off the challenge of a field of 150 rivals.

Gary made it with the help of three pills and five handkerchiefs in Thursday's first round of the 72-hole, $35,000 affair.

His 32-34 round of five birdies and 13 pars put him a stroke ahead of Lionel Hebert, the former PGA champion who has been showing signs of snapping a year-long slump.

"My chipping was fantastic," Player noted. "I missed three greens, but chipped in from 35 feet for a birdie two on the third hole from a difficult position above the hole and almost held two other chips on holes where I made my pars."

With Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus not here, Player is carrying the banner of the "big three" alone.

Bermudian Takes Track Decision

The Bermudian Springs track team chalked up its first victory of the campaign by outclassing New Oxford 70-25 Thursday at New Oxford.

Next Wednesday the Eagles will meet Kennard-Dale at Fawn Grove.

SEVEN WINS EACH

It was incorrectly reported that Shippensburg won eight first places in its track meet with Gettysburg High on Wednesday. Each team took seven firsts. Ron Sherman was missed in the listing of the winners for Gettysburg, having won the 800-yard run.

CEPEDA LEADS GIANTS TO 3RD STRAIGHT WIN

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Two good eyes and a little rest can work wonders.

Witness Orlando Cepeda, a one-eyed disappointment in the World Series but now teamed with Felipe Alou to form a two-man wrecking crew for the San Francisco Giants.

Cepeda rapped out three hits, including a three-run homer, Thursday as the defending National League champions won their third without a loss, 7-1 over the Colts in a night game at Houston.

HELP FOR O'DELL
The burst gave Cepeda nine hits in 14 at-bats. Alou drove in two runs on a double and two singles. He now has eight hits in 12 tries so far.

The Cepeda-Alou combo provided lefty Billy O'Dell with more than enough working room as the Giants completed a sweep of the three-game set. O'Dell stopped the Colts on three hits and an unearned run, striking out six and walking only one.

Milwaukee's Warren Spahn beat the Mets 6-1 on six hits in the Braves' home opener, posting the 328th victory of his career. The Cubs' young Dick Ellsworth three-hit the Dodgers 2-0 at Chicago in the only other National League games scheduled.

HOMER FOR SNIDER
Spahn, who will be 42 later this month, moved into a tie with John Clarkson for eighth place on the all-time list of winners on the strength of his easy triumph over the Mets.

He had trouble only with outfielder Duke Snider who produced the Mets only run—and their first of the season after two straight shutouts—when he hit the 390th homer of his career in the second inning.

Ellsworth, 23, who was a 20-game loser last season, allowed the previously unbeaten Dodgers only six balls out of the infield. Ellsworth, a lefty, struck out five and walked two.

HERB SCORE TO GET CHANCE

LAKE WORTH, Fla. (AP)—Herb Score's retirement from baseball lasted just four days.

The hard-luck left-hander will continue in the game, he said Thursday night, under assurances from the Chicago White Sox that he'll be recalled to the major leagues if he does well in the minors.

"Ed Short, the White Sox general manager, called me several times urging me to reconsider," Score said at the home of his mother here in confirming Al Lopez' announcement in Los Angeles that he would report as scheduled to Indianapolis of the International League.

"Many friends of mine made the same plea. When he assured me that if I do well in Indianapolis the White Sox will recall me, I decided to go back. I didn't want to quit."

Score, 29, had announced his retirement Sunday night after the White Sox had optioned him for the second straight year to Indianapolis.

Score, six years ago one of the top left-handers in baseball, has been struggling to stay in the majors since he was seriously injured by a line drive off the bat of Yankee infielder Gil McDougald in 1957.

Bullets Wing Blue Jays 3-1 With Two Unearned Tallies In 11th Inning

Two unearned runs in the top of the 11th inning enabled the Gettysburg College baseball team to register its second straight win of the season as the Bullets turned back John Hopkins 3-1 Thursday afternoon in Baltimore.

After the Blue Jays knotted the count at 1-1 in the bottom of the ninth, Gettysburg had to fight back hard to beat the 6 p.m. curfew. Gettysburg loaded the bases in the 11th on walks to Pete Wojynec and Paul Kolkemer and Jim Riccobono got on via an infield miscue. A passed ball allowed Wojynec to score and advance the runners. Moments later Ron Koachis threw wild and Riccobono came romping over the plate.

The Bullets took a 1-0 lead in the fourth frame. With one out Ken Snyder lashed a single to left and stole second before Ted Koerner grounded out. With two outs, Al Hallam was sent in to run for Snyder, according to MAC rules. Ed Curtis then poked a line single to left-center, driving in Hallam.

Coach Ross Sachs, a former Bullet athlete, got his Jays rolling in the eighth when they loaded the bases but were unable to score. In the ninth they knotted the count. Dennis Donnelly singled to right, went to second on a wild pitch and continued to third on an infield miscue. Jim McIntyre then beat out an infield single with two outs allowing Donnelly to come home.

BULLETS INJURED

The Bullets have been finding the going a little rougher with a couple of key injuries. Dick Taylor, third sacker, is suffering from a shoulder injury and has not played in the last two games. Shortstop Bill Jacobsen injured his right ankle against Albright Tuesday and was unable to make the Baltimore trip.

Iron man Ted Koerner went the distance on the mound against the Blue Jays and turned in his best performance of the young season. Koerner fanned 17 batters, walked but five and gave up six scattered hits. The win marked his first compared to two setbacks. Frank Soriano started for

MORE TROUBLE FOR DODGERS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The discussion that some thought cost the Dodgers the National League pennant in the closing weeks last season has flared anew on the team favored to win this year.

Buzzie Bavasi, general manager, disclosed the situation Thursday. He said some of the players had been popping off about the way field manager Walter Alston ran the club. Alston was similarly criticized after the Giants had beaten the Dodgers in their play-off for the NL flag last year.

Bavasi said he had called a closed conference just before the Dodgers opened the season in Chicago last Tuesday and told the players they would have to give out 100 per cent for Alston.

The Dodgers won two of their three games with the Cubs. Tonight they open a three-game series at Houston.

Bavasi said the group criticizing Alston consisted of players who weren't being used in the spring games, and who did not have a good season in 1962. He would not identify them by name but he said none of the top stars was involved.

FIRST DIVISION FEVER GRIPS PHILLY CLUB

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The 1963 baseball season for the Philadelphia Phillies is just two games old, but some members of the team are already caught up with first-division fever.

The Phillies won the first two games, both over Cincinnati. Wes Covington, who was on two pennant winners at Milwaukee and should know about such things, said Thursday the spirit of the team is good.

"I think the attitude we have on this club right now couldn't be better," said Covington, adding, "We won't beat ourselves."

"There's no guy on this club now that doesn't think we can win, even with our uncertain pitching. It's a team attitude, and we're all thinking of the little things we can do to help each other and help us win games. It's no longer a bunch of individuals the way it was when I came here."

Covington said he's not predicting a pennant for the Phillies—just yet anyway—but declared: "The other clubs have to beat us. We won't beat ourselves any more."

Manager Gene Mauch, in recognition of the fact the Phillies won their first two games in eight years, gave the team a day off Thursday.

ORIOLES BEAT YANKS WHILE SENATORS WIN

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tom Cheney, a poor man's Sandy Koufax, may have been handed the key to the strikeout storehouse when the strike zone was enlarged.

The fireballing right-hander in his first start allowed only one hit—an infield single—and struck out 10 while Don Leppert provided support with three consecutive homers in Washington's 8-0 victory over Boston Thursday night.

Cheney could be the American League's answer to Dodger Koufax now that the strike zone has a few extra inches.

NEW YORK HELPS

"Tom's fast ball rises," says Manager Mickey Vernon, "and he'll be getting a lot of strikes this season that previously just missed the strike zone."

Cheney, 28, 7-9 last year with 147 strikeouts in 173 innings, overpowered the Red Sox, allowing only two base runners. Ed Bressoud beat out the only hit to deep short in the fourth inning and Bob Tillman drew a walk in the sixth.

It was a pitcher's day all around. Don Mossi tossed a two-hitter as Detroit whipped Cleveland 6-1. Milt Pappas allowed only five hits in Baltimore's 4-1 triumph over the New York Yankees and Hoyt Wilhelm protected the Chicago White Sox's 3-1 decision over the Los Angeles Angels with four innings of shutout relief.

Kansas City and Minnesota were not scheduled.

MANTLE GETS HOMER

Mossie had a perfect game for 6-13 innings before Indians' rookie Tony Martinez bounced a single off the glove of Dick McAuliffe. The left-hander lost his shutout in the ninth on an error. Gene Green's pinch single and a force out. The Tigers put it out of reach early, tagging Dick Donovan for four singles in the first inning, including run-scoring hits by Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash.

The lone Yankee run against Pappas came on Mickey Mantle's fourth inning homer that tied the score 1-1. But John (Boog) Powell outdented Mantle in the power department, snapping the tie in the fifth inning with a two-run homer off loser Whitey Ford before hitting a solo shot in the seventh inning that wrapped up the scoring.

Wilhelm, 39, was touched for only two hits after coming on for winner Joel Horlen when the Angels put the first two men on in the sixth. Wilhelm retired the side without damage. Floyd Robinson homered for the White Sox in the fourth, then walked and eventually scored the deciding run in a two-run sixth on a force out. The loser was Bo Belinsky.

EAGLES TAKE
3RD VICTORY

A pair of five-run innings, the second and fourth, sparked Bermudian Springs baseball team to a 13-5 victory over Boiling Springs Thursday at York Springs. The game had originally been scheduled for today.

Grafton Wagner hurled the first six innings for Bermudian and was the winning pitcher. Bill Smyers, a freshman, pitched the final frame and was the victim of weak support which enabled the Bubbler to tally four times.

Dave Bricker and Paul McCauslin each rapped a pair of hits for the Eagles.

Bermudian (3-2-1) opens its Adams County League season at New Oxford on Tuesday.

Above are the members of the Mt. St. Mary's College distance medley relay team which will take part in the Colonial Relays at William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., Saturday. The relays are part of the centennial observance of Williamsburg. Most of the Atlantic Coast and Southern Conference teams will participate. Coach Jim Deegan of the Mount expects his runners to receive their stiffest competition from the University of West Virginia, Virginia Military Institute and Furman.

Shenandoah Meet
Opens Saturday

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. — Shenandoah Downs has eliminated the "also eligible" list from its entries, a move designed primarily to assist trainers but which will prove useful to race fans.

General Manager Robert G. Leavitt has announced. Beginning with Saturday's opening card of the 31-night spring meeting, only 10 horses will be drawn into a race, cutting out the four also eligibles that have been selected in previous years to fill in case of scratches among the top 10.

Shenandoah Downs will race through May 18, with post time at 7:15 nightly.

Shenandoah Downs is the first track in the mid-Atlantic racing community to adopt the shorter fields.

In the same event, John Cornell and Sukda Satayathum, both of Philadelphia, defeated Dick Root and Jim Lynch, both of Buffalo, N.Y., 15-6, 15-4, in the first round but were beaten 15-7, 15-10 in the second round by Richard Ball, Towson, Md. and Robert Carpenter, Madison, N.J.

In the first round men's doubles Harry Snively, Lebanon, and Hal Webb, Glyndon, Md., were beaten by Bob Gammons, Terrace Park, Ohio, and Phil Hinkle, Cincinnati, 5-15, 15-10, 15-3. Scott Garman, Littleton, N.Y., 15-3, Pasadena, Texas, lost 15-1, 15-3 to Noel Fehm, Orange, Conn., and Y. Komiya, Nagoya, Japan.

In the second round of the men's senior doubles, Bill Parsons and Tom Parsons, of Altoona, defeated Harold Seavey, Farmington, Mass., and Jack Cooper, Warwick, R.I., 15-5, 15-8. But Snively and Webb were defeated by Larry Calvert, Pacific Palisades, Calif., and David Trader, Granada Hills, Calif., 15-4, 15-3.

Eisler and Val Fort, of Plainfield, N.J., lost 15-2, 15-3 to Patsian Loaharanu, Bangkok, Thailand, and Doris Martin, San Diego, Calif., in the third round of the mixed doubles.

Biglerville High defeated Fairfield 11-4 Thursday afternoon at Fairfield in a game called after six innings of play.

The Cannons, notching their second victory against one loss and a tie, scored in all but the fifth inning. Fairfield came up with four tallies in the last of the sixth to avert a shutout. It was the Knights' second loss, both at the hands of Fairfield.

Biglerville opens its Blue Mountain League schedule at Northern on Tuesday while Fairfield will play at Thurmont the same day.

Transport Bombers Through
Gettysburg: Traffic around Center Square was stopped briefly at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon for the passage through Gettysburg of six large trucks carrying dismantled army air force bombers.

Two state police cars of the Gettysburg substation escorted the 65-foot-long trucks from the Maryland-Pennsylvania state line.

Borough police said the trucks were from Langley field, Virginia. They went around the east side of the square and out York street. Police said they did not know their destination.

Dr. Baker Opens Office Friday:
Dr. Joseph J. Baker, son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Baker who lived here for many years, announced today he will open offices at 111 Baltimore street on Friday for the general practice of medicine.

Dr. Baker is a graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1940 and of Temple University School of Medicine. Following his internship at the York hospital and a residency in nervous and mental diseases in Massachusetts, he entered the army where he served five months on the staff of the Brooke General hospital, San Antonio, Tex., and her 18 months on the staff of Walter Reed General hospital in Washington, D. C.

He and his wife, the former Mary Pretz, of Gettysburg and their two children recently moved from Washington and have taken up residence along Marsh creek, near the Fairfield road.

Dr. Baker was appointed to serve as medical director for Gettysburg college, which position he will assume in June.

Methodists To Buy New Organ:
Purchase of a new organ for the local Methodist Church was authorized Wednesday evening at a meeting of the official board held following the regular mid-week service at the church.

The Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania, with which the Adams County Medical society is affiliated, will be one hundred years old on Sunday.

On April 11, 1848, sixty-one physicians representing the medical colleges and twelve county medical societies of the state, met in the Methodist Episcopal Church, Lancaster, and founded the state medical society.

The Adams County Medical society is more than fifty years old. It was organized in the 1890s, went out of existence for a time and then was re-organized in 1904 and has been active ever since.

Progress in medical research in the United States during these one hundred years has made the life span of the average American the longest life occurring in any nation in the world. In 1906 the average person in the United States could expect to reach the age of 40 years. A child born today can plan on reaching the age of 67. Eighteen years added to life since 1906 is no mean achievement. Since 1906 the population in the United States has increased 7 per cent, but the number of people over 65 years of age in our country has increased 33 per cent.

High School Seniors On Washington Trip: Four chartered buses, carrying members of the senior class of Gettysburg high school, left at 7 o'clock this morning for Washington. They will be in Washington today and Tuesday, returning to Gettysburg Tuesday night. The girls will stay at the New Colonial hotel and the boys at the Hotel Martinique.

Teachers accompanying the seniors are Elmer H. Schriver, Jack Cessna, Mrs. Philip Bower and Miss Ruth McIlhenny.

Today's Talk
IN THE END

I picked up a book many years ago entitled "The Wisdom of the Chinese." I read it with a great deal of pleasure and profit and have referred to it many times since.

The book contains many wonderfully beautiful sayings of those old Chinese teachers who charmed and inspired. Here is one. "Leave all things to take their natural course and do not interfere."

In the end, all things right themselves of their own accord. But when folks interfere it sometimes takes twice as long — and sometimes they are not righted until the ones most affected have left the stage.

The same wise man, whose name was Lao Tzu, wrote this: "Who is there who can make muddy water clear? But if allowed to remain still, it will become clear of itself."

When I see a man in a hurry to make money or to get some particular task finished, only to get into a new task and as hurriedly to pursue its end, I am reminded of the foolishness of all haste and of worrying over things that are bound to pursue their natural course anyway.

How many times we come to the end of our day and review the instances of rash actions and unworthy movements, only to laugh at ourselves and realize the futility of it all.

Somewhat or other I have always had great respect for the quiet men or women, who think much more than they ever express — so that when they do say something, they have given out thought in the shape of real food for the world to grow strong by.

In the end, my friend, you are not going to find that your troubles were very real.

And in the end, you are bound to learn that you have missed much that is ready this minute to take you in charge — if you will only drop a few useless pieces of baggage and trot with lighter equipment.

In the end — but there really is no end to the big mind or heart!

LETTER FROM HOME

This is what is told:
Not so much to tell!
"Baby good as gold,
Everybody well!
Saturday we'll go
Out to see the game,
Thought you'd like to know
Guests for dinner came."

This is what it did:
Ended all the doubt
Which we bravely hid;
Put all dread to rout;
Tears about to start
Stopped ere they could flow;
Sent us light of heart
Off to see a show!

Sharpened appetites:
From worry set up free.
Made lovelier the sights
We'd traveled there to see,
"All well at home!" it said,
And joy was ours to claim,
For as the news we read
"All well with us became."

Today In Washington
WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:
LAOS: Some U.S. ground forces will be sent to Thailand in June to take part in Southeast Asia Treaty Organization military maneuvers, U.S. officials disclosed today.

The operation by the eight-nation defense pact was scheduled before the current Laotian crisis and has no connection with it, officials said.

But it was acknowledged that the show of force probably would be linked to the clash between neutralist and pro-Communist forces now threatening the government of neutralist Prime Minister Souvanna Phouma.

CANNON: Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., has observed his 84th birthday anniversary by urging his House colleagues to be economy-minded.

With the national debt at a record high and record appropriations begins sought, Cannon said Thursday, Congress must hold appropriations "to the very lowest level, the very lowest consistent minimum."

That, he said, means no new programs should be launched.

W. A. Hanson, college campus, and Dr. and Mrs. Frank H. Kramer, West Broadway, spent Sunday in Easton, Md., where Dr. Hanson preached at the regular Sunday service in the Lutheran church of which his son, the Rev. T. Painter Hanson, is pastor.

Dr. Hanson also baptized his grandson, T. Painter Hanson Jr., at a service held at the church with Dr. and Mrs. Kramer as godfather and godmother. The Rev. T. Painter Hanson had been best man for Dr. Kramer at the time of his marriage and he in turn served as best man when the Rev. Mr. Hanson was married.

ONE THRESHER VICTIM NEAR RETIREMENT

WILMINGTON Del. (AP)—The mother of a seaman lost when the nuclear submarine Thresher sank said her son transferred to that ship for an underwater tour before his retirement.

"He was to retire on June 3 and we were looking forward to seeing him," said Mrs. William A. Adelman, of Holy Oak, Del. She said she did not immediately know her son, Chief Electrician Mate James Glen Peters, 38, was aboard the craft when it sank.

The mother said she listened to radio reports of the missing ship Wednesday night and "was feeling so sorry for all those other people."

She added, "Then Jim's wife called and told me he had transferred to the Thresher."

Peters, 38, the father of three sons, was completing 20 years of naval duty, began when he enlisted at Chester, Pa.

The Navy listed his father as William Henry Peters of Essington, Pa.

The mother said Peters had planned to settle with his wife, the former Dorothy Louise Fulmer of Collingdale, Pa., in her home town after he retired.

"He's had lots of sea duty," said Mrs. Adelman. "It was his life."

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Labor and Industry Department reports new claims for unemployment compensation rose in Pennsylvania last week, while continued claims dropped to their lowest level of 1963.

Department Secretary William P. Young said the number of new claims jumped from 24,626 the previous week to 32,115 last week. Continued claims last week totaled 194,063, compared with 205,156 the previous week. Total claims dropped to 226,178.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Deputy Highways Secretary Carl W. Wild, a holdover from the Lawrence administration, is facing federal charges that he forced state employees to contribute to the Democratic party campaign last year.

Wild was cited in a report sent to Gov. Scranton and state Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandrini by the U.S. Civil Service Commission.

The highway official is accused of violating the federal Hatch Act which bans political activities by civil service employees.

Wild himself is not on civil service. The commission charged, however, that he advised employees of his Bureau of Planning and Programming to buy tickets for the Democratic $100-a-plate dinner last Sept. 20 when President Kennedy appeared as the speaker.

The federal government is involved through its program of aid to states for building of primary roads and interstate expressways.

Alessandrini asked Wild to submit an answer to the charges. In the meantime, he remained on the payroll with full status.

"I have met with Mr. Wild and he is preparing a factual reply to the charges and will submit them to me," Alessandrini said. Wild declined comment.

He joined the department in 1957 and was named a deputy secretary the following year. He was reappointed to the job at the inauguration of Gov. Scranton.

Winning Mother Forfeits Stamps

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Mothers Committee, which annually chooses the Mother of the Year, held a home canning recipe contest and offered the winner 500,000 trading stamps (Plaid), good for a round-trip to Hawaii or a mink stole.

The winner, Mrs. Dorothy L. Simon of Buffalo, N. Y., who won with a recipe for dietetic chili sauce, passed up the glamorous awards and chose kitchen and household items instead.

Negroes Challenge Church Fellowship

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Protestantism increasingly is being challenged by Negro religious groups like the Black Muslims, says the Rev. Lyle E. Schaller, director of a regional church planning office.

Writing in "Christian Advocate," a national Methodist pastors' magazine, he says: "The churches must accept Negroes not only into membership, but also into fellowship."

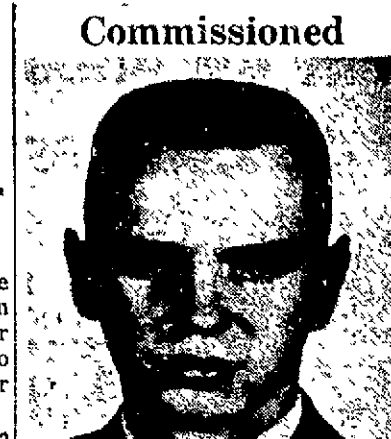

HARRISBURG (AP) — E. William Linderberg of Camp Hill is the new director of public information for the Department of Revenue.

Linderberg, formerly of Bucks County, was named to the $10,400-a-year post Thursday by Revenue Secretary Theodore B. Smith Jr.

Pilate Attempted To Save Jesus From Crucifixion

Then Pilate therefore took Jesus, and scourged him.

And the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple robe.

And said, Hail, King of the Jews, and they smote him with their hands.

Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I find no fault in him.

Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pilate saith unto them, Behold the man!

When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him and crucify him: for I find no fault in him.

The Jews answered him, We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God.

PILATE AFRAID

When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid;

And went again into the judgment hall, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? But Jesus gave him no answer.

Then saith Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee?

Jesus answered, Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin.

And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Caesar's friend: whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Caesar.

When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he brought Jesus forth, and sat down in the judgment seat in a place that is called the Pavement, but in the Hebrew, Gabbatha.

And it was the preparation of the passover, and about the sixth hour: and he saith unto the Jews, Behold your King!

DENY KING

But they cried out, Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, We have no king but Caesar.

Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified. And they took Jesus, and led him away.

And he bearing his cross went forth into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in the Hebrew Golgotha:

Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst.

And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the cross. And the writing was, JESUS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS.

This title then read many of the Jews: for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, and Greek, and Latin.

Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews; but, King of the Jews and King of the Hebrews.

Pilate answered, What I have written I have written.

DIVIDE GARMENTS

Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also his coat: now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout.

They said therefore among themselves, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore the soldiers did.

Now there stood by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.

When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Woman, behold thy son!

Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother! And from that hour that disciple took her unto his own home.

After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst.

GIVEN VINEGAR

Now there was set a vessel full of vinegar: and they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it upon hyssop, and put it to his mouth.

When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished: and he bowed his head, and gave up the ghost.

The Jews therefore, because it was the preparation, that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the sabbath day, (for that sabbath day was an high day,) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.

Then came the soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.

But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs: But one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came there out blood and water.

And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe.

For these things were done, that the scripture should be fulfilled.

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has confirmed publicly a promise he made four months ago to leaders of his Christian Democratic party — that he will retire from office this fall.

The statesman, 87, said in a television interview at the Italian resort of Cadenabla that he will step down in October or November from the post he has held for nearly 14 years.

MOSCOW (AP) — A Moscow audience that included many Jews cheered and wept Wednesday night when an Italian theater troupe put on "The Diary of Anne Frank."

The play is based on the diary of the young Dutch girl who hid for months with other Jews during World War II. She left her diary behind when she was taken to a Nazi concentration camp where she died.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Chinese Communists turned over 144 Indian prisoners of war to the Indian Red Cross Wednesday at Batating, in the eastern Himalayas. The Indian government said between 30 and 40 were unable to walk.

OTTAWA (AP) — A very mild heart attack has forced Canada's governor-general, Gen. George P. Vanier, 74, to cancel official engagements for the next six weeks.

filled, A bone of him shall not be broken.

TAKES BODY

And after this Joseph of Arimathea, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jews, besought Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took the body of Jesus.

And there came also Nicodemus, which at the first came to Jesus by night, and brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about an hundred pound weight.

Then took they the body of Jesus, and wound it in linen clothes with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury.

Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was never man yet laid.

There laid they Jesus therefore because of the Jews' preparation day; for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

Justice Sued For Divorce

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Mercedes E. Douglas said today she will seek a divorce this summer from Associate Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court.

Mrs. Douglas, in a statement issued by her attorney, Joseph L. Rau Jr., said she was confirming published reports of the divorce. The statement added:

"Both the Justice and Mrs. Douglas are residents of the State of Washington and Mrs. Douglas will seek her divorce there when she goes to her ranch in Glenwood, Wash., this summer."

It was the second marriage for both Douglas and Mrs. Douglas. She is the former wife of G. Girard Davidson, now a Portland, Ore., attorney and a former assistant secretary of the interior. Mrs. Douglas has a son and a daughter by her first marriage. She married Douglas in December, 1954.

Douglas was divorced by his first wife July 21, 1953. He has a son and a daughter by his first marriage.

Road Shacks Burned; Jail 3

HARRISBURG (AP) — A dispute between the state Highways Department and a union representing highway maintenance workers appeared near an end today.

In the aftermath, however, 700 maintenance employees were without jobs and three were in jail charged with setting fire to highway maintenance shacks in Beaver County.

An unofficial agreement was reached here Wednesday between officials of the Highways Department and leaders of the Pennsylvania State Employees Council, AFL-CIO, which claims to represent about 60 per cent of the maintenance force consisting of some 9,000 workers.

A department spokesman said the agreement was reached at a conference attended by acting Highways Secretary Wilbur C. Webb, deputy secretary Lester Burlein, and Tony Fiorello, executive director of the employees' council.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:
LAOS: Some U.S. ground forces will be sent to Thailand in June to take part in Southeast Asia Treaty Organization military maneuvers, U.S. officials disclosed today.

The operation by the eight-nation defense pact was scheduled before the current Laotian crisis and has no connection with it, officials said.

But it was acknowledged that the show of force probably would be linked to the clash between neutralist and pro-Communist forces now threatening the government of neutralist Prime Minister Souvanna Phouma.

CANNON: Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., has observed his 84th birthday anniversary by urging his House colleagues to be economy-minded.

With the national debt at a record high and record appropriations begins sought, Cannon said Thursday, Congress must hold appropriations "to the very lowest level, the very lowest consistent minimum."

That, he said, means no new programs should be launched.

W. A. Hanson, college campus, and Dr. and Mrs. Frank H. Kramer, West Broadway, spent Sunday in Easton, Md., where Dr. Hanson preached at the regular Sunday service in the Lutheran church of which his son, the Rev. T. Painter Hanson, is pastor.

Sermon For The Week

By REV. E. W. CODDINGTON

Pastor First Baptist Church
FAITHLESS LOVE FORSAKING ITS LORD

Text . . . "And they all forsook Him and fled." Mark 14:50. It was indeed a cowardly thing to do. It ought to have been otherwise. They love Him and they had sworn fidelity unto death. They believed in His Messiahship and they looked forward with keen anticipation to His triumphant reign. It was a cloudless day and a sun-kissed sky. For three years it had been this way, but now they were living in the shadow. He had told them He was going to Jerusalem to die, and the fatal Passion week was drawing nigh. The sun was no longer shining, and the clouds, dark and grim, hurried each other across the sky.

Had they given themselves to prayer instead of sleep they might have been nerved for the storm that burst upon them. But when Judas came and stung him Lord with a traitor's kiss and the brutal mob surged about them their courage failed. For this they had not bargained.

TRIAL OF FAITH
It was easy enough, in fact, it was a joy to follow Christ when the skies were bright; but with persecution and adversity and defeat, and the disappointment of it all, there came a trial of their faith and their constancy greater than they could bear. They should have been faithful knowing Him, as they did, but their hearts trembled, and their faith faltered, and they fell back, forsook Him and fled.

How well have you known the Lord? Alas, for far too many, Christ is a mere fair weather friend. In cloudy weather, just when you needed Him the most, disappointed and discouraged and perhaps embittered because of the clouds, you gave up your faith and, just as in His day, "many of his disciples went back and walked no more with Him," as we are told in the Gospel of John. So you, when the time of testing came, "forsook Him and fled."

How well have you known the Lord, the Christ of our redemption song, the Christ of the road that shines unto the gates of glory, the Christ Who says, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Ah, my friend, yours has been a meager acquaintance indeed, if you have not known Him enough to feel His presence in the dark and, "through the clouded glass of your own bitter tears, have not learned to look undazzled on the kindness of His face."

"WALK DARK ALONE"
Have you never thought that misfortune may have a ministry, or be in some way a blessing in disguise? Perhaps your impatience in its presence has not permitted you thus to reflect. The thought that disappointment may be His appointment you have not stopped to consider, and thus the deep waters and the painful experience through which you have been called to go have been too much for the faith and the loyalty that once were yours and, instead of allowing the Great Burden Bearer to help you with your load embittered, you have turned away to walk in the dark alone, when you might be walking in the light with Him. And thus it is alas so often we follow Him when the sun shines, and forget Him when the storm comes.

Beloved friend, we find Him more than willing to resume a friendship that has been broken by neglect. May God help us all to maintain a vital contact with our God and His Christ through daily Bible reading and prayer.

SUNRISE IN HOLLYWOOD

This is the city where pretense is a profession . . . where emotion is an art. This is Hollywood's famous Bowl at sunrise on Easter morning.

Thousands raising their hearts and prayers to the Lord of Reality . . . of Truth!

Don't be deluded by the artificiality which sometimes claims the center of life's stage. There is a hunger in the souls of men which our air of well-being cannot hide. There is frustration, futility, despair—and man's calculated unconcern cannot disguise it.

To our churches—to worship, hymn and prayer—we turn when we tire of dreaming and pretending. Can we claim any glory greater than that we are the children of God? Can we own any allegiance bolder than that we are the disciples of Jesus Christ . . . Risen, Victorious?

Easter is the climax of life's drama . . . on which the curtain never falls!

N.Y. VOTE BIG INFLUENCE IN OSCAR AWARDS

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Academy aftermath — What can be judged from this year's Oscar results? From this corner there appear to be three conclusions:

1. Hollywood is ready for a slow-down on the sick picture.
The Academy nominees in recent years seem to comprise a catalogue of human ills. Tennessee Williams was riding high. So many call girls and madams were nominated that the awards seemed accompanied by a fanfare of strumpets.

Nominees for 1962 produced more of the same—three Tennessee characters from "Sweet Bird of Youth," a couple of lushes out of "Days of Wine and Roses," a whimsical wife-murderer, a dope-addicted mother, another addicted to murder and treason, etc.

PECK ROLE
Gregory Peck demonstrated in "To Kill a Mockingbird" how a right-minded lawyer could stand up against the bigotry of a small town.

Anne Bancroft and Patty Duke in "The Miracle Worker" showed how a teacher's stubborn will could bring light to the mind of a girl born to darkness.

2. The New York bloc has become the most significant element in Academy voting.

The Academy is secretive about voting results, except for the bare announcement of the winners. It has resisted all efforts to learn the size of the vote (it is rumored to be far less than the 2,300 membership), the totals of each con-

Hospital Board Asked To Resign

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — The Board of Managers of Chester Hospital has been charged with abdicating its moral and legal responsibility in the operation of the hospital and asked to resign immediately.

The accusation came Thursday from the Delaware County AFL-CIO in a letter to the Mayor's Hospital Committee which is seeking to find a solution to threatening closing of the hospital June 1 for lack of money.

The AFL-CIO suggested the committee give consideration to transforming the hospital into an industrial hospital for the area to receive workmen's compensation cases.

tender, etc. So the nature of the electorate can only be surmised.

NEW YORK INFLUENCE

The 'results in recent years would indicate that the voters who live in New York—and there is believed to be a sizable group—exercise an influence beyond their numbers.

3. Academy Awards are getting impossible to predict.

None of the so-called experts was able to score much more than 500 in their predictions. How come?

Perhaps the Academy membership has become too big and varied to spot any trend; the voters have doubled in number in the past few years.

Perhaps screen acting has so improved as to make it hard to select one supreme performance.

N.Y. VOTE BIG INFLUENCE IN OSCAR AWARDS

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Academy aftermath—What can be judged from this year's Oscar results? From this corner there appear to be three conclusions:

1. Hollywood is ready for a slow-down on the sick picture.
2. The Academy nominees in recent years seem to comprise a catalogue of human ills, Tennessee Williams was riding high. So many call girls and madams were nominated that the awards seemed accompanied by a fanfare of strumpets.
3. Nominees for 1962 produced more of the same—three Tennessee characters from "Sweet Bird of Youth," a couple of lushes out of "Days of Wine and Roses," a whimsical wife-murderer, a dope-addicted mother, another addicted to murder and treason, etc.

PECK ROLE

Gregory Peck demonstrated in "To Kill a Mockingbird" how a right-minded lawyer could stand up against the bigotry of a small town.

Anne Bancroft and Patty Duke in "The Miracle Worker" showed how a teacher's stubborn will could bring light to the mind of a girl born to darkness.

2. The New York bloc has become the most significant element in Academy voting.

The Academy is secretive about voting results, except for the bare announcement of the winners. It has resisted all efforts to learn the size of the vote (it is rumored to be far less than the 2,300 membership), the totals of each con-

Hospital Board Asked To Resign

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—The Board of Managers of Chester Hospital has been charged with abdication of its moral and legal responsibility in the operation of the hospital and asked to resign immediately.

The accusation came Thursday from the Delaware County AFL-CIO in a letter to the Mayor's Hospital Committee which is seeking to find a solution to threatened closing of the hospital June 1 for lack of money.

The AFL-CIO suggested the committee give consideration to transforming the hospital into an industrial hospital for the area to receive workmen's compensation cases.

tender, etc. So the nature of the electorate can only be surmised.

NEW YORK INFLUENCE

The results in recent years would indicate that the voters who live in New York—and there is believed to be a sizable group—exercise an influence beyond their numbers.

3. Academy Awards are getting impossible to predict.

None of the so-called experts was able to score much more than 500 in their predictions. How come?

Perhaps the Academy membership has become too big and varied to spot any trend; the voters have doubled in number in the past few years.

Perhaps screen acting has so improved as to make it hard to select one supreme performance.

phant reign. It was a cloudless day and a sun-kissed sky.

For three years it had been this way, but now they were living in the shadow. He had told them: He was going to Jerusalem to die, and the fatal Passion week was drawing nigh. The sun was no longer shining, and the clouds, dark and grim, hurried each other across the sky.

Had they given themselves to prayer instead of sleep they might have been nerved for the storm that burst upon them. But when Judas came and stung his Lord with a traitor's kiss and the brutal mob surged about them their courage failed. For this they had not bargained.

TRIAL OF FAITH

It was easy enough, in fact, it

was a joy to follow Christ when the skies were bright, but with persecution and adversity and defeat, and the disappointment of it all, there came a trial of their faith and their constancy greater than they could bear. They should have been faithful knowing Him, as they did, but their hearts trembled, and their faith faltered, and they fell back, forsook Him and fled.

How well have you known the Lord? Alas, for far too many, Christ is a mere fair weather friend. In cloudy weather, just when you needed Him the most, disappointed and discouraged and perhaps embittered because of the clouds, you gave up your faith and, just as in His day,

"many of his disciples went back and walked no more with Him," as we are told in the Gospel of John. So you, when the time of testing came, "forsook Him and fled."

"WALK DARK ALONE"

Have you never thought that misfortune may have a ministry, or be in some way a blessing in disguise? Perhaps your impatience in its presence has not permitted you thus to reflect. The thought that disappointment may be His appointment you have not stopped to consider, and thus the deep waters and the painful experience through which you have been called to go have been too much for the faith and the loyalty that once were yours and, instead of allowing the Great Burden Bearer to help you with your load embittered, you have turned away to walk in the dark alone, when you might be walking in the light with Him. And thus it is alas so often we follow Him when the sun shines, and forget Him when the storm comes.

How well have you known the Lord, the Christ of our redemption song, the Christ of the road that shines unto the gates of glory, the Christ Who says, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Ah, my friend, yours has been a meager acquaintance indeed, if you have not known Him enough to feel His presence in the dark and, "through the clouded glass of your own bitter tears, have not learned to look undazzled on the kindness of His face."

"WALK DARK ALONE"

Have you never thought that

Have you never thought that

Beloved friend, we find Him more than willing to resume a friendship that has been broken by neglect. May God help us all to maintain a vital contact with our God and His Christ through daily Bible reading and prayer.

SUNRISE IN HOLLYWOOD

This is the city where pretense is a profession . . . where emotion is an art. This is Hollywood's famous Bowl at sunrise on Easter morning.

Thousands raising their hearts and prayers to the Lord of Reality . . . of Truth!

Don't be deluded by the artificiality which sometimes claims the center of life's stage. There is a hunger in the souls of men which our air of well-being cannot hide. There is frustration, futility, despair—and man's calculated unconcern cannot disguise it.

To our churches—to worship, hymn and prayer—we turn when we tire of dreaming and pretending. Can we claim any glory greater than that we are the children of God? Can we own any allegiance bolder than that we are the disciples of Jesus Christ . . . Risen, Victorious?

Easter is the climax of life's drama . . . on which the curtain never falls!

Complete Plans For Easter Egg Hunt

An Easter egg hunt for the younger children of the community will be sponsored by Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, and plans for the event were finalized at the semi-monthly meeting of the Legionnaires held Thursday evening at the post home, E. King St.

The egg hunt will be held Easter Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the grounds in the rear of the post home. The children will hunt in two age groups, 1-5 and 5-8. There will be prize eggs. In case of rain on Sunday, the hunt will be held at 6 p.m. on Monday, or the first fair evening thereafter. Arrangements are in charge of James W. Fager and Robert W. Gouker.

Commander Roy D. Renner presided for the informal session. Reports were given by Earl L. Sites, finance officer and acting adjutant. One new member, Joyce S. Huggens, was enrolled. There was a discussion on building an outdoor storage house for the lawn mower, and Charles A. Hufe, local contractor, will be contacted regarding this matter. The post will meet again on Thursday, April 25, 8 p.m.

SACRED MUSIC CONCERT GIVEN

A program of sacred music was presented in St. John's Lutheran Church on Wednesday evening. A large congregation was in attendance.

The musical opened with the organ prelude by Mrs. Jay D. Basehoar, followed with a hymn. The pastor, the Rev. William C. Karns, read the scripture lesson, the history of passion. A solo, "He Was Alone," was sung by Glenn E. Unger. The Senior Choir anthems were "In the Garden" and "O Saviour of the World."

Pastor Karns gave the communion meditation on the subject "Washing the Disciple's Feet," followed with the offering and prayer. The anthem by the Junior Choir was "God So Loved the World." The Brotherhood quartet, composed of Edgar E. Yealy, Glenn E. Unger, Albert M. Starner and Ronald W. Streivig, sang "Calvary" and "Shall I Crucify Him?"

The concluding part of the program consisted of an anthem, "My Saviour Went to Calvary," by the Senior Choir; congregational hymn; benediction, Pastor Karns; silent prayer and organ prelude.

The altar flowers were placed in memory of Mrs. U. Ray Study by the family.

Pictures of Leonardo da Vinci's Last Supper were distributed to the members of the congregation. In keeping with the Lenten study of the character of each of the 12 disciples, a thumbnail sketch was given in the evening's bulletin.

Following the service, the Rev. Mr. Karns baptized Timothy Preston Clouser, son of David Preston Jr. and Dolly French (Childress) Clouser, Hanover. The parents were the baptismal sponsors. The child was born January 28, 1963, in Hagerstown.

Class Votes $250 For S.S. Curtains

The Ever Willing Class of St. John's Lutheran Church met on Tuesday evening at the church, at which time a contribution of $250 was voted for curtains in the Primary Department of the Sunday School. Mrs. Gladys Eyley, vice president, was in charge of the business and heard reports from Mrs. Bernice Yealy, secretary, and Mrs. Ruth Anna Starner, treasurer.

The devotional consisted of group hymns, accompanied by Mrs. Yealy; Scripture, Mrs. Frances Duttera; prayer, Mrs. Viola Badders, class teacher; reading, Mrs. Starner. During the social hour, contest prizes were won by Mrs. Badders, Mrs. Mary Ellen Bortner, Mrs. Myrtle Leister and Mrs. Hope King. Refreshments were served by the April hostess, Mrs. Betty Baumgardner.

The class will attend the mother and daughter banquet, which will be served by the Men's Brotherhood on Monday, May 13, in the church social hall. The program will be in charge of the Christian Homemakers Class. The next regular meeting of the Ever Willing class will be held on June 11, at 7:30 p.m. at the church. The June hostess will be Mrs. Mary Beamer.

Fire Arms Safety Report Is Given

Vice President Kenneth Shanbrook presided at the April meeting of the Littlestown Fish and Game Association, Inc., held at the clubhouse, near town, on Wednesday evening. It was decided to have a member of the Pennsylvania Game Commission inspect the property and recommend ways of increasing the game there. Secretary G. Richard Knipple and Treasurer Kenneth Bortner gave their reports.

W. E. Stites reported on a meeting of fire arms safety which he attended on Saturday at Lincoln Logs. This same course is offered by the National Rifle Association and it is hoped to be available for 11 and 12-year-old boys. Attending the course along with Mr. Stites were President Paul L. Hollinger, Harold Cool and Robert Nester.

It was announced that membership dues are now payable to the financial secretary, C. Moss Morehead Jr. R. J. Stonesifer, chairman for the 27th annual banquet held in March, thanked all those who helped in any way to make the affair a success. Robert Gladhill and Rodney Harner erected an association direction sign along the Littlestown-Taneytown Rd.

The sportsmen will meet again on Wednesday, May 8, 8 p.m., when refreshments will be served by Fred W. King, Noah M. Streivig and Richard A. Little Jr.

AUXILIARY TO MEET

Plans will be advanced for the summer activities at the monthly meeting of the Kingsdale Fire Company Auxiliary in the engine house, along the Littlestown-Taneytown Rd., on Monday, 8 p.m. The hostesses will be Mrs. Walter F. Crouse and Mrs. Paul E. King.

Pay And Red Tape Are Big Medical Issues For Italy's Ailing Doctors

By GERALD MILLER

ROME (AP)—Something is ailing Italy's medical profession. The doctors diagnose it as a serious case of insufficient pay.

The symptoms have been growing for months. One day a man in white parade through city streets with protest placards. Another day nurses and technicians walk off the job at state hospitals.

Last week the nation's 83,000 doctors staged a nationwide 24-hour strike. They turned patients away from their doors and refused to provide hospitals and clinics anything but emergency service.

PARTIAL BOYCOTT

The next day they began a partial boycott of the detailed paperwork required by Italy's various medical insurance programs. They refused to fill out anything more than such bare essentials as patients names and prescriptions.

Then, declaring that even these measures hadn't worked, the National Federation of Medical Associations ordered a complete break with the nation's state-run medical insurance agencies starting next Tuesday. But more than half the doctors—45,000 of them—decided to start their complete break last Wednesday.

Until they get satisfaction, said the federation, doctors will defy agency rules and pay-rates and go their own way, charging patients directly instead of waiting for the agencies to pay. The patients will have to worry about getting their money back from the agencies.

Many other issues are involved in the profession's agitation—job security with government hospitals, hours, working conditions and demands for better equipment.

But the big issue has been pay and red tape in the medical insurance program. Doctors want more of the first, less of the second—and now.

Physicians who treat patients under the programs average 300 lire (48 cents) for a routine office call and 600 lire (96 cents) for a home visit. Normally patients pay nothing to the doctors, who collect directly from the agencies.

The doctors want the agencies to pay $2.40 and $4.80, and they want a complete streamlining of administrative procedures. For their part the government agencies have scarcely budged. A 20-lire (4-cent) increase was suggested—and rejected by the doctors.

JAIL PALMERO IN ARSON CASE

MERCER, Pa. (AP)—Frank D. Palermo Jr., 29, of Philadelphia was in Mercer County Jail today following his arrest on charges of fleeing Ohio to avoid prosecution in the burning of the Youngstown (Ohio) Club.

Palermo, son of Frank (Blinky) Palermo, one-time boxing manager, was arrested at a bus depot in Erie Wednesday. He was placed in jail in lieu of $50,000, U. S. Commissioner David W. Kettler of Grove City scheduled a preliminary hearing for next Wednesday.

Palermo has been charged with arson in the Youngstown fire last Feb. 2. FBI agents said Palermo also was being sought on charges of unlawfully fleeing from Michigan to Pennsylvania to avoid prosecution on a charge of passing no-account checks.

He was convicted in Philadelphia in 1960 of aiding and abetting the embezzlement of travelers' checks. He was sentenced to two years in jail, fined $500 and ordered to make restitution of $7,100.

The FBI said he also served time in New Jersey on a bad check charge.

Outdoor Life Is Good For 100 Years

PHILIPSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A life outdoors is responsible for 100 years of good health, William A. Carr says.

He has five children, 41 grandchildren, 85 great-grandchildren and 37 great-great-grandchildren.

OPPOSE TAX BOOST

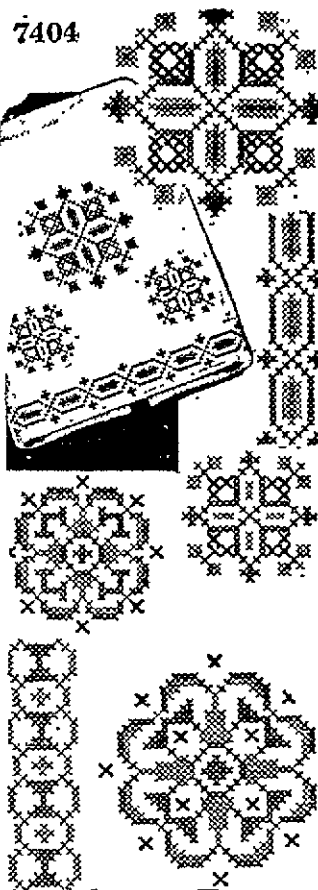

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Allegheny County Labor Council, AFL-CIO, is opposed to the proposed increase in the state sales tax from 4 to 4½ per cent.

The council, representing 146,000 trade unionists, voted unanimously Wednesday night against the increase.

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Thomas J. Wiley, Purdue University freshman football player, said Thursday the Lt. (jg) John J. Wiley among 129 men aboard the missing nuclear submarine Thresher is his brother and a native of Altoona, Pa.

The younger brother was preparing to go to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wiley, Altoona, to be with them while they awaited further word.

LONG LEGAL BATTLE ENDS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Some $63,000 plus interest for six years has been awarded to Local 464 of the American Bakery and Confectionary Workers Union. The money represents dues checked off for members of a Hershey Pa., chocolate workers' local held in escrow in a long legal battle. The money was put in escrow by the Hershey Chocolate Corp. which had checked off the dues from workers' pay checks for eight months while it was uncertain which union represented the men.

The local broke away from its international in 1957, after officials contended the parent body was corrupt.

The ruling was made Thursday by Judge Ethan A. Doty of Common Pleas Court.

Bernard Katz, counsel for the local, said another $25,000 was due in a case involving workers for a subsidiary of the Hershey Corp. who also belonged to Local 464.

Katz said an agreement with counsel of the local's former parent group—Bakery and Confectionary Workers International Union—made the case involving workers for the subsidiary, Hershey Estates, dependent on the chocolate company case.

On Wednesday James G. Gross, former president of the Bakery and Confectionary Workers International, was convicted in Washington of embezzlement and conspiracy to fix a perjury trial.

Asks Protection For Shoemaker

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia police and the FBI were asked Thursday by U.S. Atty. Drew J. T. O'Keefe to protect Frank Rodziewicz, a shoemaker who reported he received threatening letters after photographing a bank robbery.

The photographs taken by the 47-year-old shoemaker last Friday helped identify three alleged bank robbers, two of whom have been apprehended. Most of the more than $10,000 in cash was recovered.

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Thomas J. Wiley, Purdue University freshman football player, said Thursday the Lt. (j.g.) John J. Wiley among 129 men aboard the missing nuclear submarine Thresher is his brother and a native of Altoona, Pa.

The younger brother was preparing to go to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wiley, Altoona, to be with them while they awaited further word.

LONG LEGAL BATTLE ENDS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Some $63,000 plus interest for six years has been awarded to Local 464 of the American Bakery and Confectionary Workers Union. The money represents dues checked off for members of a Hershey Pa., chocolate workers' local held in escrow in a long legal battle.

The money was put in escrow by the Hershey Chocolate Corp., which had checked off the dues from workers' pay checks for eight months while it was uncertain which union represented the men.

The local broke away from its international in 1957, after officials contended the parent body was corrupt.

The ruling was made Thursday by Judge Ethan A. Doty of Common Pleas Court.

Bernard Katz, counsel for the local, said another $25,000 was due in a case involving workers for a subsidiary of the Hershey Corp. who also belonged to Local 464.

Katz said an agreement with counsel of the local's former parent group—Bakery and Confectionary Workers International Union—made the case involving workers for the subsidiary, Hershey Estates, dependent on the chocolate company case.

On Wednesday James G. Gross, former president of the Bakery and Confectionary Workers International, was convicted in Washington of embezzlement and conspiracy to fix a perjury trial.

Asks Protection For Shoemaker

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia police and the FBI were asked Thursday by U. S. Atty. Drew J. T. O'Keefe to protect Frank Rodziewicz, a shoemaker who reported he received threatening letters after photographing a bank robbery.

The photographs taken by the 47-year-old shoemaker last Friday helped identify three alleged bank robbers, two of whom have been apprehended. Most of the more than $10,000 in cash was recovered.

INDIANA, Pa. (AP)—A car killed Robert McCullough, 8, on Route 286 Wednesday shortly after he got off a school bus near his Indiana R. 1 home.

The 85,350-ton, nuclear-powered United States aircraft carrier Enterprise could accommodate the White House and 275 feet of lawn on her flight deck.

Complete Plans For Easter Egg Hunt

An Easter egg hunt for the younger children of the community will be sponsored by Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, and plans for the event were finalized at the semimonthly meeting of the Legionnaires held Thursday evening at the post home, E. King St.

The egg hunt will be held Easter Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock on the grounds in the rear of the post home. The children will hunt in two age groups, 1-5 and 5-8. There will be prize eggs. In case of rain on Sunday, the hunt will be held at 6 p.m. on Monday, or the first fair evening thereafter. Arrangements are in charge of James W. Pagar and Robert W. Gouker.

Commander Roy D. Renner presided for the informal session. Reports were given by Earl L. Stites, finance officer and acting adjutant. One new member, Joyce S. Huggens, was enrolled. There was a discussion on building an outdoor storage house for the lawn mower, and Charles A. Hufe, local contractor, will be contacted regarding this matter. The post will meet again on Thursday, April 25, 8 p.m.

EASTER GUESTS

Ronald Belford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Urban Belford, Charles St., and a Freshman at the University of Detroit, Detroit, is spending the Easter vacation with his parents.

Sheely, Littlestown R. 1, and her mother, Mrs. Grace Rose, S. Queen St. They left recently for California enroute to a Japan tour, where he will serve a three-year tour of duty with the armed forces.

Class Votes $250 For S.S. Curtains

The Ever Willing Class of St. John's Lutheran Church met on Tuesday evening at the church, at which time a contribution of $250 was voted for curtains in the Friday Department of the Sunday School. Mrs. Gladys Eyer, vice president, was in charge of the business and heard reports from Mrs. Bernice Yealy, secretary, and Mrs. Ruth Anna Starnier, treasurer.

The devotional consisted of group hymns, accompanied by Mrs. Yealy; Scripture, Mrs. Frances Duttera; prayer, Mrs. Viola Badders, class teacher; reading, Mrs. Starnier. During the social hour, contest prizes were won by Mrs. Badders, Mrs. Mary Ellen Bortner, Mrs. Myrtle Leister and Mrs. Hope King. Refreshments were served by the April hostess, Mrs. Betty Baumgardner.

The class will attend the mother and daughter banquet, which will be served by the Men's Brotherhood on Monday, May 13, in the church social hall. The program will be in charge of the Christian Homemakers Class. The next regular meeting of the Ever Willing class will be held on June 11, at 7:30 p.m. at the church. The June hostess will be Mrs. Mary Beamer.

HOME FOR EASTER

The following local students at Shippensburg State College are spending the Easter vacation at their respective homes: Clay Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin A. Rebert, Mt. SACRED MUSIC CONCERT GIVEN

A program of sacred music was presented in St. John's Lutheran Church on Wednesday evening. A large congregation was in attendance.

The musical opened with the organ prelude by Mrs. Jay D. Basehor, followed with a hymn. The pastor, the Rev. William C. Karns, read the scripture lesson, the history of passion. A solo, "He Was Alone," was sung by Glenn E. Unger. The Senior Choir anthems were "In the Garden" and "O Saviour of the World."

Pastor Karns gave the communion meditation on the subject "Washing the Disciple's Feet," followed with the offering and prayer. The anthem by the Junior Choir was "God So Loved the World." The Brotherhood quartet, composed of Edgar E. Yealy, Glenn E. Unger, Albert M. Starnier and Ronald W. Streivig, sang "Calvary" and "Shall I Crucify Him?"

The concluding part of the program consisted of an anthem, "My Saviour Went To Calvary," by the Senior Choir; congregational hymn; benediction, Pastor Karns; silent prayer and organ prelude.

The altar flowers were placed in memory of Mrs. U. Ray Study by the family.

Pictures of Leonardo da Vinci's Last Supper were distributed to the members of the congregation. In keeping with the Lenten study of the character of each of the 12 disciples, a thumbnail sketch was given in the evening's bulletin.

Following the service, the Rev. Mr. Karns baptized Timothy Preston Clousher, son of David Preston Jr. and Dolly French (Childress) Clousher, Hanover. The parents were the baptismal sponsors. The child was born January 28, 1963, in Hagerstown.

Inskip To Discuss School's Future

George B. Inskip, Adams County assistant superintendent of schools, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Littlestown Jointure Parent - Teacher Association on Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the general purpose room of the Rolling Acres Elementary School. His talk will concern the organization of new school districts in the county.

The program will also include vocal selections by the sextet of the sophomore class of the local high school. Charles E. Ritter is chairman of the April program committee. During the business, the newly elected officers will be installed. Refreshments will be served.

Easter Assembly For LHS Pupils

Prior to the dismissal for the Easter vacation, the students of the Littlestown Junior-Senior High School enjoyed an Easter assembly program on Thursday afternoon in the school auditorium.

The assembly opened with the Lord's Prayer in unison, and continues as follows: selections by the sophomore girls' vocal sextet, composed of Peggy Myers, Patty Little, Linda Hess, Joyce Kerschner, Jacie Elder and Anna Mayer, accompanied by Carolyn Kump; Easter readings, Sigurn Bohm, Elaine Brisinger and Jeffrey Breighner, selections by the Senior Chorus, "Lamb of God," George Bize, and "He Never Said a Mumbling Word," a Negro spiritual; student body singing of "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today"; Easter greetings extended by Paul E. King, supervising principal of the Jointure.

Vacation will conclude with the resuming of classes on Tuesday at 8:30 a.m.

HOME FROM COLLEGE

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald L. Crouse, both students at Catwaba College, Salisbury, N. C., are spending the holiday vacation at the home of her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Flinchbaugh, Maple Ave.

Mother, Daughter Supper Is Planned

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, held a brief business meeting following the community church services Wednesday evening at the post home, E. King St. Plans were made for the annual mother and daughter covered dish supper to be held in connection with the next meeting on May 8 at 6:30 p.m. at the post home. Each member is asked to take a hot covered dish food.

Mrs. James W. Pagar, community service chairman, announced that six hospital beds and one wheelchair are available for community use by contacting her. It is requested that the persons who borrowed and returned three of the beds without mattresses return or replace them. Mrs. Norman R. Sentz, president, presided and heard the report of Miss Beulah Wintrode, secretary.

Let's Look At The Record

THE GREAT NAPOLEON
Egyptian Campaign History Unflattering Makes the Corsican Look Like Hitler

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State
College, Superior

NAPOLEON BONAPARTE for exactly a hundred years was the most written about single name in the English and French languages.

To his fellow countrymen he represented a lost cause from the glorious promise of the French Revolution that fell just short of the domination of the civilized world of 1795-1815. They filled their literature with glowing what-might-have-beens.

To the English, while they were fighting him, he was a despicable character. But, after victory, to deny that he was a master of civil government and at the same time a military genius would have been discounting their own, long, arduous, clever and heroic efforts in achieving his ultimate defeat. They insisted he was great.

Not until the German siege guns at Liege, summer of 1914, and within hearing distance of the field at Waterloo where Napoleon was finally put in flight, was the French genius crowded backward into a limbo of military names and events.

CAME WORLD WAR II, and every time thoughtful men looked at Adolf Hitler, the more that erstwhile paper hanger looked like the Little Corporal who became Napoleon the Great.

Rightly or wrongly, biographers and historians have a habit of rewriting history in order that they may re-interpret the past in the light of the present. A new Napoleonic image is now in the making.

J. Christopher Herold's "Bonaparte in Egypt" (Harper and Row, $6.95) is another symptom of such a revision.

The materials for re-evaluation have long been available. Napoleon's most idolatrous, French worshippers were never able to explain how one could be such a great military genius and at the same time completely lose four armies: In Egypt, in Russia, at Leipzig and at Waterloo.

It is easy to explain the loss of one, as in the cases of Robert E. Lee and Hannibal, but no one but Napoleon ever completely lost three and remained in the ball game.

J. CHRISTOPHER HEROLD, most favorably known for his earlier "Mistress to an Age" (Madame de Staël), continues his interest in the era to examine Napoleon in Egypt, 1798-99.

Bonaparte was home from his truly remarkable conquest of Italy. He was the toast of Paris and the idol of a nation that had had its back to the wall until his highly successful Italian offensive had removed the pressure.

France could now invade England — another Hitlerian parallel. From his command post at Boulogne, Napoleon took a long, hard look at the choppy English Channel and arrived at the same Hitlerian decision. He preferred to fight elsewhere.

Herold takes the further view that unemployed military heroes have always been viewed with alarm by French politicians, hence the Directory, largely under the influence of the scheming Talleyrand, bought his idea of sending the military hero elsewhere. Egypt was as good as any, better than most, Napoleon was dumb enough to take the bait, Herold assures us.

Napoleon's 40,000 men on 400 ships sailed secretly from many ports. They met in the Mediterranean to be conveyed by a powerful French fleet under Admiral Bruyès.

England's Admiral Nelson failed to intercept the French Armada. Napoleon's troops landed at Aboukir Bay, captured Alexandria without difficulty. They scattered the defending army in the Battle of the Pyramids. Overnight Egypt had become a French Protectorate, with Napoleon as its ruler.

BUT news from the warships in Aboukir Bay was bad, Nelson had found his opponent and destroyed the French fleet. The French Army was doomed unless Napoleon could pacify Egypt and live off the country. This he might have done with more ability. The sultan of Turkey, as the overlord of Egypt, then entered the game.

Napoleon took the offensive with an invasion of Syria. He captured El Arish and Jaffa with ease. There he set a Hitlerian precedent for killing prisoners too numerous to feed.

The Turkish garrison at Acre took note and saw advantage in an Alamo stand. Napoleon was defeated. He retreated to the Nile. Napoleon turned the command of the Army over to General Kleber and sneaked back to France.

Kleber was killed and the army captured while Napoleon was playing French Revolution politics to make himself ruler of France.

Herold blames each and every mistake, including the massacre of prisoners and even the defeat of the French warships upon Napoleon. "Hypocritical tyrant" is a comparatively kind phrase in the lexicon of disillusionment he unleashes upon the opportunistic Corsican.

At times Herold overstates the case and could be more convincing with more restraint. His book, nevertheless, is a highly entertaining and informative history of an often overlooked episode in the Napoleonic saga.

DEATHS

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—William C. McDuffie, 78, a former oil drilling roustabout who in 1921 discovered the Great Signal Hill, Calif., oil field, died Wednesday of a stroke.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—George Stallings, 71, a pioneer in Hollywood's animated cartoon industry, died Tuesday.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Rev. James L. Delk, 75, who was a political candidate many times in the last 40 years but never was elected to public office, died Tuesday in Jamestown, Tenn. He was seeking the Democratic nomination for governor of Kentucky in the May 28 primary.

New Steel Price Hike May Be Trial Balloon For Major Producers

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The new steel price rise attempt differs from the short-lived one a year ago in these ways:

1. It's selective. Wheeling Steel Corp. announced an increase averaging about $6 a ton, effective today. But the products to which it applies all are in strong and growing demand. Steel products in oversupply aren't mentioned. A year ago the price rise attempt was on basic steel from which the products are made, and the White House moved fast and firmly to get it rescinded.

SMALL PRODUCER

2. The price boost is made by the 11th ranking steel producer this time. This could make it a trial balloon. Others could wait for the reaction of customers and government to see if Wheeling can make the price rise stick. Its last increase was in 1958. Last April the $6 a ton increase was announced by U.S. Steel, the top producer whose moves other companies usually follow. And most of them did. The dissenters, Inland and Kaiser, helped break the steel front.

3. Steelmen have been talking for a year about the need for higher steel prices to offset rising costs and to furnish funds for needed new equipment. The talk has been stepped up in recent days and an attempt was expected in many quarters. Last year the price increase was a surprise.

4. This price boost precedes possible reopening of the wage contract with the United Steelworkers of America. Last year the rise followed signing of a contract which excluded wage increases but granted fringe benefits—and which the White House apparently thought implied no price increase attempt.

UNION ACTION

The union may reopen the contract and ask for a wage boost on or after April 30, and be free to strike 90 days later.

Much of the time since the price rise failure a year ago, steel prices have been soft. They now average about one per cent less than they did when Roger M. Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel, told President Kennedy that Big Steel was increasing its price $6 a ton effective April 10, 1962.

Blough still thinks the industry needs a price boost like the one Wheeling announced. And in Des Moines Monday he said he still feels that government interference in such industry decisions can weaken the whole economy.

Arthur B. Homer, chairman of Bethlehem Steel, the No. 2 producer, also says the industry needs relief—either a price increase or a cutting of costs, to give profits a healthy glow.

DOUBTS SUPPORT

But he said Tuesday in Wilmington, Del., after the company's annual stockholders meeting: "There's considerable doubt in my mind as to whether the market will support a price increase. But you never know until you try it."

After the dustup with the White

House and the rescinding of last year's increase, prices did actually start to sink from even the old level, as a number of other steelmen had predicted.

Only a few months ago, Kaiser Steel, West Coast producer, cut its prices there $12 a ton. This brought them in line with Eastern prices, traditionally lower. It also brought them closer to prices of Japanese steel.

European competition has been plaguing the Eastern producers, but usually on certain special products. This has been given as one reason the price of pipe is weak here. Steel pipe prices aren't affected by the Wheeling boost, nor is can-making tinplate.

Recent upturn in demand for many steel products came too late to give the 1962 earning picture any relief.

DIVIDENDS CUT

And most steel companies cut their dividends in the final months of the year.

Wheeling went along with this, cutting quarterly payments to 25 cents a share in October, after an earlier cut to 50 cents from the 1961 rate of 75 cents. But Wheeling was one of the few steel companies to show profit gains for the year—$7,054,951, compared with $5,278,048 in 1961.

The industry profit picture is on the dismal side—a chief talking point for the need of price increases. The combined net income of 78 iron and steel firms in 1962 dropped 15 per cent from 1961 to total $714 million—a return of four per cent on sales. The companies contend this isn't enough to finance the modernization their mills require or the building of new ones to compete on better terms with the efficient postwar plants of European and Japanese steel companies.

TRIAL CENTERS ON 27 NAMES

By DAVE LEHERR

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Twenty-seven names continue to dominate government testimony in the income tax evasion trial of two Luzerne County mining firms and four individuals.

The names belong to men and women the government claims were placed on company payrolls in a scheme to evade $106,189 in corporate income taxes between July, 1956 and November, 1958.

Witness after witness has testified under government questioning that all or some of the names are unfamiliar to them. Most of the government witnesses have been former company officials or colliery workers.

On trial are the Avon and Peeley Mining Companies of Wyoming, Pa.; Robert L. Dougherty, former president of the two firms; August J. Lippi, president of United Mine Workers Union, District one; and Leonard Statkewicz and Frank Cardoni, ex-Lippi aides. The individual defendants are charged with conspiracy.

Careening States Hits Three States

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP)—A resident of Tees Nos Pos on the Navajo Indian Reservation reported an accident in which the car involved careened across three state lines.

Mrs. Tom Nelson said a tourist's car struck the monument marking the meeting of four state boundaries on the reservation. After hitting the Four Corners monument on the New Mexico side, the vehicle skidded through Colorado and came to rest in Utah.

Arizona, the remaining state, escaped the path of the minor mishap.

If Antarctica's ice melted, the world's seas would rise some 250 feet, engulfing, among other landmarks, New York Harbor's Statue of Liberty to nose level.

Avon and Peeley took the stand Wednesday and said they were unable to recognize hardly any of the names read by government attorneys.

Sermon For The Week

THE HOPE OF THE CROSS
By Rev. Donald L. Harper
Pastor, Memorial EUB Church

"But far be it from me to glory except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ . . ." Galatians 6:14.

Men think and live by symbols. Symbols constitute a convenient way of expressing in small compass complex and far-reaching ideas. The world is full of symbols. We have today the hammer and sickle, Old Glory, and the Union Jack for example, as symbols of nationalism; in medicine there is the caduceus; in law, the scales of justice. The early Christians used a fish as their secret symbol, since the letter of the Greek word for fish furnished the initial letters for the expression "Jesus Christ, Son of God, Saviour."

But the most meaningful symbol the world has ever known or will ever know is the cross. Crowded into that emblem is the whole significance of the universe and the world, of human life and destiny.

ETERNAL TRUTHS

Consider some of the eternal truths symbolized by the cross. The cross tells us about God, and it tells us about Him in such emphatic and conclusive way that any man zealous for truth, and obedient and teachable in spirit, cannot fail to discover something of what is in the mind and the heart of the heavenly Father.

He hates sin. That is the meaning of the blood. God is an ethical God, a God of uncompromising morality. God loves man with an everlasting love. That also is what this symbol of the cross says. Calvary is just the measure of the distance God will go to encourage, to help, to save you and me. He gave His Son. He gave Himself. The cross tells what happened in Palestine 2,000 years ago, and it likewise tells what is happening now, 2,000 years later. For God is here, the suffering, loving God, the invisible Spirit at work in each of us.

The cross tells us about man. It proclaims that man is not just a sinner. He was and is created in the image of His loving heavenly Father. That thorn-crowned bleeding figure on Calvary's Hill is I. He is the eternal humanity revealing to the light of day the deep inner nature of man, his insatiable idealism, his never-ending struggle with the flesh.

STORY OF FORGIVENESS

The cross has still another story to tell, a story of forgiveness and healing of body, mind and soul, for men and women and children everywhere. The cross has a message for all sin-bur-

6-Alarm Fire In Philadelphia Today

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A seven-story office building in center city Philadelphia was hit by a six-alarm fire today.

The building, in the 1200 block of Market, is just two blocks east of Philadelphia's gingerbread-like city hall. The burning building houses a shoe firm and restaurant.

Firemen said dense smoke blanketed the area.

Traffic on Market street, one of the city's busiest, was diverted as fire equipment converged on the scene.

dened, fear-obsessed, sick and afflicted men and women. That message is forgiveness, and a new start backed by the invincible power, wisdom, and love of the Creator and Father of all mankind. All this the cross means, and much more. Someone has pointed out that the cross on which Christ was crucified had an upright and cross-piece, signifying the meeting of two worlds—the visible and the invisible. The horizontal bar stands for our human life lived in time; the vertical bar is the life of the Eternal coming down from above to pierce our material existence with a new spirit and a new power.

The cross, then, is the focal point in human history, marking a new order of things, proclaiming a God of righteousness and love, the godlikeness of man, and the possibility of forgiveness and a new start. A new start! That is the inspiration, the power, the hope of the cross.

PRICE OF HAM HITS NEW LOW

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Housewives can observe both tradition and economy this week-end by serving Easter hams.

Heavy pork marketings have pushed ham prices down to the lowest levels in some time, with one national chain offering them in the New York area at a range of from 27 cents a pound for shank ends to 47 for whole hams.

Other pork cut bargains include loin roasts and chops.

Beef cuts are also in good supply and attractively priced, with special bargains showing up in chuck roasts and rib roasts.

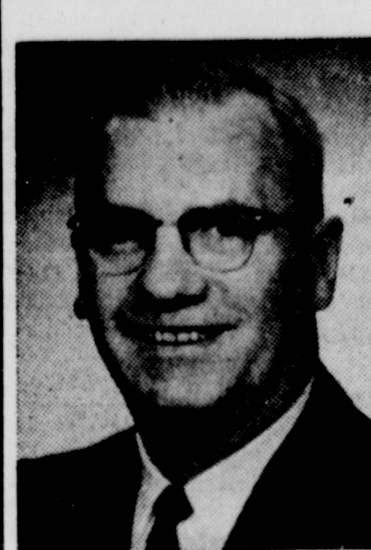

A big chain offers rib roasts at 55 cents a pound in its New York area outlets.

Poultry offerings this weekend are varied and attractive. Turkeys are featured at about 39 cents a pound. Hens for roasting and baking are bargain-tagged in the Southeast and Midwest.

Eggs are low-priced in most areas. Large whites are offered at 46 cents a dozen by one chain in the Northeast and in the Southeast, egg prices are about the lowest they have been since last August.

Holiday fruit attractions include strawberries, apples, bananas, grapefruit, fresh pineapples and canned freestone peaches. Vegetable items rated best buys in most markets include asparagus, cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions, green onions, potatoes, radishes, spinach, squash, sweet potatoes and tomatoes.

Choose Hat From Shape Of Woman's Face

By MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON

The shape of a woman's face helps determine her choice of a hat.

A perfect oval is the ideal face shape. A woman with an oval face and even features can wear many hat styles well. A woman with a round or a long face needs a hat that makes her face appear oval.

High crown or turban hats look well on a woman with a round face because they give her height. However, she also needs width to balance the width of her face. She would do well to try a hat that has a brim with a vertical slant.

A woman with a long face would be wise to choose a hat that gives the illusion of broadening it. A good hat style for her is one with a low crown and a wide brim that turns down.

It's possible to have Easter goodies that are kind to the figure, yet pleasing to the eyes and delicious to eat.

Go easy on the sugar and the fat is the first principle. Fresh, frozen, or canned fruit offers a delicious, nutritious dessert or snack. It's not necessary to serve desserts at the end of the meal. You can serve dessert an hour or more after a meal.

Make between-meal snacks count toward health and beauty.

Snacks and desserts may offer only calories, or they may have essential nutrients and not be very high in calories. Milk drinks with added flavorings to give them a different taste are good for adults and children. Ice cream offers many possibilities.

EAT REGULAR MEALS

Eat regular meals, and you won't be tempted to eat high-calorie foods between meals. Eat smaller than usual servings of food at mealtime to allow for snacks between meals. Keep check on the way you serve food. You can reduce the calorie count of meat when you trim excess fat from meat and don't use gravy.

Today's homemaker needs to place a value on her time and money when she buys food. Time-saving, or convenience foods, presently account for about 14 per cent of the total food sales in grocery stores. Additional foods will soon be sold in ready-to-serve forms. With this variety to choose from, a homemaker must make many decisions between convenience foods and homemade products.

VALUE OF TIME

These decisions are most often satisfactory when they are based on the homemaker's values. The value she places on her time, skills, interests, and money will help her make a wise choice between convenience foods and those needing home preparation.

A recent study of convenience foods points out that some convenience foods are less expensive than the same product made at home. Other foods cost more in convenient forms.

If a reasonable value is placed on a homemaker's time, many convenience foods will have a lower cost than the same products in either fresh or homemade forms. Kind of foods and size of serving will also affect this comparison.

DEAN RUSK AND DOBRYNIN ARE TALKING AGAIN

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin renew their discussions on Berlin today amid signs that the search for agreement is likely to become more complicated.

U.S. officials thought it entirely possible that the Soviet Union would inject into the talks the issue of an American plan to arm an allied force, including West Germans, with nuclear weapons.

The meeting, originally scheduled for last Saturday, was set for late afternoon. It is the second in the new series of U.S.-Soviet exploratory talks on the Berlin problem.

AT MOSCOW SUGGESTION

The present round was started

at Moscow's suggestion but in the first meeting three weeks ago neither Dobrynin nor Rusk advanced any new ideas for solving the East-West dispute. Since then, the Soviet Union has protested to the United States and other allied nations against the proposed creation of a multilateral nuclear force under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Rusk returned Thursday from the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization meeting in Paris. He conferred with other NATO foreign ministers and with French President Charles de Gaulle.

The NATO talks reportedly produced general agreement that the allies should go forward with plans to set up a nuclear forces command under the supreme allied commander in Europe, U.S. Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer.

One part of this force will be composed of three U.S. Polaris submarines in the Mediterranean. One such sub is already stationed and two others are going in soon. Another part of the force will be composed of British nuclear-armed Vulcan bombers.

Choose Hat From Shape Of Woman's Face

By MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Extension Home Economist

The shape of a woman's face helps determine her choice of a hat.

A perfect oval is the ideal face shape. A woman with an oval face and even features can wear many hat styles well. A woman with a round or a long face needs a hat that makes her face appear oval.

MRS. TUNISON

High crown or turban hats look well on a woman with a round face because they give her height. However, she also needs width to balance the width of her face. She would do well to wear a hat that has a brim with a vertical slant.

A woman with a long face would be wise to choose a hat that gives the illusion of broadening it. A good hat style for her is one with a low crown and a wide brim that turns down.

COUNT CALORIES

It's possible to have Easter goodies that are kind to the figure, yet pleasing to the eyes and delicious to eat.

Go easy on the sugar and the fat is the first principle. Fresh, frozen, or canned fruit offers a delicious, nutritious dessert or snack. It's not necessary to serve desserts at the end of the meal. You can serve dessert an hour or more after a meal.

Make between-meal snacks count toward health and beauty.

Snacks and desserts may offer only calories, or they may have essential nutrients and not be very high in calories. Milk drinks with added flavorings to give them a different taste are good for adults and children. Ice cream offers many possibilities.

EAT REGULAR MEALS

Eat regular meals, and you won't be tempted to eat high-calorie foods between meals. Eat smaller than usual servings of food at mealtime to allow for snacks between meals. Keep check on the way you serve food. You can reduce the calorie count of meat when you trim excess fat from meat and don't use gravy.

Today's homemaker needs to place a value on her time and money when she buys food. Time-saving, or convenience foods, presently account for about 14 per cent of the total food sales in grocery stores. Additional foods will soon be sold in ready-to-serve forms. With this variety to choose from, a homemaker must make many decisions between convenience foods and homemade products.

VALUE OF TIME

These decisions are most often satisfactory when they are based on the homemaker's values. The value she places on her time, skills, interests, and money will help her make a wise choice between convenience foods and those needing home preparation.

A recent study of convenience foods points out that some convenience foods are less expensive than the same product made at home. Other foods cost more in convenient forms.

If a reasonable value is placed on a homemaker's time, many convenience foods will have a lower cost than the same products in either fresh or homemade forms. Kind of foods and size of serving will also affect this comparison.

DEAN RUSK AND DOBRYNIN ARE TALKING AGAIN

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin renew their discussions on Berlin today amid signs that the search for agreement is likely to become more complicated.

U.S. officials thought it entirely possible that the Soviet Union would inject into the talks the issue of an American plan to arm an allied force, including West Germans, with nuclear weapons.

The meeting, originally scheduled for last Saturday, was set for late afternoon. It is the second in the new series of U.S.-Soviet exploratory talks on the Berlin problem.

AT MOSCOW SUGGESTION

The present round was started

at Moscow's suggestion but in the first meeting three weeks ago neither Dobrynin nor Rusk advanced any new ideas for solving the East-West dispute. Since then, the Soviet Union has protested to the United States and other allied nations against the proposed creation of a multilateral nuclear force under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Rusk returned Thursday from the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization meeting in Paris. He conferred with other NATO foreign ministers and with French President Charles de Gaulle.

The NATO talks reportedly produced general agreement that the allies should go forward with plans to set up a nuclear forces command under the supreme allied commander in Europe, U.S. Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer.

One part of this force will be composed of three U.S. Polaris submarines in the Mediterranean. One such sub is already stationed and two others are going in soon. Another part of the force will be composed of British nuclear-armed Vulcan bombers.

CONTAINING 91 acres and 105 perches, neat measure.

Last described in Deed Book 149 at page 213.

to the consideration of private bids, under the following conditions:

1. Each bid shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check in the amount of 10% of the price bid, made payable to the Sallie C. Rife estate.

2. Bids must be in the hands of the executor, by Wednesday, May 15, 1963, at which time they will be opened in his office at 9:00 A.M., E.D.S.T.

3. Another 10% of the bid price will be due upon execution of an agreement of sale by the executor with the successful bidder.

4. The executor reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to withdraw the property from sale.

5. Other conditions will be furnished upon request and will be included in the agreement of sale with the accepted bidder.

This tract of land has a frontage along a railroad for commercial purposes and a frontage along the Biglerville Road, Pennsylvania Route 34, for commercial and development purposes. It also has valuable farm land and some timber.

Let's Look At The Record

THE GREAT NAPOLEON
Egyptian Campaign History Unfettering Makes the Corsican Look Like Hitler

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State
College, Superior
NAPOLEON BONAPARTE for exactly a hundred years was the most written about single name in the English and French languages.

To his fellow countrymen he represented a lost cause from the glorious promise of the French Revolution that fell just short of the domination of the civilized world of 1795-1815. They filled their literature with glowing what-might-bees.

To the English, while they were fighting him, he was a despicable character. But, after victory, to deny that he was a master of civil government and at the same time a military genius would have been discounting their own, long, arduous, clever and heroic efforts in achieving his ultimate defeat. They insisted he was great.

Not until the German siege guns at Liege, summer of 1914, and within hearing distance of the field at Waterloo where Napoleon was finally put in flight, was the French genius crowded backward into a limbo of military names and events.

CAME WORLD WAR II, and every time thoughtful men looked at Adolf Hitler, the more that erstwhile paper hanger looked like the Little Corporal who became Napoleon the Great.

Rightly or wrongly, biographers and historians have a habit of rewriting history in order that they may re-interpret the past in the light of the present. A new Napoleonic image is now in the making.

J. Christopher Herold's "Bonaparte in Egypt" (Harper and Row, $6.95) is another symptom of such a revision.

The materials for re-evaluation have long been available. Napoleon's most idolatrous, French worshippers were never able to explain how one could be such a great military genius and at the same time completely lose four armies: in Egypt, in Russia, at Leipzig and at Waterloo.

It is easy to explain the loss of one, as in the cases of Robert E. Lee and Hannibal, but no one but Napoleon ever completely lost three and remained in the ball game.

J. CHRISTOPHER HEROLD, most favorably known for his earlier "Mistress of an Age" (Madame de Staël), continues his interest in the era to examine Napoleon in Egypt, 1798-99.

Bonaparte was borne from his truly remarkable conquest of Italy. He was the toast of Paris and the idol of a nation that had had its back to the wall until his highly-successful Italian offensive had removed the pressure.

France could now invade England — another Hitlerian parallel. From his command post at Boulogne, Napoleon took a long, hard look at the choppy English Channel and arrived at the same Hitlerian decision. He preferred to fight elsewhere.

Herold takes the further view that unemployed military heroes have always been viewed with alarm by French politicians, hence the Directory, largely under the influence of the scheming Talleyrand, bought his idea of sending the military hero elsewhere. Egypt was as good as any, better than most. Napoleon was dumb enough to take the bait, Herold assures us.

Napoleon's 40,000 men on 400 ships sailed secretly from many ports. They met in the Mediterranean to be conveyed by a powerful French fleet under Admiral Bruyès.

England's Admiral Nelson failed to intercept the French Armada. Napoleon's troops landed at Aboukir Bay, captured Alexandria without difficulty. They scattered the defending army in the Battle of the Pyramids. Overnight Egypt had become a French Protectorate, with Napoleon as its ruler.

BUT news from the warships in Aboukir Bay was bad. Nelson had found his opponent and destroyed the French fleet. The French Army was doomed unless Napoleon could pacify Egypt and lift off the country. This he might have done with more ability. The sultan of Turkey, as the overlord of Egypt, then entered the game.

Napoleon took the offensive with an invasion of Syria. He captured El Arish and Jaffa with ease. There he set a Hitlerian precedent for killing prisoners too numerous to feed.

The Turkish garrison at Acre took note and saw advantage in an Alamo stand. Napoleon was defeated. He retreated to the Nile.

Napoleon turned the command of the Army over to General Kleber and sneaked back to France. Kleber was killed and the army captured while Napoleon was playing French Revolution politics to make himself ruler of France.

Herold blames each and every mistake, including the massacre of prisoners and even the defeat of the French warships upon Napoleon. "Hypocritical tyrant" is a comparatively kind phrase in the lexicon of disillusionment he unleashes upon the opportunistic Corsican.

At times Herold overstates the case and could be more convincing with more restraint. His book, nevertheless, is a highly entertaining and informative history of an often overlooked episode in the Napoleonic saga.

New Steel Price Hike May Be Trial Balloon For Major Producers

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The new steel price rise attempt differs from the short-lived one a year ago in these ways:

1. It's selective. Wheeling Steel Corp. announced an increase averaging about $6 a ton, effective today. But the products to which it applies all are in strong and growing demand. Steel products in oversupply aren't mentioned. A year ago the price rise attempt was on basic steel from which the products are made, and the White House moved fast and firmly to get it rescinded.

SMALL PRODUCER

2. The price boost is made by the 11th ranking steel producer this time. This could make it a trial balloon. Others could wait for the reaction of customers and government to see if Wheeling can make the price rise stick. Its last increase was in 1958. Last April the $6 a ton increase was announced by U.S. Steel, the top producer whose moves other companies usually follow. And most of them did. The dissenters, Inland and Kaiser, helped break the steel front.

3. Steelmen have been talking for a year about the need for higher steel prices to offset rising costs and to furnish funds for needed new equipment. The talk has been stepped up in recent days and an attempt was expected in many quarters. Last year the price increase was a surprise.

4. This price boost precedes possible reopening of the wage contract with the United Steelworkers of America. Last year the rise followed signing of a contract which excluded wage increases but granted fringe benefits—and which the White House apparently thought implied no price increase attempt.

UNION ACTION

The union may reopen the contract and ask for a wage boost on or after April 30, and be free to strike 90 days later.

Much of the time since the price rise failure a year ago, steel prices have been soft. They now average about one per cent less than they did when Roger M. Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel, told President Kennedy that Big Steel was increasing its price $6 a ton effective April 10, 1962.

Blough still thinks the industry needs a price boost like the one Wheeling announced. And in Des Moines Monday he said he still feels that government interference in such industry decisions can weaken the whole economy.

Arthur B. Horner, chairman of Bethlehem Steel, the No. 2 producer, also says the industry needs relief—either a price increase or a cutting of costs, to give profits a healthy glow.

DOUBTS SUPPORT

But he said Tuesday in Wilmington, Del., after the company's annual stockholders meeting: "There's considerable doubt in my mind as to whether the market will support a price increase. But you never know until you try it."

After the dustup with the White

House and the rescinding of last year's increase, prices did actually start to sink from even the old level, as a number of other steelmen had predicted.

Only a few months ago, Kaiser Steel, West Coast producer, cut its prices there $12 a ton. This brought them in line with Eastern prices, traditionally lower. It also brought them closer to prices of Japanese steel.

European competition has been plaguing the Eastern producers, but usually on certain special products. This has been given as one reason the price of pipe is weak here. Steel pipe prices aren't affected by the Wheeling boost, nor is can-making tinplate.

Recent upturn in demand for many steel products came too late to give the 1962 earning picture any relief.

DIVIDENDS CUT

And most steel companies cut their dividends in the final months of the year.

Wheeling went along with this, cutting quarterly payments to 25 cents a share in October, after an earlier cut to 50 cents from the 1961 rate of 75 cents. But Wheeling was one of the few steel companies to show profit gains for the year—$7,034,951, compared with $5,273,048 in 1961.

The industry profit picture is on the dismal side—a chief talking point for the need of price increases. The combined net income of 73 iron and steel firms in 1962 dropped 15 per cent from 1961 to total $714 million—a return of four per cent on sales. The companies contend this isn't enough to finance the modernization their mills require or the building of new ones to compete on better terms with the efficient postwar plants of European and Japanese steel companies.

TRIAL CENTERS ON 27 NAMES

By DAVE LEHERR

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Twenty-seven names continue to dominate government testimony in the income tax evasion trial of two Luzerne County mining firms and four individuals.

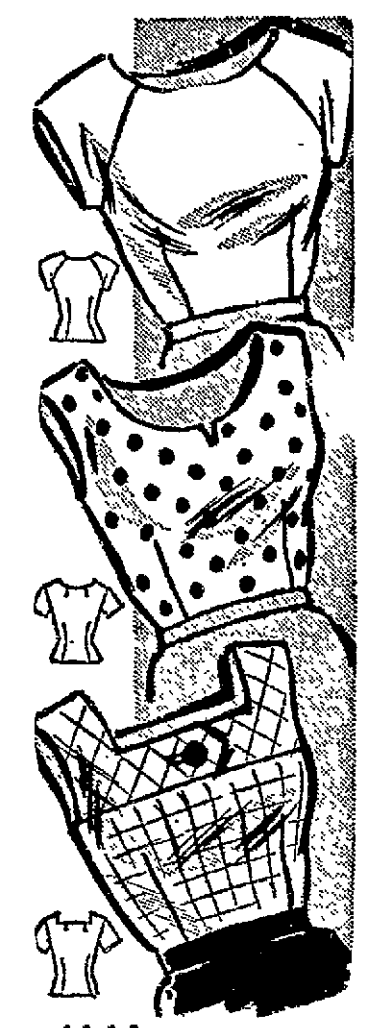

The names belong to men and women the government claims were placed on company payrolls in a scheme to evade $106,189 in corporate income taxes between July, 1956 and November, 1958.

Witness after witness has testified under government questioning that all or some of the names are unfamiliar to them. Most of the government witnesses have been former company officials or colliery workers.

On trial are the Avon and Peeley Mining Companies of Wyoming, Pa.; Robert L. Dougherty, former president of the two firms; August J. Lippi, president of United Mine Workers Union, District one; and Leonard Statkevich and Frank Cardoni, ex-Lippi aides. The individual defendants are charged with conspiracy.

Careening States Hits Three States

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — A resident of Tees Nos Pos on the Navajo Indian Reservation reported an accident in which the car involved careened across three state lines.

Mrs. Tom Nelson said a tourist's car struck the monument marking the meeting of four state boundaries on the reservation. After hitting the Four Corners monument on the New Mexico side, the vehicle skidded through Colorado and came to rest in Utah.

Arizona, the remaining state, escaped the path of the minor mishap.

If Antarctica's ice melted, the world's seas would rise some 250 feet, engulfing among other landmarks, New York Harbor's Statue of Liberty to nose level.

Avon and Peeley took the stand Wednesday and said they were unable to recognize hardly any of the names read by government attorneys.

Sermon For The Week

THE HOPE OF THE CROSS
Pastor, Memorial EUB Church

"But far be it from me to glory except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ . . ." Galatians 6:14. Men think and live by symbols. Symbols constitute a convenient way of expressing in small compass complex and far-reaching ideas. The world is full of symbols. We have today the hammer and sickle, Old Glory, and the Union Jack for example, as symbols of nationalism; in medicine there is the caduceus; in law, the scales of justice. The early Christians used a fish as their secret symbol, since the letter of the Greek word for fish furnished the initial letters for the expression "Jesus Christ, Son of God, Saviour."

But the most meaningful symbol the world has ever known or will ever know is the cross. Crowded into that emblem is the whole significance of the universe and the world, of human life and destiny.

ETERNAL TRUTHS

Consider some of the eternal truths symbolized by the cross. The cross tells us about God, and it tells us about Him in such emphatic and conclusive way that any man zealous for truth, and obedient and teachable in spirit, cannot fail to discover something of what is in the mind and the heart of the heavenly Father.

He hates sin. That is the meaning of the blood. God is an ethical God, a God of uncompromising morality. God loves man with an everlasting love. That also is what this symbol of the cross says. Calvary is just the measure of the distance God will go to encourage, to help, to save you and me. He gave His Son. He gave Himself. The cross tells what happened in Palestine 2,000 years ago, and it likewise tells what is happening now, 2,000 years later. For God is here, the suffering, loving God, the invisible Spirit at work in each of us.

The cross tells us about man. It proclaims that man is not just a sinner. He was and is created in the image of His loving heavenly Father. That thorn-crowned pleading figure on Calvary's Hill is I. He is the eternal humanity revealing to the light of day the deep inner nature of man, his insatiable idealism, his never-ending struggle with the flesh.

STORY OF FORGIVENESS

The cross has still another story to tell, a story of forgiveness and healing of body, mind and soul, for men and women and children everywhere. The cross has a message for all sin-bur-

6-Alarm Fire In Philadelphia Today

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A seven-story office building in center city Philadelphia was hit by a six-alarm fire today. The building, in the 1200 block of Market, is just two blocks east of Philadelphia's gingerbread-like city hall. The burning building houses a shoe firm and restaurant.

Firemen said dense smoke blanketed the area.

Traffic on Market street, one of the city's busiest, was diverted as fire equipment converged on the scene.

dened, fear-obsessed, sick and afflicted men and women. That message is forgiveness, and a new start backed by the invincible power, wisdom, and love of the Creator and Father of all mankind. All this the cross means, and much more. Someone has pointed out that the cross on which Christ was crucified had an upright and cross-piece, signifying the meeting of two worlds—the visible and the invisible. The horizontal bar stands for our human life lived in time; the vertical bar is the life of the Eternal coming down from above to pierce our material existence with a new spirit and a new power.

PRICE OF HAM HITS NEW LOW

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Housewives can observe both tradition and economy this week-end by serving Easter hams.

Heavy pork marketings have pushed ham prices down to the lowest levels in some time, with one national chain offering them in the New York area at a range of from 27 cents a pound for shank ends to 47 for whole hams.

Other pork cut bargains include loin roasts and chops.

Beef cuts are also in good supply and attractively priced, with special bargains showing up in chuck roasts and rib roasts.

A big chain offers rib roasts at 55 cents a pound in its New York area outlets.

Poultry offerings this weekend are varied and attractive. Turkeys are featured at about 39 cents a pound. Hens for roasting and baking are bargain-tagged in the Southeast and Midwest.

Eggs are low-priced in most areas. Large whites are offered at 46 cents a dozen by one chain in the Northeast and in the Southeast, egg prices are about the lowest they have been since last August.

Holiday fruit attractions include strawberries, apples, bananas, grapefruit, fresh pineapples and canned freestone peaches.

Vegetable items rated best buys in most markets include asparagus, cabbage, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions, green onions, potatoes, radishes, spinach, squash, sweet potatoes and tomatoes.

SOPHIE, CALVIN IDEAL COUPLE, CRITIC SAYS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Every now and then, in the semidarkened room lighted by the moving figures on the television screen, one starts romancing.

"Wouldn't it be wonderful to do a sequel to those cleaner commercials? Sophie, the cleaning woman who has such a terrible time with filthy floors before 'the girls' arrive, could meet Calvin, the apartment custodian who encounters all the rude housewives with the stained sinks. If ever a marriage were made in Madison Avenue, Sophie and Calvin would be the candidates. She could swab floors and he could scour sinks, blissfully and profitably, through their residual years.

Sometimes the relaxed viewer's thoughts stray gently from the sales pitches on the screen.

WHIRLWINDS, GIANTS

What, for instance, do literal-minded viewers—and particularly—impressionable children think about commercials that whimsically endow their products with supernatural and magic qualities?

Aren't there people who really believe that a certain brand of cleaning liquid comes equipped with a little whirlwind that cleans out difficult corners? Wouldn't every youngster want mother to buy the product that seals a giant in the washing machine, apparently for the sole purpose of raising a horny fist on demand?

The fanciful commercials—usually dreamed up for products which are difficult to demonstrate—reached a height of some sort on the Oscar show the other night. A stately model was pictured attending a theater in evening clothes—and with her hair full of shampoo suds.

COMMUNIST CAMP LAUDS POPE'S WORDS

By GERALD MILLER

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Communist camp, where anti-religion is a basic belief, has given a rousing welcome to Pope John XXIII's encyclical "Pacem in Terris" (Peace on Earth).

Without waiting for word from Moscow, the major Communist parties of Western Europe greeted the Pope's call for peace and disarmament.

NEW APPROACH

It has become increasingly clear in the past six months that the Vatican is attempting an entirely new approach to communism, displaying a willingness to talk with Communist governments on non-theological issues.

The Soviet world likewise has shown a desire for a new and less hostile approach to the church.

Without mentioning communism by name, Pope John's encyclical said that under certain conditions Catholics could work with persons who reject Catholic doctrine. The Pope said that political movements change with time even though the basic philosophies remain the same.

TERM ON DICTATORSHIP

Though Pope John opened the door to practical cooperation in the effort to achieve world peace, he kept it tightly closed against Communist dictatorship.

In contrast to the scorn which Josef Stalin displayed toward the papacy, Soviet Premier Khrushchev has spoken well of Pope John in public at intervals since 1961.

Concrete evidence of the change in relations between the Vatican and the Kremlin came six months ago when two Soviet Orthodox churchmen came to the Vatican Ecumenical Council as observers. It was the first formal contact between the churches since the 11th century.

SPECULATE ON MEETING

The Soviets made another overture to the Vatican in February by releasing Archbishop Jose Slipyi, primate of the Ukrainians, after 18 years in Siberia.

Last month the Pope received Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexi Adzhubel, and his wife in private audience. It was the first papal audience ever given to a top Communist.

Khrushchev at the same time sent congratulations to the Pope on the award to him of the Balzan Peace Prize. The premier warmly praised the Roman Catholic ruler as a man of peace.

Speculation grew that Khrushchev and the Pope might meet if plans for the premier to visit Italy materialize.

Priest Expects A Full Church Easter In Cuba

By GEORGE ARFELD

HAVANA (AP) — Like most of his 200 fellow priests in Cuba, the Rev. John McKniff expects to have a full church for Easter services.

The slender, self-effacing 57-year-old Roman Catholic from Media, Pa., says attendance at his church has been fine and may have increased over the past year. He has been in Cuba 30 years and is the last American clergyman on the island.

In many respects things haven't changed much for Father McKniff under the Castro regime. Youngsters scurry around him after the mass to learn of their progress in catechism class or first communion rehearsals. A tearful mother awaits outside his little office to ask for medical help for a diabetic son. The red shingles of his centuries-old Santo Cristo Church still allow some drops of rain to fall onto the cool marble aisles inside.

500 PRIESTS OUSTED

Other aspects of his ministry have changed. Some 500 priests—many of them from Spain—had to leave the country a few years ago. The remaining churchmen have tried to fill the gap, but most of them are 50 years old or older and the increased duties are a severe physical burden on them.

Some priests look after four parishes. Father McKniff has two. On Sundays, after saying two masses in Havana, he goes to a chapel an hour's ride west of the capital to hold another service. Wine for communion is short.

Since the exodus of priests, no harassment has been reported. As an American, Father McKniff was taken into custody when the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion was launched. But he was soon released.

STATE TAKES SCHOOLS

The state has taken over the Catholic schools. Government institutions lure youngsters by offering sports and recreation—programs the church is unable to carry out.

Yet the church is tending to an increasing number of souls.

"I would say the church is more at a grass roots level now than ever before," a veteran foreign resident said.

Father McKniff attended Nativity School, Media; Roman Catholic High School of Philadelphia, Villanova University and the Augustinian Seminary in Rome where he went on a scholarship.

21 Left Homeless In Lehigh Fire

LEHIGHTON, Pa. (AP) — Firemen searched through ashes today to learn the cause of a fire described as the worst, in the community's history. Four buildings were destroyed by wind fanned flames.

Damage unofficially was estimated by firemen as at least $300,000.

Some 400 firemen, 200 of them from surrounding communities, battled the stubborn blaze for six hours. Twenty-one persons were left homeless.

Fire Chief Corvin Solt said the fire was the worst in Lehigh's history.

Although definite cause was not immediately known, there were reports a grass fire may have touched it off.

When first observed 162 years ago, the solar system's smallest members were called "asteroids" because they resemble mite-size stars in the night sky.

3,500 Acres Of Pa. Land Has Burned

HARRISBURG (AP) — Some 3,500 acres of Pennsylvania timberland, grassland and underbrush has been burned by spring fires, the State Department of Forests and Waters reported Thursday.

"During the past two weeks the number of forest fires has been greater than in normal for this time of the year," Department Secretary Maurice K. Goddard said.

He made an appeal to Pennsylvanians to be extremely cautious with debris and trash fires during the remainder of spring—a period of unusually high winds which sometimes result in small fires getting out of control.

NAVY RETIRES LOCAL RESIDENT

J. H. Rowe, 70 S. Johns Ave., has been advised by the secretary of the Navy that he has been placed on the USN Officers' retired list, effective March 1, after serving 20 years active duty and 10 years U. S. Fleet Reserve inactive duty.

Rowe entered the Navy Service as an apprentice seaman in 1933 and advanced to the rank of commissioned warrant officer during World War II. In 1953 he was transferred to the U.S. Fleet Reserve inactive status, but subject to immediate recall for 10 years. During this time he received 48-hour alert orders on three occasions. His two most interesting assignments were as staff member of Commander Service Force Pacific during World War II, which gave him personal contact with Admiral Nimitz and Admiral Halsey, and his last three years of active duty when he was an instructor of Naval Science NROTC Unit at Pennsylvania State University.

Rowe is married to the former Eileen B. Butt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Butt. They have three children, Gertrude, a senior at Shippensburg State College; Patricia, a junior at the Lutheran Hospital of Maryland; and a sophomore at Gettysburg High School.

Rowe has been employed as a teller by the Gettysburg National Bank since 1954.

MOSSI CLOSE TO NO-HITTER

CLEVELAND (AP)—Don Mossi, the 33-year-old Detroit left-hander who missed a no-hitter by a few inches, took a philosophical note after pitching a two-hitter instead.

"It would have been great to get one, but if it's gonna come, it's gonna come," declared Mossi. "You still have to go on pitching the same way."

Mossi beat the Cleveland Indians 6-1 Thursday and started on his masterful performance by retiring the first 19 men in order.

With on out in the seventh, rookie Tony Martinez hit a one-punch grounder off the glove of Detroit second baseman Dick McAuliffe. The official scorer didn't hesitate in signalling "hit."

"It was a real shot, a tough one to handle," said Mossi when asked if he thought McAuliffe should have made the play. "It was an honest hit."

Mossi didn't walk a batter, struck out six and went to three balls on only one batter. He lost his shutout in the ninth when shortstop Chico Fernandez made an error and pinch hitter Gene Green blooped one into short right field, just out of the reach of Al Kaline. A pair of force outs produced the unearned run.

SOPHIE, CALVIN IDEAL COUPLE, CRITIC SAYS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Every now and then, in the semidarkened room lighted by the moving figures on the television screen, one starts romancing.

"Wouldn't it be wonderful to do a sequel to those cleanser commercials? Sophie, the cleaning woman who has such a terrible time with filthy floors before 'the girls' arrive, could meet Calvin, the apartment custodian who encounters all the rude housewives with the stained sinks. If ever a marriage were made in Madison Avenue, Sophie and Calvin would be the candidates. She could scrub floors and he could scour sinks, blissfully and profitably, through their residual years.

Sometimes the relaxed viewer's thoughts stray gently from the screen.

WHIRLWINDS, GIANTS

What, for instance, do literal-minded viewers and—particularly—impressionable children think about commercials that whimsically endow their products with supernatural and magic qualities? Aren't there people who really believe that a certain brand of cleaning liquid comes equipped with a little whirlwind that cleans out difficult corners? Wouldn't every youngster want mother to buy the product that seals a giant in the washing machine, apparently for the sole purpose of raising a horny fist on demand?

The fanciful commercials—usually dreamed up for products which are difficult to demonstrate—reached a height of some sort on the Oscar show the other night. A stately model was pictured attending a theater in evening clothes—with her hair full of shampoo suds.

COMMUNIST CAMP LAUDS POPE'S WORDS

By GERALD MILLER

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Communist camp, where anti-religion is a basic belief, has given a rousing welcome to Pope John XXIII's encyclical "Pacem in Terris" (Peace on Earth).

Without waiting for word from Moscow, the major Communist parties of Western Europe greeted the Pope's call for peace and disarmament.

NEW APPROACH

It has become increasingly clear in the past six months that the Vatican is attempting an entirely new approach to communism, displaying a willingness to talk with Communist governments on non-theological issues.

The Soviet world likewise has shown a desire for a new and less hostile approach to the church.

Without mentioning communism by name, Pope John's encyclical said that under certain conditions Catholics could work with persons who reject Catholic doctrine. The Pope said that political movements change with time even though the basic philosophies remain the same.

TERM ON DICTATORSHIP

Though Pope John opened the door to practical cooperation in the effort to achieve world peace, he kept it tightly closed against Communist dictatorship.

In contrast to the scorn which Josef Stalin displayed toward the papacy, Soviet Premier Khrushchev has spoken well of Pope John in public at intervals since 1961.

Concrete evidence of the change in relations between the Vatican and the Kremlin came six months ago when two Soviet Orthodox churchmen came to the Vatican Ecumenical Council as observers. It was the first formal contact between the churches since the 11th century.

SPECULATE ON MEETING

The Soviets made another overture to the Vatican in February by releasing Archbishop Jose Slipyi, primate of the Ukrainians, after 18 years in Siberia.

Last month the Pope received Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexi Adzhubei, and his wife in private audience. It was the first papal audience ever given to a top Communist.

Khrushchev at the same time sent congratulations to the Pope on the award to him of the Balzan Peace Prize. The premier warmly praised the Roman Catholic ruler as a man of peace.

Speculation grew that Khrushchev and the Pope might meet in plans for the premier to visit Italy materialize.

Navy Ships Patrolling Sea For Thresher Clues Are As Mourners In Mist

By BEM PRICE

'SOUTH WEYMOUTH, Mass. (AP)—The storm tossed Navy ships had gathered on the once empty, mist shrouded surface as mourners at a funeral.

And that is what they were. Thirty-two hours and three minutes had passed since the atomic submarine Thresher with 129 men aboard had last reported from somewhere below the surface of the 8,400 foot deep trench, 220 miles east of Cape Cod.

She was no longer on the missing list. The Thresher was lost with all hands. A proud ship had become a 226-foot coffin made from the most carefully tested metal man can put together.

SEVERE PRESSURE

On the bottom, the hull pressure was 3,695 pounds per square inch. Why had she gone down?

Now it is 3:20 p.m. Thursday. The radar packed hunter-killer Navy patrol bomber, named the Alnilam for a star in the constellation Orion, swept over the search area.

Over the circuit labeled VHF 1 came word from the attack submarine Seawolf. Her sound detection gear was echoing off a solid object she said she believed to be the Thresher.

This startling information was relayed from a ship using the code name Exclamation.

The Seawolf was asking all surface ships to clear the area so the noise from their echo rangars and screws would not clutter up the listening devices aboard the Seawolf.

FINDING THE SHIP

It wasn't a question of finding anyone alive aboard the Thresher, but just finding the ship itself.

At the time the Seawolf herself was running deep beneath the surface and the navigator aboard the Alnilam, Navy Lt. Floyd W. Holloman, reported the position as 41.37 degrees north, 64.45 degrees west.

The last reported position on the Thresher was 41.44 north and 64.57 west. This would have put the Thresher slightly south and east of her last reported position.

FALSE HOPE

For a flickering moment there was hope. It was, of course, a false hope, but the kind that quickens the heart.

The Seawolf reported that she was hearing "strange noises" and what appeared to be "tapping on the hull." She also told of hearing "pings" on what seemed to be the Thresher's emergency "UGC" circuit.

The Seawolf had gone below the cold water layer in the ocean which deflected upward the signals sent out from surface ships.

Her relay station on the surface was the attack submarine 403—the Seawolf.

But everybody knew deep down there was no life aboard the Thresher wherever she was.

FIND RED GLOVES

Earlier, the destroyer Warrington had reported picking up red and yellow gloves of the type used in the reactor compartment of the Thresher.

They were floating in an oil slick along with pieces of cork and radiation shielding from around the reactor.

Obviously, something had given way and water had penetrated the Thresher's hull.

For two hours the turbo prop Alnilam circled the area while newsmen aboard had ears glued to the VHF circuit.

Where was Thresher? The Warrington said it was probable, from the position of the oil slick, that she was directly over the site.

But the 10-foot seas, whipped by a cross chop and whitened by breakers, dissipate an oil slick quickly. Winds drive surface objects swiftly.

PITCHES, ROCKS

And there was a wind—up to 30 knots in gusts. At 700 feet the Alnilam pitched and rocked woefully.

While Seawolf and Warrington kept station under and on the grey scudding sea, the search director, Rear Admiral Lawson P. Ramage urged the Atlantis II to come up at best speed.

The Atlantis II, an oceanographic survey ship out of Woods Hole, Mass., replied she was doing the best she could—six knots because of the heavy seas.

The Atlantis has long experience in plumbing depths and it was hoped that when she came up the lost Thresher could be located.

The Navy has said it has no hope of salvaging the Thresher. But it would like to know what sent her to the bottom.

ASKED DUTY ON THERESHER

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—Five months ago, a tall, blond career submariner from Lansford, Pa., was transferred to the Polaris submarine Patrick Henry after serving for almost three years on the nuclear powered submarine Thresher.

Then, only a few weeks ago, David W. Spence, 25, asked for reassignment to the Thresher.

It never came through. The Thresher disappeared with 129 men aboard Wednesday while making a deep test dive in the Atlantic some 200 miles east of Boston. The Navy pronounced the submarine lost Thursday.

During an interview at the U.S. submarine base Thursday, Spence said the tragedy was a "deep personal loss."

"I still can't believe it," he added. "The morale of the Thresher was always very high. The men took pride in being the lead ship of their class. They were the best bunch of sailors I'd ever been with."

NO CHARGES IN PLANE CRASH

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department says it can find no ground for federal criminal action in the 1961 crash of an Imperial Airlines plane at Richmond, Va., which claimed 77 lives including 31 Army recruits from Pennsylvania.

"The facts will not support federal criminal action," Assistant Atty. Gen. Herbert J. Miller Jr. said in a letter to Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J. "Accordingly we are closing our file in the case."

Case, who had asked the department about possible federal criminal action in the case, made Miller's letter public today.

Many of the 74 Army recruits on the plane were from the Newark and Passaic, N.J. areas. They were en route from Newark Airport to Columbia, S.C. All 74 plus 3 crew members were killed in the Nov. 8, 1961, crash.

In his letter, Miller said the department conferred with officials from the Civil Aeronautics Board and the Federal Aviation Agency and studied information supplied by both agencies.

Chicago Judge Says Jesus Was Convicted Illegally

By CHARLES-GENE MCDANIEL

CHICAGO (AP)—Jesus was tried and convicted illegally, in the opinion of a Chicago judge. The judge, Elmer N. Holmgren of Cook County Superior Court, has for more than 30 years studied the legal aspects of Jesus' trial and sentence to death.

Delving into ancient Jewish and Roman law, he found that various aspects of the trial before Jewish authorities and Pilate violated both legal systems.

ACTIVE CHURCHMAN

Judge Holmgren is an active churchman who has served on the national board of the Augustana Lutheran Church.

There was, Judge Holmgren says, a mandate, or warrant, for the arrest of Jesus in accordance with the law, though this probably was verbal.

This warrant was from the Great Sanhedrin, the highest judicial body of the Jews, rather than from the Roman authorities who ruled Jerusalem, Judge Holmgren says.

CONTRARY TO LAW

The judge holds that the arrest was illegal for two reasons.

First, it happened at night and it was contrary to Jewish law for any legal proceeding to take place after sundown.

And it happened on the eve of Passover, which also was a sacred time.

One of the Gospels, John, records that Jesus was taken after his arrest to Annas, the former high priest and father-in-law of Caiaphas, the high priest at the time. Another gospel, Luke, says he was taken first to Caiaphas.

In either case, such a procedure was contrary to Jewish law, Judge Holmgren says.

RIGHTS VIOLATED

During his examination by Annas, termed by Judge Holmgren a "star chamber session," Jesus was struck by an officer because of a reply he made to Annas during questioning.

This was a violation of the civil rights of an accused man, the judge points out.

The greatest illegality in the trial was the prejudice of a majority of the members of the Great Sanhedrin, in Judge Holmgren's view. Both Jewish and Roman law, as present-day U.S. laws, required a free and impartial trial.

Jesus was charged first with blasphemy and then with being a false prophet.

Under Jewish law, at least two witnesses whose testimony agreed in all substantial aspects were required to convict an accused person. Finally, two witnesses came forward who told the Great Sanhedrin that Jesus had said, "I am able to destroy the temple of God and to build it in three days."

This, under the theocratic Jewish government, was blasphemy of the seat of Jehovah. But the account in the Gospel of Mark says the witnesses did not agree.

"Jesus should have been released then and there," Judge Holmgren holds.

The high priest, according to Mark, then asked Jesus, "Are you the Christ, son of the Blessed?" and to that Jesus replied, "I am."

Judge Holmgren points out that "under all enlightened systems of jurisprudence a person cannot be forced to confess or give evidence against himself" and that this was true under the Jewish and Roman legal systems.

The Great Sanhedrin declared Jesus "deserves death." But,

Holmgren said, "it was ironical that the Great Sanhedrin could not execute the death penalty after condemning Jesus to death."

COULDN'T DECREE DEATH
Rome had taken from the Jewish officials the power to carry out the death penalty so they took him to Pilate.

Before Pilate, who was procurator and representative of the emperor of Rome, the Jews could not bring charges of blasphemy because Pilate had no respect for Jewish beliefs.

To try to get him to convict Jesus, the chief priests and scribes told Pilate that Jesus was subverting the nation, forbidding the Jews to give tribute to Caesar and saying that he was king.

Pilate, however, was not convinced and wanted to release him. The proceedings before the Roman governor were not legal, Judge Holmgren says, because no written indictment or charge against Jesus was presented.

Judge Holmgren says the turning point of the trial before Pilate was, according to Luke, when the Jews cried out:

"If you release this man, you are not Caesar's friend; every one who makes himself a king sets himself against Caesar."

Pilate was beholden to the emperor for his job and was afraid he might lose his appointment as governor if such a charge reached Rome, Judge Holmgren says.

Thus Pilate ordered Jesus scourged and then crucified, "contrary to law and contrary to every justice and decency."

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER

SWEET REMEMBRANCE.

From Cleopatra to Queen Victoria, women of history have made use of perfume. It is a matter of record that Cleopatra surrounded herself with fragrance.

Even the sails of her barge were perfumed with exotic attars. Staid Victoria, as you might expect, preferred a light touch of a light floral essence.

All through the ages, the remembrance of perfume is long. What's more, it sheds light on the unique characteristics of a personality. The scent worn by a modern lovely calls up her image to a man, long after he has forgotten the color of her costume.

Or so it is said. Surely, when you wear a delightful fragrance it gives you a lift—confidence in the feminine image you create. Why any woman would avoid its use is a mystery. The only valid reason would be an allergy and that sometimes can be overcome.

Other problems are easily solved. Should yours be the one of "cling"—perfume never lasts on your skin—substitute liquid sachet or bath oil. Or if perfume quickly soaks on you, tuck cotton balls dusted with sachet powder into your bras, pockets and purses. A further solution to both problems is to give your clothes a fragrant air by spraying closets and drawers with cologne, by distributing sachet packets among garments, and by adding a drop of perfume to lingerie rinse waters.

Perhaps your perplexity is what scent to choose and how much to use. For sweet remembrance in the springtime, try a fresh floral or leafy blend. Then wear enough to please, not jade the senses.

Senate Holds 1st Secret Session In 20 Years On U.S. Antimissile System

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has authorized the purchase of $15-billion worth of military hardware after clearing the galleries of visitors and holding its first secret session in 20 years.

Guards stood at the doors of the Senate for four hours and 19 minutes Thursday and newsmen waited in the corridors as, within, senators debated the merits of tacking on $196 million to speed the Nike-Zeus antimissile system.

The verdict was no, by a lopsided 58-16 vote. Then the doors were thrown open and by voice vote the Senate authorized the expenditure of $14,951,491,000 beginning July 1 on missiles, aircraft, Navy ships and research and development for them.

BELOW HOUSE FIGURE
The figure approved by the Senate is $904.9 million below the House's procurement authorization and $407.2 million below the administration's request. Included in the Senate bill is $363.7 million to begin building two more huge jet RS70 reconnaissance strike aircraft sought by the Air Force—funds the administration did not request and has indicated it would not spend.

The differences between the Senate and House must be compromised, probably by a conference committee, before the authorization can go to the President.

FUNDS COME LATER
Actual funds must be provided later in a separate appropriations bill.

The secret session—first since 1943 when a group of senators reported on a tour of World War II fronts—was forced by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C. He wanted to use secret military data to argue that failure to start production on Nike Zeus parts might pave the way for a Soviet sputnik-like surprise.

Thurmond's effort on behalf of the antimissile was turned back after the chairman of the Armed Services Committee, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., supported Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's view the production should be delayed until an improved weapon, Nike X, is tested.

A luncheon in the governor's reception room in the Capitol wound up the series of meetings Thursday.

Seranton and state GOP Chairman Graig Truax were hosts to a group of 27 party leaders from central and eastern Pennsylvania.

The Lawrence County chairman, who missed the first meeting Monday for western counties, also was present. Northern counties met with the governor and Truax on Wednesday.

Some GOP chairmen have complained about the apparent lack of patronage in three months since the new administration took office.

The explanation given was that a cutback in personnel and civil service protection for nearly a third of the state payroll were hindering down the process of finding jobs for Republicans.

MEETS WITH 57 PARTY CHIEFS

HARRISBURG (AP)—It took three sessions to do it, but Gov. Seranton finally has met with all 57 Republican county chairmen and discussed such issues with them as patronage and the budget.

Some GOP chairmen have complained about the apparent lack of patronage in three months since the new administration took office.

The explanation given was that a cutback in personnel and civil service protection for nearly a third of the state payroll were hindering down the process of finding jobs for Republicans.

Navy Ships Patrolling Sea For Thresher Clues Are As Mourners In Mist

By BEM PRICE
SOUTH WEYMOUTH, Mass. (AP)—The storm tossed Navy ships had gathered on the once empty, mist shrouded surface as mourners at a funeral.

And that is what they were. Thirty-two hours and three minutes had passed since the atomic submarine Thresher with 129 men aboard had last reported from somewhere below the surface of the 8,400 foot deep trench, 220 miles east of Cape Cod.

She was no longer on the missing list. The Thresher was lost with all hands. A proud ship had become a 286-foot coffin made from the most carefully tested metal man can put together.

SEVERE PRESSURE

On the bottom, the hull pressure was 3,693 pounds per square inch. Why had she gone down?

Now it is 3:20 p.m., Thursday. The radar packed hunter-killer Navy patrol bomber, named the Albatross for a star in the Constellation Orion, swept over the search area.

Over the circuit labeled VHF 1 came word from the attack submarine Seawolf. Her sound detection gear was echoing off a solid object she said she believed to be the Thresher.

This startling information was relayed from a ship using the code name Exclamation.

The Seawolf was asking all surface ships to clear the area so the noise from their echo rangefinders and screws would not clutter up the listening devices aboard the Seawolf.

FINDING THE SHIP

It wasn't a question of finding anyone alive aboard the Thresher, but just finding the ship itself.

At the time the Seawolf herself was running deep beneath the surface and the navigator aboard the Albatross, Navy Lt. Floyd W. Holloman, reported the position as 41.37 degrees north, 64.45 degrees west.

The last reported position on the Thresher was 41.44 north and 64.57 west.

This would have put the Thresher slightly south and east of her last reported position.

FALSE HOPE

For a flickering moment there was hope. It was, of course, a false hope, but the kind that quickens the heart.

The Seawolf reported that she was hearing "strange noises" and what appeared to be "tapping on the hull." She also told of hearing "pings" on what seemed to be the Thresher's emergency "UGC" circuit.

The Seawolf had gone below the cold water layer in the ocean which deflected upward the signals sent out from surface ships.

Her relay station on the surface was the attack submarine 403—the Seawolf.

But everybody knew deep down there was no life aboard the Thresher wherever she was.

CHICAGO JUDGE SAYS JESUS WAS CONVICTED ILLEGALLY

By CHARLES-GENE MCDANIEL
CHICAGO (AP)—Jesus was tried and convicted illegally, in the opinion of a Chicago judge.

The judge, Elmer N. Holmgren, of Cook County Superior Court, has for more than 30 years studied the legal aspects of Jesus' trial and sentence to death.

Delving into ancient Jewish and Roman law, he found that various aspects of the trial before Jewish authorities and Pilate violated both legal systems.

ACTIVE CHURCHMAN

Judge Holmgren is an active churchman who has served on the national board of the Augustana Lutheran Church.

There was, Judge Holmgren says, a mandate, or warrant, for the arrest of Jesus in accordance with the law, though this probably was verbal.

This warrant was from the Great Sanhedrin, the highest judicial body of the Jews, rather than from the Roman authorities who ruled Jerusalem, Judge Holmgren says.

The judge holds that the arrest was illegal for two reasons.

First, it happened at night and it was contrary to Jewish law for any legal proceeding to take place after sundown.

And it happened on the eve of Passover, which also was a sacred time.

One of the Gospels, John, records that Jesus was taken after his arrest to Annas, the former high priest and father-in-law of Caiaphas, the high priest at the time. Another gospel, Luke, says he was taken first to Caiaphas.

In either case, such a procedure was contrary to Jewish law, Judge Holmgren says.

During his examination by Annas, termed by Judge Holmgren a "star chamber session," Jesus was struck by an officer because of a reply he made to Annas during questioning.

This was a violation of the civil rights of an accused man, the judge points out.

The greatest illegality in the trial was the prejudice of a majority of the members of the Great Sanhedrin, in Judge Holmgren's view. Both Jewish and Roman law, as present-day U.S. laws, required a free and impartial trial.

This, under the theocratic Jewish government, was blasphemy of the seal of Jehovah. But the account in the Gospel of Mark says the witnesses did not agree.

"Jesus should have been released then and there," Judge Holmgren holds.

CANT FORCE CONFESSION

The high priest, according to Mark, then asked Jesus, "Are you the Christ, son of the Blessed?" and to that Jesus replied, "I am."

This, under the theocratic Jewish government, was blasphemy of the seal of Jehovah. But the account in the Gospel of Mark says the witnesses did not agree.

"Jesus should have been released then and there," Judge Holmgren holds.

The high priest, according to Mark, then asked Jesus, "Are you the Christ, son of the Blessed?" and to that Jesus replied, "I am."

Judge Holmgren points out that "under all enlightened systems of jurisprudence a person cannot be forced to confess or give evidence against himself" and that this was true under the Jewish and Roman legal systems.

The Great Sanhedrin declared Jesus "deserves death." But, Holmgren said, "it was ironical that the Great Sanhedrin could not execute the death penalty after condemning Jesus to death."

COULDN'T DECREE DEATH

Rome had taken from the Jewish officials the power to carry out the death penalty so they took him to Pilate.

Before Pilate, who was procurator and representative of the emperor of Rome, the Jews could not bring charges of blasphemy because Pilate had no respect for Jewish beliefs.

To try to get him to convict Jesus, the chief priests and scribes told Pilate that Jesus was subverting the nation, forbidding the Jews to give tribute to Caesar and saying that he was king.

THE TURNING POINT

Pilate, however, was not convinced and wanted to release him. The proceedings before the Roman governor were not legal, Judge Holmgren says, because no written indictment or charge against Jesus was presented.

Judge Holmgren says the turning point of the trial before Pilate was, according to Luke, when the Jews cried out:

"If you release this man, you are not Caesar's friend; every one who makes himself a king sets himself against Caesar."

Pilate was beholden to the emperor for his job and was afraid he might lose his appointment as governor if such a charge reached Rome, Judge Holmgren says.

Thus Pilate ordered Jesus scourged and then crucified, "contrary to law and contrary to every justice and decency."

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
SWEET REMEMBRANCE. From Cleopatra to Queen Victoria, women of history have made use of perfume. It is a matter of record that Cleopatra surrounded herself with fragrance.

Even the sails of her barge were perfumed with exotic attars. Staid Victoria, as you might expect, preferred a light touch of a light floral essence.

All through the ages, the remembrance of perfume is long. What's more, it sheds light on the unique characteristics of a personality. The scent worn by a modern lovely calls up her image to a man, long after he has forgotten the color of her costume.

Or so it is said.

Surely, when you wear a delightful fragrance it gives you a lift—confidence in the feminine image you create. Why any woman would avoid its use is a mystery. The only valid reason would be an allergy and that sometimes can be overcome.

Other problems are easily solved. Should yours be the one of "cling"—perfume never lasts on your skin—substitute liquid sachet or bath oil. Or if perfume quickly soaks on you, tuck cotton balls dusted with sachet powder into your bras, pockets and purses. A further solution to both problems is to give your clothes a fragrant air by spraying closets and drawers with cologne, by distributing sachet packets among garments, and by adding a drop of perfume to lingerie rinse waters.

Perhaps your perplexity is what scent to choose and how much to use. For sweet remembrance in the springtime, try a fresh floral or leafy blend. Then wear enough to please, not jade the senses.

INSTANT BEAUTY TIPS

For 50 ways to look lovelier, send for my leaflet, "INSTANT BEAUTY TIPS." It shows you how to overcome such annoyances as chipped polish, ragged lipline, straggly hair and even stuck zippers; also, how to create glamour fillips with makeup and accessories. All in the wink of an eyelash! For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and five cents in coin.

BATTLE PHILA. FIRE 2 HOURS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A six-alarm fire burned out of control in a seven-story center city office building for about two hours today.

Firemen declared the blaze under control at 5:13 a.m.

Cause of the blaze in the 1200 block of Market Street was not immediately determined, but firemen said first reports indicated it started near the roof. Dense smoke blanketed the area. No injuries were reported.

The building, less than two blocks east of Philadelphia's ginger-bread like city hall, housed a shoe firm and a restaurant and some offices.

Firemen and equipment were pulled back from one area because of the threat of a weakened brick wall. The wall held, however.

Traffic on Market Street, one of the city's busiest, and other nearby streets, was diverted as firemen continued to hose down the building and mop up.

News Briefs

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The South Vietnamese government said today it had arrested five Communist agents who confessed they helped touch off a disastrous wave of fires in Saigon.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno gave an emotional welcome to Chinese Communist President Lin Biao-chi today as the Chinese leader arrived for a nine-day state visit.

TOKYO (AP)—Maurice Couve de Murville, French Foreign Minister, arrived in Japan today for an eight-day goodwill visit, the first by a high French official to the country.

CATANIA, Sicily (AP)—As thousands of Easter visitors thronged the east coast of Sicily, a new stream of lava poured today from a vent high on the side of Mt. Etna, Europe's highest active volcano.

The nearest village is several miles away. The 10,758-foot volcano erupts often.

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP)—Eleven children and an elderly woman have died in a three-day heat wave that has sent 1,461 persons to hospitals suffering from dehydration.

Senate Holds 1st Secret Session In 20 Years On: U.S. Antimissile System

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has authorized the purchase of $15-billion worth of military hardware after clearing the galleries of visitors and holdings its first secret session in 20 years.

Guards stood at the doors of the Senate for four hours and 19 minutes Thursday and newsmen waited in the corridors as, within, senators debated the merits of lacking on $196 million to speed the Nike-Zeus antimissile system.

The verdict was no, by a lopsided 58-16 vote. Then the doors were thrown open and by voice vote the Senate authorized the expenditure of $14,951,491,000 beginning July 1 on missiles, aircraft, Navy ships and research and development for them.

BELOW HOUSE FIGURE

The figure approved by the Senate is $904.9 million below the House's procurement authorization and $407.2 million below the administration's request. Included in the Senate bill is $363.7 million to begin building two more huge JF70 reconnaissance strike aircraft sought by the Air Force—funds the administration did not request and has indicated it would not spend.

The differences between the Senate and House must be compromised, probably by a conference committee, before the authorization can go to the President.

FUNDS COME LATER

Actual funds must be provided later in a separate appropriations bill.

The secret session—first since 1943 when a group of senators reported on a tour of World War II fronts—was forced by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C. He wanted to use secret military data to argue that failure to start production on Nike Zeus parts might pave the way for a Soviet sputnik-like surprise.

Thurmond's effort on behalf of the antimissile was turned back after the chairman of the Armed Services Committee, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., supported Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's view the production should be delayed until an improved weapon, Nike X, is tested.

MEETS WITH 57 PARTY CHIEFS

HARRISBURG (AP)—It took three sessions to do it, but Gov. Scranton finally has met with all 57 Republican county chairmen and discussed such issues with them as patronage and the budget.

A luncheon in the governor's reception room in the Capitol wound up the series of meetings Thursday.

Scranton and state GOP Chairman Graig Truax were hosts to a group of 27 party leaders from central and eastern Pennsylvania.

The Lawrence County chairman, who missed the first meeting Monday for western counties, also was present. Northern counties met with the governor and Truax on Wednesday.

Some GOP chairmen have complained about the apparent lack of patronage in three months since the new administration took office.

The explanation given was that a cutback in personnel and civil service protection for nearly a third of the state payroll were hindering down the process of finding jobs for Republicans.

STEEL FUTURE NEEDS MONEY FOR RESEARCH

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The American steel industry says it must break out of a deadly cycle.

It is losing ground to competition. It could stop this if it had more money for research and modernization. But it doesn't have this money, in part because it is losing ground to competition.

One solution, offered twice in just over 12 months despite loud clamor, is to raise prices.

But every shopkeeper knows that raising prices is less than a perfect way to beat competitors. Steelmen know this too, but their thinking is concocted of various parts of desperation, the gambler's instinct, marketing savvy, hope and perhaps a trace of defiance over government intervention a year ago.

This is part of what's behind the announcement by Wheeling Steel Corp. Wednesday that it would boost certain prices an average of $6 a ton. U.S. Steel Corp. tried a $6 a ton general raise a year ago but rescinded it under massive federal pressure.

WEIGH MOVE
Other steelmen are weighing varied factors in trying to decide whether to follow suit.

Wheeling said it was forced to post the rise because wages and other costs have risen steadily while steel prices have held steady since 1958.

The whole industry has felt this squeeze, which reduced profits by 15 per cent in 1962 to an average of 4 per cent on sales. That compares with the national average of 5.5 per cent.

But raising prices is no help if it reduces sales further — if it means total revenues are less.

Steelmen are agreed that money for plowing back into the industry must be found somewhere.

LIST ALTERNATIVES
They run down the alternatives:

1. Cut costs. They're doing it all they can, they say. Major efficiencies, however, require investment for more efficient equipment, which brings up the cycle again.

Labor costs could be cut, they say, and Chairman Arthur B. Horner of Bethlehem Steel has suggested several times that if unions reduced their demands — industry's health would perk up and make more jobs possible. But not many steelmen expect help from that quarter.

2. Borrow money. It's done

Gets Greetings From JFK At 100

OIL CITY, Pa. (AP)—President Kennedy and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller joined Mrs. Nancy Henshaw of Oil City Wednesday in the celebration of her 100th birthday—via telegram, that is.

"I just commenced to think I am somebody," said Mrs. Henshaw after she received Kennedy's telegram.

Then, when she read the telegram from Rockefeller, she quipped:

"Mr. Rockefeller—I thought he would send me money."

CANDIDATE FIRED
HARRISBURG (AP)—Vincent Znaniecki, a Democratic candidate for Luzerne County sheriff, was fired as business manager of Retreat State Hospital Wednesday for alleged political activity.

Welfare Secretary Arlin M. Adams accused Znaniecki, who lives at Nanticoke, of using a state vehicle to conduct his campaign.

Znaniecki was given two-week's notice. He has served in the post since 1956. His annual salary is $8,163.

DRIVER KILLED
STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Robert C. Whitmire, a truck driver from Berwick, was killed Thursday when his tractor-trailer ran out of control on Route 209 near Polk Township in Monroe Township, ran into a field and overturned.

about as much of this as it can, said U.S. Steel Chairman Roger Blough. But the money must be paid back from profits and no one will lend money without hope of profits, he said.

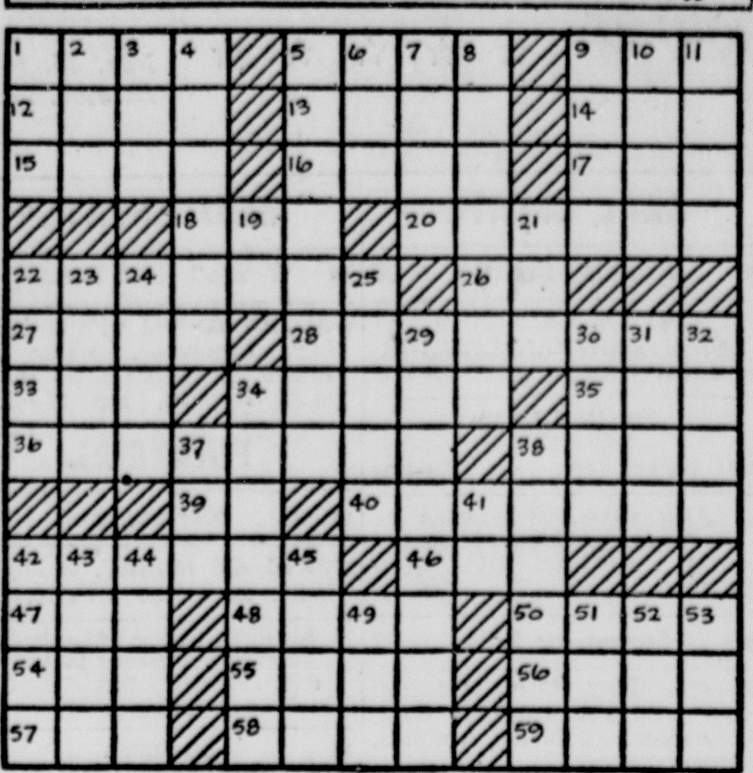

TAX CUTS
3. Tax savings. The government has provided some in terms of depreciation and investment credit changes in the last year. There is talk of general tax cuts. Steelmen welcome these steps, and urge even more that they say are afforded foreign competitors by their governments, but it isn't enough.

4. Raising prices. This has immediate attractions because at the moment, steel mills are doing brisk business. Production has risen successively for 10 weeks.

Part of this rise, however, reflects stockpiling against a possible strike by the United Steelworkers this year. Another part of it reflects the demand of an auto industry whose remarkable spurt could lose momentum.

But the time for a price boost has not been better for easily a year and even a temporary rise, perhaps rescinded after a few months under competitive pressure, could help, they say.

Wilcoxson Admits Robbery, Murder

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby R. Wilcoxson, 33, who once topped the FBI's "10 Most Wanted" list, has pleaded guilty to seven bank robberies, including one in which he machine-gunned a guard to death. The guilty plea saves him from the threat of execution.

Wilcoxson's admission in Brooklyn Federal Court Wednesday that he killed bank guard Henry Kraus, 53, when he and his accomplices robbed Brooklyn's Lafayette National Bank on Dec. 15, 1961, is tantamount under federal law to pleading guilty to second-degree murder—for which the maximum sentence is life.

In the six other bank holdups he admitted—two each in Buffalo and Great Valley, Pa., and one each in Washington and Philadelphia—he can get up to a total of 150 years.

Maybe this is your first year in business; maybe you're still in college. In any case you're had a lot of advice. We hope you listened when someone told you the importance of establishing good banking connections. (Since this is our ad, we mean Adams County National Bank).

Begin by opening an Adams County National checking account. As of that moment you're more than just a young face. You're a somebody. You're on your way when connections are established with this bank. As soon as you can, you'll want to open a savings account too. And though the initial deposits may be small, you'll add to it regularly, because you're on your way up.

The time to get started is now. Visit the folks at your nearest Adams County National Bank and get acquainted. It may well be the most important thing you do this year.

P.S. Don't forget us when you get to the top. Adams County National Bank likes big accounts too.

ADAMS COUNTY NATIONAL BANK

Maybe this is your first year in business; maybe you're still in college. In any case you're had a lot of advice. We hope you listened when someone told you the importance of establishing good banking connections. (Since this is our ad, we mean Adams County National Bank.)

Begin by opening an Adams County National checking account. As of that moment you're more than just a young face. You're a somebody. You're on your way when connections are established with this bank. As soon as you can, you'll want to open a savings account too. And though the initial deposits may be small, you'll add to it regularly, because you're on your way up.

The time to get started is now. Visit the folks at your nearest Adams County National Bank and get acquainted. It may well be the most important thing you do this year.

P.S. Don't forget us when you get to the top. Adams County National Bank likes big accounts too.

FOR MY MONEY, IT'S
